

People Here and There

A star player is missing from the University of Oregon basketball team this year, for Ned Fowler, who was a member of the college quintet, is attending the U. of O. medical school in Portland. He arrived in Pendleton yesterday for a short business visit.

Miss Mabel Cummings, head of the department of physical training at the University of Oregon, was a Pendleton visitor on Saturday on her way to Montana. Mrs. Cummings is much interested in the Round-Up and after looking at the arena said she would like to be here in September.

Johnny McMurray, formerly swimming instructor at the Pendleton Natatorium, is now with the Vermont Loan and Trust company. He is a business visitor in Pendleton today, having arrived this morning from Lewiston.

W. H. Copeland, who put his faith in Stanfield lands a decade ago and has seen that faith rewarded well, is in Pendleton today on a business visit. Mr. Copeland, now retired, resides in Portland, but several years ago operated the largest general merchandise establishment in Astoria. He came up from Stanfield Sunday afternoon.

A big man who represents a big show is Harry F. Hofer, who is here today. He is a member of Wortham-Waugh-Hofer, Inc., Greater Alamo Shows. The Alamo shows were in Pendleton last year.

With his father, R. M. Turner, Russell Turner is building a house on the Turner's land in the Umatilla district.

The land is later to be cleared and alfalfa will be grown, says Russell Turner, who was a Pendleton visitor during the week-end.

T. A. Wyle, owner of the Pendleton Marble Works, and Ben Huesler, an employe, are both absent from the company's headquarters on the corner of College and Court streets. Mr. Wyle left this morning for a business visit to Bend and Prineville, while Mr. Huesler went to Kansas City for a 10 days business trip.

Bob Bremmer, local automobile salesman, returned to Pendleton yesterday after spending Saturday in Portland on business.

Paul Schleuser, local pressman, believes that the Dokkies have one real round of fun when they stage a ceremonial. So fond is he of the fun that he made the trip Saturday to The Falls to take part in a big gathering there over which the Portland temple had charge. He returned Sunday on No. 18.

A. E. McCullay, who is farming in the Cold Spring country, came into town this morning on a business trip for the day.

When the war broke out, W. F. Kellogg had no one to operate his ranch near the Furnish reservoir, so he left his insurance business and went to farming himself. Now you couldn't get him to leave the farm. He is raising 45 lambs this season by hand, has several head of fine dairy stock, has better than average success raising turkey gobblers and is full of that "this is the life" atmosphere. Mr. Kellogg is in town today on a business mission.

"The Hermiston Horseman's Day show was a fine example of how interest in horseraising may be stimulated," said E. L. Potter, of the livestock department of O. A. C., who was a Pendleton visitor yesterday. He stated that west-end farmers had some fine horses at the show. Professor Potter acted as judge for the events.

James Bowler spent the week-end in La Grande, as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hampton. Mrs. Hampton is Mr. Bowler's sister.

Carl E. Franseen drove to Hermiston this afternoon by auto on a combined business and pleasure trip. He expects to return to Pendleton in the morning.

Business called Elmer Moore, Pendleton farmer, to Portland today. He left on No. 17 this morning.

J. M. Richards, of Stanfield, is in the city today.

Regent of Hungary Who Urges Start of "Honest Work of Reconstruction"

This photograph shows a better likeness of Admiral Horthy, recently elected Regent of Hungary, than any to reach this county. Admiral Horthy, who received 121 of the 141 ballots cast, was born in 1868. During the war he was commander-in-chief of the Austro-Hungarian naval forces. During the armistice period he founded the national army and marched into Budapest when the Rumanians evacuated that city. "We must begin the honest work of reconstruction," Admiral Horthy said recently. "To work more and produce more is the only basis of Hungary's future."

Bad Teeth Make Backward Children

MANY diseases from which both old and young suffer are directly or indirectly caused by decayed teeth and diseased gums. Without good teeth, food cannot be properly chewed, and is therefore not properly digested. Indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation and other troubles are often caused by bad teeth. To effect a cure, the mouth must be put in good order.

The best time to begin is childhood. No boy or girl can make progress in school unless the teeth are in a healthful condition. Bad teeth keep anybody from going ahead. Parents are invited to bring their children for free examinations and advice to Registered Dentists using the E. R. Parker System. A little work done early often saves a lot of work being done later, and keeps the child in better health. Neglect never pays.
