BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

For another of the delightful Easter parties of Saturday, little Miss Georgia

Gurison was hostess, a group of friends being asked to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gurison, 627 Johnson street. The affair also celebrated the fourth birthday anniversary of the wee hostess. Pink and blue streamers fluttered from the lights and a table where the guests enjoyed refreshments was decked in Easter colors while favor baskets were filled with bright eggs.

In a drawing contest, prizes fell to Bobbie Campall and Tommy Campall. The party included, besides the hostess, Bernice Gornall, Marjorie Ebert, Tootsie Ganger, Irene Clemmens, Doris Suttin, Nadine Long, Tommie Campall, Bobbie Campall, Arnold Ebert, Jr., Wesley Clemmens and Allen Peterson.

CLUB COMPLETES SEASON

Completing a winter series of twelve dances, ladies of the Jewel club and a number of invited friends, were entertained in a delightful way Saturday when they danced away the evening hours and enjoyed a midnight supper as guests of the gentlemen members. The club was organized for the 1919-20 season and has proved so enjoyable an organization that dances are to be continued in the coming year. The arrais are most informal. Fletcher's orchestra has furnished the music and for the final number, the hosts served a delicious hot supper in the banquet room of Eagle-Woodman hall.

The committee Saturday included Hugh Bell, Wallace Carrall and Jess MeCee.

Guests, other than club members were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Rogers, Miss Mildred Rogers, Mrs. Wilminick, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cunha, Mr. and Mrs. William Miners, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nelson, Dr. C. C. Goldsberry, Miss Maude Sangratt and Mr. and Mrs. Truman Rogers.

GIVE EASTER PARTY

Brightly colored eggs, bunnies and suggestions of Easter dear to the youthful heart reigned supreme last Saturday for the smaller lads, and lassies and a host of parties marked the day. Among the festivities was an affair for which Maridel Hudd and Marian Geiss were hostesses at their home, 421 Madison street.

Blindfolded, the kiddies searched for Easter eggs and later enjoyed gathering about a pretty table for a luncheon. Place cards were charmingly suggestive of the event and a cluster of fragrant violets centered the table. The list of invited guests in-

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

The great benefit derived from the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been gratefully acknowledged by many. Mrs. Benjamin P. Blakeney, Decatur, Ill., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is by far the best medicine for colds and coughs we have ever used in our family. I gave it to my children when small for croup and have taken it myself."

How Is Your Complexion?

A woman should grow more beautiful as she grows older and she will with due regard to bath, diet and exercise, and by keeping her liver and bowels in good working order. If you are haggard and yellow, your eyes losing their lustre and whites becoming yellowish, your flesh flabby, it may be due to indigestion or to a sluggish liver. Chamberlain's Tablets correct these disorders.

Are You Happy?

To be happy you must be well. If you are frequently troubled with constipation and indigestion you cannot be altogether happy. Take Chamberlain's Tablets to correct these disorders. They are prompt and effectual, easy and pleasant to take.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

MRS. TRUMBULL IS GUEST Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull, secretary of the child welfare bureau in Oregon, who is in Pendleton today is the house guest of Mrs. Will Wyrick. Mrs. Trumbull, who is known throughout the state for her efforts in bettering the working conditions for women and children arrived here last evening and will go in the morning to La Grande.

BURKE NELSON IS HOST An Easter motif, developed in a scheme of yellow with chicks and bunnies abounding, marked an interesting party Saturday for which Burke Nelson, small son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Nelson, was host.

Games were enjoyed, the guests later adjourning to the dining room to find places about a charming luncheon table. In the center a great, snowy rabbit held a shower of yellow ribbons which extended to cards and fluffy chicks stationed at the places.

Covers were laid for Aletha Opedal, Betty Sinclair, Alta Madison, Helene Madison, Billy Hampton, Merle Ludwig, Robert Wylie, Bobbie Wheeler, Arthur Markham, Maurice Wylie and the host.

Mrs. Tom Opedal assisted Mrs. Nelson and Mr. Opedal delighted the kiddies by taking flashlight pictures.

STATE SOCIALISM

nd elevator, together with many other state-owned enterprises, as a part of its platform.

