

People Here and There

H. E. Coolidge, C. H. Conkey, T. H. Crawford and Nolan Skiff, of La Grande, were here yesterday to attend court. They returned to their homes last night.

C. J. Owen, one of the owners of the Pendleton Tribune, formerly a resident of this city, is here today from Portland, where he now resides. Mr. Owen is here on business.

David H. Nelson will leave this evening for Spokane and Montana to look after his wheat interests in the mountain state. He recently made a flying trip to his holdings and is returning for a longer survey of conditions.

Snow fell in the foothills east of Pilot Rock this morning. C. J. Jennings, well known rancher, who is in town, reports, "Snow" is not needed, however, he says, for the wheat and alfalfa in his vicinity looks well, but are retarded by the backward season. Most of Mr. Jennings' wheat crop is spring seeded and it is looking promising, he reports.

R. M. Crommelin, who has been in Portland on business connected with the Collins Flour Mills, of which he is manager, returned to Pendleton this morning.

Pendleton stores have it all over the shops in Belgrade, Serbia, writes Miss Stasia P. Walsh from that city, although Belgrade has a population of 150,000.

Miss Walsh, who is serving as a Red Cross nurse, says she sees many American uniforms, worn by Serbian soldiers.

Rev. W. H. Cox, pastor of the Baptist Church of this city, is well pleased with the progress of the National Inter-Church World Movement drive. According to reports received by him today, the $36,000,000 mark was passed yesterday at noon. In the state, $270,488 had been contributed up to noon on Friday.

E. A. Schiffer left today for a business trip to Echo. Mr. Schiffer was a pioneer tailor of Pendleton but retired from business recently.

Adrian Miles, an employe in the business office of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, is supporting a Hooten. It's a sort of a family affair with Mr. Miles, as Herb is his cousin.

E. P. Dorris, railroad man of Eugene, is in the city today. Ben Dorris Oregon man who was awarded the Croix de Guerre for bravery during the Argonne fight, and who lectured in Pendleton for the Liberty loan drive, is a son of Mr. Dorris.

A big crowd is expected at at least two Pendleton churches tomorrow. The Salvation Army is advertising that "Two babies will be given away," while Rev. Samuel Snively, pastor of the Nazarene church, has in his church notice invited "everybody but though Belgrade has a population of Satan."

G. C. States is here from Portland today. Robert W. Garver, of Walla Walla is in the city. C. J. Owen of Portland is in the city.

HANDLE WITH CARE!

NEW YORK—Here's the stuff of dreams and the price of many porters. The box weighs 125 pounds. It might be a saloon from the way they shoulder it but it's loaded with gold bars and valued at $25,000. The entire shipment to the J. P. Morgan Co., which arrived from Britain aboard the S. S. Minnekahda mounted to $9,000,000.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY OFFICES AND OFFICERS

Jury Hung; Case May Be Retried
The jury in the case of the state of Oregon vs. P. E. Skilwell, charged with perjury, was discharged at 11 o'clock last evening after it had "hung" from the time it was given the case, at 5:30. The case will have to be retried later, according to District Attorney John S. High, of La Grande. It is possible that it will be remanded to Union county from whence it originated. The jury is understood to have been virtually evenly divided on the verdict after a number of ballots were taken.

One Couple Get License
Paul Fletcher, who gives his home as Washington, and Frances Perkins, of Pendleton, were issued a marriage license late Friday afternoon. Theirs brought the total for the month to 12 licenses. None was issued from April 20 to April 30.

Sues Wife for Divorce
Anthony Lapore today brought suit for divorce from Anna Lapore, charging her with violation of her marital vow. The plaintiff names a correspondent in Portland. He is represented by James A. Fee.
