400 ACRES OF YAKIMA ORCHARD LACK WATER

(By Associated Press)
YAKIMA, Wash., April 21.—Four hundred acres of Wenaha valley orchard development of which has cost the owners $320,000 will be without water this season and is expected to be a total loss, according to J. B. Fink, manager of the Wenaha Highlands Corporation. The Wenaha valley has a severe water shortage and only rotation of irrigation can save the crops on 6,000 acres exclusive of the 400-acre orchard, it was stated. Owners of the orchard have been in litigation for several years with other land owners over their water right and their dam for impounding of flood waters of Wenaha creek during the early run off. If there were water, they would not be permitted to use it, pending the outcome of litigation. Mr. Fink said and therefore the company is determined to stand the loss. The reservoir is empty, but the company has turned it over to the state hydraulic engineer in order that potable rainfall may be impounded for the benefit of the community.

WHEN THE NIGHT COMES.

(By Frank L. Stanton.)

When you hear the Night a-singing
In the shadow-haunted place,
It's thinking of the meeting
Of the Morning, face to face!
The shadows cannot last;
The darkness soon is past;
Earth's way forever—
The sunbeams in a race!
H.
When you hear the Night a-singing
Its sweetest song of Rest
Tis silencing with music
The sorrow in the breast.
Its shadows know that light
Will bless the Morning bright,
And sweeter is the Morning
For the sorrow of the Night!

TWENTY-FOUR MILLION WOMEN

ON THE assumption that the federal suffrage amendment submitted to the states at the behest of President Wilson, will be formally adopted by the requisite number of states before November, there will be in round numbers 24 millions of women eligible to vote in the presidential election this fall. Of this number 19,500,000 were not eligible to vote in 1916. Since but a single state is now needed to adopt the amendment it is almost a foregone conclusion the women will all have the ballot. The South Carolina legislature which is to meet before many weeks pass is likely to put the amendment over. If not some other state will.

It goes without saying that the increased women's vote will be the most important element in the election. It will exceed in numbers the labor vote, the farmer vote, or the soldier vote. If the women show a trend in behalf of any particular candidate they will decide the election as the four and a half million women voters did in 1916.

How the women will vote is a matter of speculation. Some assert the women will vote as the men do and that the general results will not be different from what they have been in the past. That is not a sound conclusion, however, because there are millions of women of voting age who do not have husbands and of those who do have husbands a large number are independent thinkers along political lines.

The most logical view is that the women will be strongly inclined to consider the personal fitness of the presidential candidates and will be moved by the views held by candidates with respect to the important issues. They will not hold to party ties as closely as do the men.

The East Oregonian believes that the women will decide the presidential election and that in deciding as to how they shall vote they will use more discernment than many politicians think.

The men are most active in the primaries and are going to nominate the candidates but the women will give the verdict in November.

DETROIT BEATS ST. LOUIS

COMPARISONS are naturally being drawn between St. Louis and Detroit, which succeeds to its rank as the fourth American city in population rank.

St. Louis, with 687,029 people 10 years ago, has grown to 773,000, a gain of 85,971, or 12 1-2 per cent.

Detroit, with 465,766 people 10 years ago, has grown to 985,000, according to unofficial census figures, a gain of 520,000, or nearly 115 per cent. Detroit's gain in these 10 years is only 55,000 less than St. Louis' total population in 1900—575,288.

These two cities share many advantageous conditions in common. In respect to a number of factors of decided influence in determining city progress, a commanding superiority rests with St. Louis. Furthermore, it had a big start over the other city—represented by a greater population of 122,000 in 1910—and the benefits accruing therefrom in the way of stability and momentum. What is the explanation of this amazing disparity in rate of growth and shift in standing?

It is safe to say that Detroit has been freed from some of the handicaps that have hampered St. Louis in its struggle to advance, remarks the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Detroit has been spared the infliction of high utility charges designed to collect all the traffic will bear. Its people save millions of dollars annually by reason of cheap car fares as compared with St. Louis. This point is not to be underestimated. Dozens of industries that have developed into great plants, employing thousands of men have located in Detroit because of its low fares.

With Uncle Sam holding aloof from the League of Nations the European allies are going to let Turkey keep Armenia. That is the easiest and most selfish thing for them to do and have we not through the United States senate exploited the virtues of littleness and selfish national conduct?

This time a year ago apple blossoms were at hand in Pendleton but nothing of the sort is to be seen now. The weather man is not following the calendar.

A Portland man who defrauded others out of a lot of money says he feels innocent; his victims feel worse than that.

Dr. McClure thinks the overall fad was started by the cotton growers; however started it is a fad and fads do not lower the cost of living.

SURVEY OF 22 ARTICLES SHOW PRICE LEVEL AT VIRTUAL STANDSTILL

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The cost of living as represented by prices of 22 articles of food remained virtually unchanged during the month ending March 15, the department of labor's bureau of labor statistics reported today. Figures made public show the cost of the 22 articles was only 4.10 of one per cent below the cost in January, when prices reached a high-water mark. Wholesale prices of commodities other than food, the statistics showed, were higher in March. Lumber and building materials increased more than eight per cent over February. Only clothes and clothing showed a small net decrease. Clothing prices, however, have increased 64 per cent over March, 1919.

Whooping Cough

In this disease it is important that the cough be kept loose and expectoration easy. This is best accomplished by giving Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. That preparation also tends to liquify the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate and renders the fits of coughing less frequent and less severe. It has been used in many epidemics of this disease with the best results. It contains no codeine or other narcotic.

Took a Severe Cold
"Our five year old son Paul took a severe cold last winter that settled on his lungs and he had terrible coughing spells. We were getting worried about him as the medicine we gave him did not help him in the least. A neighbor spoke so highly of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy that I got a bottle of it, and the first dose benefited him so much that I continued giving it to him until he was cured," writes Mrs. Frank Crocker, Pana, Ill.

His Stomach Trouble Over
John R. Barker, Battle Creek, Mich. writes "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion and liver complaint until I began using Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." If you are troubled with indigestion or constipation give them a trial. They will do you good.