A. C. Townley, czar of this organization, Mr. Foster characterized as a socialist of the first water and a grafter who "makes Get-Rich-Quick-Waltonford look like a pair of dunces stacked against a royal flush."

Townley's associates include several socialists and I. W. W. lawyers and one lone farmer, in North Dakota.

Only the loyalty of the state senate in 1917 prevented the passage of a Non-Partisan-inspired act, known as House Bill 44, Mr. Foster said. This act virtually enacted a new state constitution, one provision of which would allow the state or any subdivision thereof, county, town, township, school district or precinct, to go in debt or bond itself in any amount. All it needed to do was give a first mortgage on the public utility erected and the state would guarantee the bonds so issued.

Senate Saved State in 1917

"If half of the senate had not held over for two more years, thus leaving the Non-Partisans there in a minority, that act would have gone through in 1917," Mr. Foster declared.

When Congressman Helgesen, of North Dakota, died suddenly in 1917, a special election was called by Governor Lynn Frazier, a Non-Partisan, to choose his successor. Both old line parties, Mr. Foster said, put up the finest men in their district, yet John Baer, a socialist, on one of the organization's 53 newspapers, was returned to congress with a larger vote than the other two candidates combined. "And yet in 1917, Baer declared that 'Americanism is not an issue in this campaign,'" Mr. Foster declared.

Leaders Are Disloyal

"The leaders of this outfit are notoriously disloyal," the speaker said. "Townley called the recent war a rich man's war and at Grand Forks they made him eat his words. Others of their ilk have been convicted of disloyalty but were not punished because the governor, three justices of the state supreme court and most of the other officials belong to this party."

Farmers who have joined the league are not like the leaders, disloyal, Mr. Foster explained. He showed by numerous examples that the farmers had little to say in the operation of affairs. For, while they constitute the bulk of the membership, they have little representation. The party has elected three congressmen and one senator since getting into power, yet of these three were lawyers and the other the newspaper cartoonist who had lived in the state 13 months and was not even a taxpayer.

The five leaders of the Non-Partisan league in North Dakota paid, in the aggregate, $3.75 in taxes in 1918, Mr. Foster told his audience. In comparing his own tax receipts for 1918 and 1919, he showed that his state taxes were 351 per cent higher for the latter year, with no roads, public buildings, or other improvements to show for this increase. Other taxes showed as much as a 60 per cent increase.

Chain Stores Show Graft

A chain of cooperative stores was opened in North Dakota as one of the functions of this league. Wherever 200 farmers would invest $100 each, a store would be installed. Ten thousand dollars were to be invested in this store and $10,000 go to the league for the purposes of propaganda. Mr. Foster said. A representative of Bradstreet's, a personal friend of Mr. Foster's told him, after visiting a number of these chain stores, that the stock they carried would not inventory better than $5000. There were 35 such stores, worth $2000 each, or $105,000 in all, yet they had cost the farmers $700,000.

The league also established a state bank with numerous branches, and legislated that all state funds must be kept in this bank. No power on earth, Mr. Foster declared, can examine the books of this bank. It pays two per cent on public moneys on time deposit, whereas private banks used to pay five percent, and on farm loans it charges an appraisal fee of $5 on every $1000 loaned and secured by mortgage. In addition, six per cent interest is charged making farm loans on first mortgage between six and a half and seven per cent. Privately-owned banks loaned on good security to farmers at five per cent, Mr. Foster said.

Vicious Literature Circulated

Prove books, literature on bolshevism and socialism, treatises opposing Christianity and other vicious reading matter were placed in circulating libraries going to the various school districts in the state, Mr. Foster said. The league solicited children and their propoganda by every means possible. They publish 53 newspapers, established 35 chain stores and controlled 15 banks, besides other public utilities for which they bled the farmers.

"Organizers for this movement tell a story that at first thought seems plausible," Mr. Foster said. "They dwell on the modern evils of government. True, there are some evils, but it is our own fault that they are not corrected. Every American citizen should realize that he has the franchise, the right to vote upon any and chise, the initiative, referendum and the recall. He has the right to cooperate with his fellow producers to better his marketing condition. He needs no socialist state to bring about reforms."

Money has been the chief weapon which the Non-Partisan league ad-
