R. U. RITE ?

Someone has something to sell, a house, land, oil or mining stock or any one of a thousand things. You have a few hundred dollars or good credit, and are induced to invest. What do you know about the house or land, as to title, value, and coming down to brass tacks, what do you know about oil wells, mines, and the game? Have them blindfold you, invest and then investigate?

Florida Grapefruit.
Sells for 3 for 50 cents.
Florida grapefruit are retailing in Pendleton markets at three for 50 cents. California grapefruit are 19 cents each.

Potatoes Going Up.
In Portland Markets.
Portland is facing a potato famine and wholesalers are demanding as high as 7 to 7-1-4 cents a pound, with prospects that the retail price will soon go to 10 cents a pound. This will mean that potatoes in Portland will sell for about five cents apiece, as the average potato weighs about half a pound. In Pendleton the highest retail price is from 5 1-2 cents to 7 cents a pound. The reason for the shortage, say merchants, is that Oregon had its shortest crop of potatoes this season and this, being followed by the freezing of much stock during the extreme cold weather, cut the available supply to less than a quarter of the normal.

Vegetables Selling in Pendleton Markets.
Cucumbers are retailing in Pendleton markets at 35 cents each, while tomatoes are 30 cents a pound. Green peas are 25 cents, a pound, cauliflower 25 to 40 cents each, according to size, asparagus 20 cents a pound and artichokes 25 cents each.

A Continous Parade of New Apparel

IS CONSTANTLY PASSING IN REVIEW.

The garment section on the balcony is indeed a show place for an ever growing throng of thrifty women interested in this style display, which continually shows the most clever garments fresh from the New York markets.

Absolutely new merchandise for your consideration is always the rule at Penney stores.

Many a woman has been disappointed when after partly making a selection and then going home to think it over, came back only to find someone else had been struck with the exceptional value in style and fabric, at the low cash prices at which we sell and had decided immediately to buy.

It's this very condition that keeps our displays "ahead of the band" at all times. Quality and low prices makes for rapid turn overs and quick sales enable us to buy and sell at the very lowest prices.

SPECIAL EASTER SHOWINGS

Of clever new models in the latest approved fabric creations as colorful and refreshing as spring itself go to make up the groups of new suits, dresses, skirts and blouses selected to make Pendleton's Easter parade equal that of cities many times the size of ours. You'll find it a pleasant half hour spent to advance "shopping" here. You'll find our sales people take a keen delight in showing the new things even tho you are just "looking."

MAN DRIVES ESSEX TO ALTITUDE OF 10,000 FT.

Everyone has heard of aviators sailing their ships through the clouds, but who ever imagined that a motorist actually would drive his car through the same barrier? The feat was accomplished, however, by Arthur H. Patterson of Stockton, Cal., who on a recent trip in his Essex across the storm-ridden Sierras, reached an elevation of 10,000 feet, passing a point where the clouds actually bumped the mountain.
"The first clouds we saw," said Mr. Patterson, "looked black and heavy from a distance, but as we drew nearer they became lighter. We found the snow clouds almost white, owing to the refraction of light from the snow-covered mountains underneath. It was like driving through the fog, only they don't apply that name to those patches of moisture which drift in the wind up there."

"BATTLE OF THE BLUES"

bridge has the heavier crew and expert watermen were disposed to favor them. The women, of course, mostly sported light blue favors, as being more suited to spring costumes, but Oxford had plenty of supporters.

18 Face Starter.
The crews facing the starter were: Oxford—B. East (capt.), bow; N. H. McNeil, (2); T. Durand, (3); R. S. G. Lucas, (4); D. T. Raikes, (5); W. C. James, (6); H. W. B. Cairns, (7); M. S. Ellis, (stroke), and W. H. Porritt, (coxswain).
Cambridge—H. O. C. Boret, (bow); J. H. Simpson, (2); A. F. W. Dixon, (3); R. L. McEwen, (4); H. B. Playford, (5); J. A. Campbell, (6); A. Swann, (7); P. H. Hartley, (stroke), and R. T. Johnstone, (coxswain).
On the last occasion, in 1914, Cambridge won. The record time for the course is 18 mins. 29 secs., by Oxford in 1911. In 1912 both boats sunk in rough water, and the race had to be rowed again a few days later.
