ALLEGED GAMBLERS AT SAN FRANCISCO TAKEN

(By Associated Press.)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The arrest of two alleged gamblers Monday featured the campaign of President William H. McCarthy of the Pacific Coast League to eliminate gambling on baseball. Roy Hurlburt was released on bail on charges of assault and battery preferred by McCarthy as the result of his attack on McCarthy on the street. A man giving the name of Arthur Martin, but whose name the police say is Martin Breslau, was arrested on a vagrancy charge. Breslau and Hurlburt had been barred by McCarthy from league parks. Hurlburt is proprietor of a club on Powell street.

The league directors today placed its finances at the disposal of President McCarthy to be used in ridding the parks of gamblers.

SEATTLE SPORTSMEN CATCH FISH IN LAKE WHILE CAMERAS CLICK

(By Associated Press.)
SEATTLE, Wash., May 11.—One lonely four-inch perch that died immediately after it was removed from the net, was the "catch" obtained in an effort Sunday by the county game commissioners, the Seattle Sportsmen's Association, Benton Sportsmen's Association, and Seattle Sportsmen's Club, to seine the fish in Swan Lake and transfer them to Echo Lake. Crowds thronged the banks, moving picture cameras clicked and enthusiasts in hip boots waded out into the lake and assisted in pulling in the net. How the fish managed to escape, nobody knows.

OLYMPIC COURSE SAFE FOR STRAIGHT DRIVER

ANTWERP, Belgium, May 11.—Players in the Olympic golf championship events to be held in connection with the Olympic games, beginning on July 12 will compete on a course that offers few terrors to the steady, straight driver who is an accurate judge of pitch and distance, but which promises untold difficulties to the man with the slightest tendency to hook or slice.

The Associated Press correspondent recently went over the course, which is that of the Antwerp Golf club, at Cappellenbosch, about 15 miles from Antwerp. There are no pronounced elevations, but the 18 holes of the course are dotted all about with natural, bumpy little hummocks of hard earth—most of them on the fairways—while sandpits and annoying little cup-like depressions vie with artificial bunkers, tiny water ditches and particularly nasty stretches of trees or rutty highroads on or bordering all the fairways.

"It is a course which should be played over several times by any one who intends to compete in a real match," the correspondent was told by one Scotch officer—a scratch man at St. Andrews—who found difficulty sometimes in making the round in bogey, which is 75.

The length of the course is 5,829 yards—2,855 yards for the first nine holes out and 2,974 in, with a bogey both out and in. The longest hole, the fifth, is 540 yards—the cleanest, widest straightaway of the lot, though even this offers occasional pitted or wooded difficulties, and the shortest, the 12th—150 yards, a nice little patch for the accurate mashie but so full of trouble in the shape of ditches, bumps and traps that only the scratch men generally make it in the 3 strokes set for bogey.

Just now, after the spring rains, the entire course is spongy, but, during the baking hot weather which is customary at Cappellenbosch in July, it becomes hard and bumpy, giving much bound and roll to the ball.

The greens, which have been well kept despite the war, are composed of a thin, mown grass, fast but here and there, just a bit bumpy. Most of them are protected by pits or ditches before and behind, and are particularly dangerous for overshots.

This course has been well arranged, with only one possibility of cross-fire or interference in its whole length, this being where the tee shot for the fourth hole crosses one of the greens, but the tee is considerably elevated and most of the drives go well over.

The ground rules are, as yet, a bit incomplete, no provision made for the wagon rule in the dirt roads bordering or crossing some of the fairways, but these are expected to be changed before the Olympic matches.

HUN DAMAGE TO DELAY USE OF ANTWERP LINKS

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, May 11.—Because of damage caused by the German armies it will be impossible to have the Antwerp links ready for the Olympic tournament before July 12, according to word received today from Belgium by W. D. Vanderpool, secretary of the United States Golf Association. The association had requested that the date be advanced.

Vanderpool has entered the following golfers for the amateur championship of Great Britain, to be held at Muirfield, Scotland, June 7: Nelson Whitmer, Samuel J. Graham, Stewart Stickney, Findlay S. Douglas, F. C. Newton, H. W. Maxwell, Jr., and Robert A. Gardner.

BORLESKE WILL STAY AS WHITMAN MENTOR

(By Associated Press.)
WALLA WALLA, Wash., May 11.—R. V. Borleske, coach at Whitman college, announced last night that he had declined an offer to coach football at Grinnell college, Iowa, and will remain at Whitman. Borleske recently declined an offer at Grinnell but transportation was sent him to inspect the school. He returned from Grinnell Monday. A large delegation of businessmen went to Whitman college today to urge that Borleske's recommendations for longer athletic trips be granted, and also urged upon Borleske to stay.

CONWAY LEADS STRONG TEAM AT GONZAGA 'U'

(By Associated Press.)

Prospects at the university for a first class team are said to be the best. The players are being coached by "Junk" Walters, Spokane's first baseman, and assisted by George Ferris, president of the Spokane club of the Pacific International league.

BRITISH WOMAN TAKES IRISH GOLF CONTEST

(By Associated Press.)
NEWCASTLE, County Down, Ireland, May 11.—Cecil Leitch, British women's golf champion, won the ladies' golf stroke competition today with a score of 84. Miss A. C. McKenzie of Toronto was fifth with 88 strokes.

Appearance of the American entrants in the preliminary to the British ladies golf championship tournament today aroused great interest.

The low medal score, 84, was turned in by Cecil Leitch, a British player. Miss Mildred Caverly, of the American team had a score of 87.

An accident to Rosamond Sherwood, who ran a stake in her foot while vaulting a fence, has discouraged the Americans, who believe her elimination greatly reduces their chances to win.

CONGRESS TO SIT IN ON DRIVE TO ABOLISH RACETRACK GAMBLING

WASHINGTON, May 11.—A drive against what they characterized as the "race gambling monopoly" was opened Monday by representatives of organizations seeking to abolish race track gambling. Hearings were begun before the senate judiciary committee on the Sims-Sterling bill to prohibit transmission in interstate commerce or through mails of race track odds or other news. The house interstate commerce committee will hear the delegation today.

MONTANA HAS CLASSY ARRAY OF DIAMOND MEN

(By Associated Press.)
MISSOULA, Mont., May 11.—Coach W. L. Schreiber of the state university baseball team is elated with the class of players on this year's varsity aggregation. Not only has Schreiber a splendid first-string nine, he says, but also a number of capable substitutes, several of whom have played on regular Bruin teams in past seasons.

Bert Vitt, captain, will be the chief hurling reliance. Percy Spencer will take care of first and also pitch at times. George Shepard will play second, young Kibbie, brother of Happy Kibbie, professional star, will cover third, and Larry Higbee will cover short. There are so many classy outfield candidates that definite selections remained to the last to be made.
