HOPIN' FOR THE BEST.

(By Frank L. Stanton.)
 When the world seems full of trouble
 From the blinin' east to west
 A fellow makes it lighter
 Just by hopin' for the best.

It brings in sight the valleys
 Where the swart' ones can rest,
 An' he hears the birds a-singin'
 Just by hopin' for the best!

It's like a benediction
 To a soul that seems unblest,
 The privilege of hopin'—
 Just hopin' for the best!

THE GERMAN MILITARISTS MAKE HAY

HERE is a relationship between the failure of the senate to ratify the peace treaty and the comeback of the German monarchist element.

It is evident the senate will not ratify the treaty without killing the League of Nations covenant. Lodge talks of changing words in his article 10 reservation but says that if he does so the change will not alter the meaning of his reservation. In other words the senate will not ratify unless it can cut out the heart of the covenant.

That is enough to arouse hope in the breasts of German militarists, who believe in aggression and who dream of the day when Germany can assert herself again and wage another "defensive war" for external aggrandisement.

With the civilized powers united in a league along the lines provided for in the peace treaty, Germany's dream of conquest and revenge would be ended.

Article 10 provides that the members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league.

Article 8 of the league covenant relates to limitation of armaments and provides that "The council taking account of the geographical situation and circumstances of each member shall formulate plans for such reductions for the consideration and action of the several governments. After these plans shall have been adopted by the several governments the limits of armaments therein fixed shall not be exceeded without the concurrence of the council."

Article 16 sets forth that should any member of the league report to war in disregard of its covenants it shall ipso facto be considered as having committed an act of war against all other members of the league, which hereby undertake immediately to subject it to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse with their nationals and the nationals of the covenant breaking member of the league."

Had the treaty been ratified by the senate and had the United States entered the League of Nations, thus making the league a working machine for the promotion of peace and prevention of wars for aggression, the German militarists would not again be in the saddle. There would be no hope for them.

But the treaty is blocked by the senate and the German junkers have acted upon the opportunity that is open to them. They are making hay while the sun shines and they will continue to do so if Uncle Sam does not unite in good faith with the League of Nations.

The question as to whether this nation shall enter the league is the great overshadowing issue before the American people. It is an issue that affects not merely ourselves but goes to the very heart of the world's greatest problem.

If the senate by failing to ratify the treaty throws the issue into the coming election the people will be required to pass judgment upon the greatest subject in all history.

GRANT COUNTY IS LUCKY

UT in Grant county a lady is running for reelection as county clerk and her masculine opponent has charged that during the war she went to Vancouver, Wash., and there married a foreigner. To this charge the lady replies by showing that her husband is not a foreigner but a native of Massachusetts and that his family came to this country in 1639. It will be interesting to note how the voters of Grant county will regard this perplexing subject but the greatest mystery is how it comes that Grant county has two candidates in the field for a county office. There are counties in Eastern Oregon that have had to rustle at times to get even one candidate per office to see the glamor and glory of public life.

It may or it may not be merely a coincidence that the chief defense witness in the Newberry trial did not suffer a breakdown until the attorneys for the government were ready to cross examine him.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, March 15, 1892.)

A. R. Despain and E. M. Turner left for Brynmorse on McKay creek Friday to turn loose the China pheasants which Al recently received from the Willamette Valley. While crossing the south fork of the McKay nearly a foot of water swept over the bed of their horseboard, the harness broke, the animals went to shore and our young friends were left in the middle of the racing flood. A good Samaritan, in the person of E. P. Marshall happened along and rescued the boys from a watery grave.

Dr. J. M. Prnett and W. C. McKay have received their appointments as additional members of the board of pension examiners at Pendleton. The other member of the board is Dr. J. C. Smith.

G. A. Hartman was elected president and Frank Frazier vice-president at a meeting of the stockholders of the National Bank of Pendleton today.

BUY IT BY THE DOZEN

EVERYBODY'S buying Blue Label Karo by the dozen cans. Save money—ask your grocer the price.

ESPECIALLY during these high prices of jams, jellies and preserves, there are so many daily uses for Karo (Blue Label) that it pays to buy in quantities. For pancakes, waffles, biscuits and sliced bread for children; for fudge, taffy and other kinds of candies; for cooking, baking, stewing fruits—hundreds of foods are prepared with Karo—the Great American Syrup for Every Purpose.

AN OVERSEAS DIARY

(By Rev. J. M. Cornelson who served with the Y. M. C. A. overseas.)

Thursday, October 10.—The weather has been a mixture of sunshine and rain today. After all has been said and done we "Y" men are just human beings and enjoy fun and jokes. These fun and jokes, though, have gotten on the nerves of our "highbrow" Episcopal minister. So the "Y" chief gave us a little curtain lecture tonight after speaking of these matters. Therefore we promised to be real good, especially in the presence and hearing of Rev. Van Dyke.

Friday, Sept. 11.—The Huns have gone back so rapidly that we have loaded all supplies on the trucks and all have gone forward to Bellecourt and possibly to Jonecourt right over the St. Quentin canal tunnel, the strongest part of Old Hindenburg's famous line. The cashier and cook are all that are at headquarters today. The men came back late for supper and it was exceedingly dark. They were of course driving without light and had some "near" serious accidents. Both Mr. Barnes and "Red" Talcott collided with other cars though no one was hurt and no cars put out of commission.

1050 RECORD BOOKS ARE DISTRIBUTED TO UMATILLA FARMERS

O. A. C. Department Offers Assistance Toward Better Management Through System of Annual Balancing.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, March 15.—Ten hundred and fifty farm record books have been distributed to the farmers of Umatilla county through the bank. The book was prepared by the farm management department of the college and is distributed at cost to the farmers to help them put their farms on a business basis. Special assistance has been given and will be given in the future in keeping these records by the county agricultural agent, also by representatives of the farm management department of the college. They will also assist in balancing the books at the end of the year.

Teachers of agriculture in the high schools of the state working under the Smith-Hughes vocational education act, are using the books with home project work. The high school student keeps records of his livestock or corn plot and these records are made the basis of farm management studies in the class room.

RANCHER FINED $25 FOR ILLEGAL KILLING OF CHINA PHEASANTS

PORTLAND, March 15.—For going out with a shotgun and killing three Chinese pheasants immediately after their liberation by the game commission, John Maehli, a rancher living 10 miles north of Salem, was fined $25 and costs, according to reports today to the fish and game commission. The pheasants had been sent to another farm and there liberated. Maehli wanted no time, got out his gun and shot them before they had even had time to stretch their wings or legs.

H. V. Roth of Tickfuss was fined $25 at Dallas for killing a swan. Deputy Game Warden Roy Bremmer reported the case.

U. OF O. JANITOR LEAVES TO DRAW PAY 80 CENTS LESS THAN PROFESSOR

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 15.—H. M. Fisher, superintendent of buildings and grounds here, is faced with a janitorial problem. One of his men is going to a better janitor position, which pays $6.60 a day, with house rent free. One of the campus statisticians sharks computes that this capable janitor will earn $17.16 a month and that if his house has four walls and a roof it can be figured at $29 or more, which, a little figuring will show, brings the total to $2599.24 per annum. This is a smaller sum than is received by several of the professors on the university faculty—smaller by just 80 cents a year.
