CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

BLAME PUT ON MOTORMAN FOR DOUBLE TRAIN WRECK; TOLL OF DEATH TO MOUNT

Coroner of Multnomah County Prepares to Hold Inquest Over Victims of Yesterday's Head-on Collision.

FIVE OF INJURED ARE IN CRITICAL CONDITION

Tremendous Impact on Curve Telescopes Forward Cars and Splintered Debris is Scattered for 30 Feet.

PORTLAND, May 10.—Dr. Earl Smith, coroner of Multnomah county, is preparing today to hold an inquest over the victims killed yesterday when two electric and Southern Pacific passenger trains collided head on near here, killing eight persons and injuring 25.

Company officials already have placed the responsibility on Elias Whit, motorman of one of the trains.

Five of the seriously injured are today considered in a precarious condition.

MRS. BOSCH CRITICALLY HURT (By United Press.) PORTLAND, May 10.—Camille Bosch, secretary editor of the Oregonian and Clarence Smith, who were critically injured in the collision of electric trains near here Sunday, are not expected to live and the death list of the tragedy will probably total 10. Four others, seriously hurt, will recover.

Cars Telescoped Eight passengers were instantly killed, when two Southern Pacific electric interurban trains crashed in a head-on collision one half mile east of Bertha station at 10:25 Sunday morning.

The tremendous impact partially telescoped the two forward cars, hurling the front trucks of one coach back against the rear trucks.

Shattered wood, glass and steel and mangled flesh were scattered about for 30 feet.

The collision occurred on a curve one half mile from Bertha station. All people who were killed were on the inbound train, No. 124, which was headed for Portland. The train was operated by Engineer Willett.

Investigation at the county morgue disclosed that the majority of deaths were caused from fractured skulls.

PENDLETON BIDS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL MEET

The Oregon Sunday school convention was invited to hold its next session in Pendleton, following the close of a successful three-day meeting in Portland last week end.

Seven prominent Sunday school workers from Pendleton, and a like number from the east end of the county, attended.

Rev. and Mrs. R. L. Bussabarger represented the Christian church, E. Schmidt and Mrs. Grace Williams, the Methodist church, and Mrs. A. W. Green and Mrs. H. E. McLean, the Presbyterian church. E. O. Praper, secretary of the county association, also attended.

CLARK WANTS WEEK TO BOOST OREGON WARES

The entire week of June 14 to 19, instead of three days, should not be too much for local displays of Oregon Products, A. G. Clark, manager of the Associated Industries of Oregon, says in a letter received this morning.

N. G. Hysendstein, chairman of the local committee in charge of the displays, Mr. Clark, when here recently, asked Pendleton businessmen and manufacturers to devote one week soon to the promotion of Oregon-made goods.

If an entire week is given to the displays, the Associated Industries of Oregon will give $75 in cash prizes for the best window, Mr. Clark says, first prize is $50, second prize $15 and third prize $10. The windows are to be judged on three points: artistic arrangement, advertising value and educational value.

Mr. Hysendstein will probably take up with his associates, members of the committee appointed by the Pendleton Commercial Association, the advisability of devoting a greater length of time to the displays.

BOYS CAMP IS PLANNED. A Y. M. C. A. camp for boys will be held under the auspices of the county Y. in June or July, announces Cash Wood, county secretary.

According to Mr. Wood, the camp will last for 10 days and there will be something done every minute from the reveille bugle to taps at 9:30 p. m. Mr. Wood suggests that prospective candidates for the camp see him at once. Boys of 12 years and over, properly recommended and able to pass the physical examination, will be accepted for the camp.

ABERDEEN MOONSHINE MAKER DIES IN BRUSH WITH REVENUE AGENTS

Charles Watson Surprised in Canyon Sunday and Killed When He Shows Fight; Five Bootleggers, Stills, Taken.

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 10.—In the moonshine which has raged here for nearly a week, federal revenue agents have emerged battle-scarred but victorious. Five alleged bootleggers are under arrest and the body of Charles Watson, who defied the officers in a lonely canyon near here Sunday afternoon, is in the morgue.

Watson and a companion were driving into Aberdeen in an automobile laden with "mountain dew" yesterday when they were surprised by the officers. In the battle following Watson was shot through the head and died in hospital an hour later. His automobile, riddled with bullets was brought to a standstill by a bullet through the gasoline tank.

The shooting was the accumulation of weeks of activity by revenue men in this vicinity. Several stills have been taken in the raids.

DE YOUNG SELLS SHARE IN SHOP TO GREULICH

Pete De Young's interest in the Empire Meat Market was today purchased by Burton Greulich, making Mr. Greulich and his father, Charles Greulich, sole owners.

Mr. De Young, for the past two years has had an interest in the business.

Mr. De Young's plans as yet are indefinite but it is probable that he will go out on an extended trip. For this past year he has been an employee of the market, which was founded 20 years ago by Charles Greulich.

'Y' HUT FOR INDIANS IS HOPE OF PRINCESS

A "Y" hut in Pendleton for the use of Indians has come to the city in the hope of Princess Blue Feather, Indian who is recuperating after service overseas with the Y. M. C. A.

Princess Blue Feather recently received a letter from Edith M. Dabb, secretary for Indian schools, in which Miss Dabb urged the princess to investigate conditions here. The princess reports that she considers a hut very necessary for the Indian men and women who spend most of their time sitting on the sidewalk when they are in Pendleton.

Best C. Punt, one of the directors of the Y. M. C. A. has offered to cooperate with the princess. She has also conferred with Cash Wood, county Y. M. C. A. secretary, and efforts will be made to further the plan.
