SCREEN STAR HAS DESIRE TO PLAY IN GRAND OPERA

There is an old saying to the effect that no matter what heights of fame or success a man reaches in some chosen profession, he always has a spark of restlessness or dissatisfaction in him. There is one great steel magnate who always wanted to be an artist; a famous lawyer in New York always thought he would have been a great newspaperman and so on. There is a well-known motion picture star, who even though, one of the most popular among the fans today on the screen, has always had the impression that he should have been a grand opera artist. He is Antonio Moreno, star of the latest Vitaphone serial, "The Invisible Hand," a great detective mystery story now showing at the Pastime Theatre. Moreno has played many famous stories roles. But he says he would have foregone them all for a chance to play Don Juan, the torador in the opera, Carmen. And he still has hopes that he will have a chance. Physically temperamental and by birth Moreno is built for the part. As is well known, the opera is a Spanish one. Moreno is a Spaniard—a descendant of real Castilian stock. He has the fiery black eyes and raven hued hair of the Don and that he would have all the emotion and ability to portray the role of Don Juan the fans themselves are assured by his past performances.

LYTEL TRUMPHS IN "THE RIGHT OF WAY"

As the central figure in the motion picture production of Sir Gilbert Parker's "The Right of Way," showing for the first time at the Arcade Theatre today, Bert Lytell scored what was easily the most signal dramatic achievement of his long and enviable career.

An unusual part, that of Charley Steele, the dashing young attorney in Montreal—cynical, dissolute, undeniably winning, yet astonishingly supercilious. That Mr. Lytell should have portrayed it adequately would have been enough; that he did it splendidly means he is to be ranked among the foremost of our real stars of the screen.

In translating to films this remarkable novel, June Mathis has displayed

Regular Habits Produce a Beautiful Complexion

Daily elimination rids the system of poisons. Women should realize that!

MANY women complain daily of their complexion, of their headaches and general ill health, little realizing that the trouble is constipation. Women, too, are much more subject to such congestion than men, and much more careless of it. The result is seen in lusterless, weary eyes, in sallow, pimply complexion, in lassitude, bad breath, and in that word so often used, "indisposed."

At the first sign of these symptoms the wise woman will take a laxative, and will see that the young girl and others in her care do likewise. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite with thousands of women because it is mild and gentle in its action and in the end trains the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally without the aid of medicine.

This combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store, is also a very sterling first-aid in colds, fevers and other sudden ills that make it advisable to always have a bottle in the home. It is free from narcotics and safe for the tiniest baby.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest-selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 512 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

a genuine understanding of both the original viewpoint of the author and of the production. Jack Dillon's direction is as meritorious as the photographic effects of Robert Kurrie.

ALFA TODAY

WHAT KIND OF A GIRL IS PINK TEA GIRL?

What kind of a girl is a pink tea girl? According to the Vitaphone's newest Bessie Love picture, she is a girl who doesn't know her own heart. Bessie Love isn't that kind of a screen girl, but in this picture she has a sister who is, and it's up to Miss Love, cast as the heroine, to straighten out love problems.

The picture is "Over the Garden Wall," which will be seen at the Alfa theatre today.

Miss Love, as Peggy Gordon, is the daughter of a moderately wealthy, studious bookloving father. She is a girl who rides into life with vim and nerve and energy. Her sister Frances, can dance the lawnces and all the other fancy dances, as the saying goes, but can't do much else.

The love affairs of Frances, and her idolatry for fine clothes and pink toes give Peggy an awful lot of work, but they cause this wisp of a girl to find out her own love destiny. That's worth a million dollars, isn't it?

Well, anyhow, Peggy sails into the romance of "Over the Garden Wall" with bare fists, as the saying goes, and they all live happily ever after, as the saying is; or, it's a lovey-dovey kind of a picture.

STRIKING COMBINATION

"The Black Secret," by Robert W. Chambers, Pearl White's latest Pathe serial, a striking combination of the talents of the world's most famous serial star and America's most popular author, is arousing unusual interest.

"The Black Secret" is Robert W. Chambers at his best, and serves to prove conclusively what he himself has proved many times before, that he is as much a master of the engrossing, thrilling mystery story as he is of the smart society novel with which his name has long been associated. Without once resorting to the bizarre or the impossible, Mr. Chambers has fashioned a tale of the most intensely mystifying and gripping type.

In all her long and successful serial career under the Pathe banner, Miss White probably has never had a role that more perfectly fitted her than that of Evelyn Erith, the heroine of "The Black Secret." Her peculiar talents for furnishing thrills, for dominating through sheer personality all the scenes in which she appears without detracting in the least from the value of the work of her associates, for doing things that are typically Pearl White in a way all her own, are given the fullest play. Those who have followed her in her many Pathe serials will find that she has taken the utmost advantage of the possibilities of her best role. "The Black Secret" will be shown at the Pastime theatre today.

INDIANS PICKED TO LEAD AMERICAN LEAGUE RACE

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent.) NEW YORK, April 13.—Ohio will be the baseball capital next fall, the oracles of the diamond say.

Having satisfied a desire of 50 years last year when the Reds won the National League pennant, the Buckeye fans are to see another drama come to pass by having the world's series an all-Ohio affair, the dope seems to point.

To those who come at him with milt outstretched and nice words of congratulations, Tris Speaker, who starts his second season as a big league manager says: "Not so loud. Maybe you're right but I don't want the boys to get full of that cinched-pennant stuff."

Speaker is right. The Cleveland Indians haven't clinched the American League pennant. But if they don't land first on the heap, the young leader of the Duns tribe is going to have some tail explaining to do.

The dope seems plain as a nose on the face. The White Sox won the pennant last year and the White Sox are broke this year. The Indians ran them such a close race last year it is doubtful if they would have been able to hold the lead over the regulation 154 game schedule. The Indians are just as strong if not stronger than they were last season. Nothing to date seems strong enough on paper to keep them out of the first hold.

Detroit and the New York Yankees will fight it out for second place. Hugh Jennings and Miller Huggins say so. E. D. However, it looks to be right. If the Tigers had a dependable pitching staff, something they have lacked for years, they would be right on the Indians' heels. The Yankees are strengthened on the offense by the acquisition of Babe Ruth but they are just as slow about as they were last season. But they have a good pitching staff.

Jimmy Burke and his Browns may land in the first division in the place of the dilapidated White Sox. With Brock Weaver, Chick Gandil and Swede Risberg gone the plight of the Sox is a sorry one. The Boston Red Sox did not profit much by their two big deals and Clark Griffith didn't have time enough under his new regime as president of the Washington club to get some players he was after. Connie Mack has a team of extremely young players that may be a surprise and pull the Mackmen out of the cellar this season.

Woman 80 Years Old

Says she owes her wonderful health to Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.

Wooeter, O. — "The gripe left me in a weakened, run-down condition. Doctor gave me their best tonics without effect. As I have depended on Vinol to build me up every spring for the past nine years with such good results, I tried it. My appetite improved, my strength came back so I am not only taking care of my household duties, but direct the management of two large farms. I tell all my friends to use Vinol when they need strength." — Mrs. MARTHA SICKLES.

Women who are run-down; nervous, lack energy and working strength should take Vinol as it contains Best and Cod Liver Peptones, Iron and Hypophosphites, the very elements needed to restore a lost appetite, enrich the blood and create strength.

QUIT MEAT IF YOUR KIDNEYS ACT BADLY

Take tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers.

"We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urina is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.
