main event will go 10 rounds, the semi-windup for eight rounds and the curtain raiser and number two for four fast rounds each.

It is no secret in the camp of the legion that mony in four figures will be spent to match two of the best be spent to match two of the best known boys on the coast for the head-liner. Arrangements are virtually completed for the semi-windup, which is going to be a hummer, according to Jack Dolph, chairman of the boxing committee. Only one local man will appear in the card, and he is a fighter who has already appeared in the smok ers staged by the Portland boxing com-mission, so his ability is known.

Refereeing will be looked after by a competent third man brought here from Portland. Dolph said today. "Denver Ed" Martin, who handles most of the events staged in the Rose City, is the man who will be sought to referee the four main affairs. eferee the four main affairs.

Happy Canyon arena will be the scene of the boxing card and the ring will be built in front of the center section of the grandstand, with ringside seats about the square. Probably the three center sections of the stand will be the only other sents reserved. Lyman Rice is in charge of construction and finance.

HARVARD WILL FIGHT FOOTBALL STOPWATCH

BY HENRY FARRELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK, March 11—Rising from its November grave, the ghost of football will stalk around tomorrow for a brief airing in the world of sport when the intercollegiate committee, gathers here to talk over new rules.

Recent talk in collegiate circles has routed the belief of last fall that the present game was good enough to stand and would not be tampered with the rules committee. Conservative Harvard has taken the fore in radical suggestions with a rec-ommendation to regulate the length of the game not by the tick of the watch but by the number of plays, Harvey R. Coffin, Harvard graduate, acting, it is said, with the approval of Percy Haughton, Walter Camp and others, suggests that a period consists of forty plays not counting trys for goals and touchdowns and penalties. Coach John Hiesman, gridiron tufore in radical suggestions with a re-

Coach John Hiesman, gridiron tor of Penn and former coach of Geor-gia Tech favors the adeption of this amendment as a means of preventing stalling. The plan has opposition, however. Bill Roper, Princeton coach and the Tiger's representative at the meeting, is against it.

Inasmuch as the toes of Brickley. Mahan and others made football his-tory for the Crimson, another suggestion of Harvard's is all the more radi-cal. To curb the open game and discourage kicking, the Cambridge uni-versity favors an amendment to re-duce the distance between goal posts from 18 ft. 6 inches tol4 ft. Gienn Warner's suggestion to elim-inate kicking goals from touchdowns under the present arrangement seems to have a good chance for adoption. Harvard, Yale and Princeton, in addi-Harvard, Yale and Princeton, in addition to Pittsburg are said to be in favor of the substitution of an arrangement by which the team scoring the touchdown would bring the ball into play on the twenty-yard line and be given a chance to kick from placement of from field giving the opposition a chance at defense.

To correct the dissatisfaction resulting from lie-scores, the scoring system

To correct the dissatisfaction result-ing from tie-scores, the scoring system may be altered either by increasing the number of points from a touch-down to make one line-crossing play better than two goals from the field by a zone system, which is only fairly nountles.

Heisman and some members of the Heisman and some members of the consideration faction have suggested system providing four points for alls lost within five yards of the op-cents goal line; three points inside chents' goal line; three points inside f the ten yard line and two points thin the 20-yard line. These zone plans of scoring are objected to chiefly on the grounds that emplicated systems involving the series of bookkeepers and adding management are not to be encouraged. ines are not to be encouraged.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BALL SEASON IS OPENED TODAY

IF BABE CHANGES HIS GRIP ON BAT THE HOME RUN

MORE HITS THIS WAY

Battering Babe Ruth is being advised to "choke up" the bat rnd try for shorter distance but more accuracy in placing his bingles. It is also believe that, Babe is capable of heading the batting list in the American League if he could adopt the shorter cut. His batting haverage last year was 322. Tyrus Cobb, who takes a shorter grip on the bat handle, led the American League with 384.
