HEAVY CANNONADING BY BUCKAROO INFELDERS RESPONSIBLE FOR WIN

Pilot Rock Succumbs, 9 to 2, in Opener When Crews, Olson and Carey Bunch Hits With Cowpunchers' Errors.

Too much Olson comes pretty near explaining the victory of Pendleton over Pilot Rock Sunday at Round-Up park, in the opening game of the Blue Mountain season, 9 to 2. The Buckaroo second baseman clouted out four clean hits, one of them for the circuit, in five times at bat and scored four of the team's nine runs. He also handled nine chances with but one boot.

Crews and Carey were close behind their teammates in clouting the offerings of Kennison and McNutt, each registering three hits, one of Carey's being a triple. The Bucks amassed 13 hits, all told, while Warmuth, recruit pitcher, held the Cowpunchers to 6 hits.

Pendleton Scores in First. Pendleton started scoring in the first inning. Olson singled to right field and went to second when Gilbert let the ball trickie through his legs. Hays hit one to right field on which Gilbert made another error and Olson scored. Five runs were put across in the third on four hits and two errors.

Smith, Pilot Rock center fielder, contributed largely by dropping a fly ball from Warmuth's bat that was "in the well."

Pilot Rock looked dangerous in the third when R. Gilbert got to second because Geisel muffed his easy fly to left. J. Gilbert followed with his second hit, a single to the pitcher, the ball being too hot for Warmuth to field. Pickett clouted one to center field that was good for two bases and scored the two Gilberts. He substituted a runner at first base without first obtaining consent of the ump, however, and was allowed only one base on the hit. Pickett retired to this juncture on account of a turned ankle. Sturtevant going to right, R. Gilbert to third and J. Gilbert to second.

Warmuth Sings With His. After the third, when Pilot Rock got half of its hits, Warmuth allowed but one hit in the sixth and one in the ninth. In the fifth, sixth and seventh, only three men faced him each inning.

A double play by Pilot Rock in the second prevented Ammon from scoring by Pendleton. Ammon was on first by virtue of an error by J. Gilbert. Carey hit a liner towards second, which Pickett just reached and easily doubled Ammon off first. The clout was ticketed for about two bases into right center. The Bucks came back with a double. Crews to Olson to Carey in the third, nipping Smith and Rover. The game was kept moving right along, with a good-sized crowd and perfect weather as accompaniments.

It was devoid of thrills, the ump wasn't crabbed at, nobody staged any boners and there were no tense moments. The number of errors was high, due partially to the rough spots in the field, although most of the boots in the outfield were from muffed flies. Umpire Miles called balls and strikes to the satisfaction of all and kept the game moving right along.

Outfield Can Stand Strength. Manager Spinks' team looked good both at bat and in the infield. A little shifting of the outer works probably will bolster that department. Fans were pleased with the coolness and judgment of "Rockey" Warmuth in the box and look to him to win several more contests this season.
