WHEN MOTHER'S LEAVIN' HOME!

(By Frank L. Stanton.)

Such a hum of voices! Don't care where you roam!
You'll never hear such noises as when Mother's leavin' home!
Katie, stop your screamin'—Bob, what's a'illin' you?
Never bring you nothin' more if that's the way you do!

Such a hum of voices—enough to shake the dome,
Beats the tower of Babel when Mother's leavin' home!
Katie, do be quiet; there's Jenny cryin' too!
Never bring you nothin' more if that's the way you do!

OREGON'S ANSWER

THE people of Oregon gave a ringing answer to the question whether or not education shall be supported in this state. The vote for all the educational measures was overwhelming. In Umatilla county the voting was approximately three to one and in most other counties the results were similar.

Our colleges may now prepare to take care of their students knowing that people believe in higher education as well as in support of the elementary schools. Our common school teachers may now know that people believe in a living wage for instructors and want to stop the exodus of teachers into other callings.

The result of the voting on the educational measures was a wonderful victory for the state. It was good business and good citizenship. We may look upon the American flag and realize that the commonwealth of Oregon is justly entitled to a star upon the banner.

There is one step yet, however, that this state must take before it has solved its elementary school problem. We are woefully lacking in normal school training and good normal school training is at the foundation of good elementary schools.

The East Oregonian has previously said and now repeats, knowing it to be a fact, that this question can be settled easily anytime the Portland newspapers wake up to the situation. If they will study the problem a little and then take off their coats as they did for the educational bills last Friday it will be all over but the shouting.

For the good of Portland, for the good of the state and for the welfare of the children the Portland press should look closely into the question of teacher supply for the state.

"THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS IS THE HOPE OF THE WORLD"

WHEN the Lodge forces in the United States senate refused to ratify the treaty of Versailles with the league covenant and insisted instead on hacking to pieces for political reasons the greatest document ever drawn in behalf of civilization they opened up a sorry chapter in American history.

As a result of the senate's action our country has sacrificed the high prestige it gained during the war. Both our big political parties are thrown into turmoil with the result that no one can foresee the outcome of the presidential election, nor the effect the outcome of that election may have upon the world. It is a situation to breed unrest, suspicion and pessimism everywhere.

In the republican ranks the fight on the treaty has been the making of Hiram Johnson. He is the prime beneficiary of the Lodge program. He has become the most formidable candidate for the republican nomination. He is probably in position to rule or ruin at Chicago. The Lodge chickens have come home to roost.

In democratic circles the situation is almost as bad. The president's clear cut and noble leadership has been weakened by Mr. Wilson's illness and by "burrowing from within" by the democratic senators who supported the Lodge reservations on the final ballot in the senate. Senator Chamberlain was one of these and his act would have cost him the senatorship had not the Wilson democrats of Oregon stood by him not because of his support of Lodge but in spite of that support. The heavy vote cast for Starkweather, a man who is politically weak, against the most popular figure in Oregon public life, should be notice to our senior senator that his course was not appreciated by the democrats of Oregon. If he interprets his victory in the Oregon primary as a repudiation of Wilson and of the League of Nations he will make a grave mistake. His chief support came from men who are heart and soul in sympathy with the president on the league issue.

"The League of Nations is the hope of the world," says the president and he speaks correctly. Without the league the war was fought in vain and the nations have no other course save to increase their armaments in preparation for the next war.

We would have the League of Nations and the United States would be the unquestioned leader of the league had the senate but ratified the treaty. The Lodge forces threw away their best bet when they played little politics with a big question. The democrats in the senate have almost done the same thing.

Until the national conventions have been held and perhaps until the votes are counted next November it will remain an open question whether the world attains or loses the goal for which millions struggled and for which 100,000 American youths laid down their lives.

The Portland Oregonian asserts that the Johnson victory in Oregon means that the people of this state do not want him nominated at Chicago and that the Chamberlain success was a repudiation of Wilson. Journalism students looking for material on the subject of Prevaricating Paragraphs will do well to consult the Oregonian. They will also be interested to note that the Oregonian reports the vote of Multnomah county "with all but one small precinct in Multnomah county unaccounted for."

Now let us all be thankful the primary election is over and that it is some time yet until November.

"NICKY" ARNSTEIN WAITING WITH ACTRESS WIFE IN PROSECUTOR'S OFFICE TO SURRENDER

After eluding the police since February 12, Jules W. (Nicky) Arnstein, sought on two continents as the alleged head of a band of swindlers and brokerage messengers, are said to have stolen from $1,500,000 to $5,000,000 in bonds and other securities from Wall street firms, went to New York from Philadelphia on May 15 and surrendered to the district attorney. He went to the prosecutor's office with his wife, known on the stage as Fanny Brice. He is shown with her there "waiting for somebody to show up," as he put it, and arrest him. The day he surrendered, the annual New York police parade was held and Arnstein's automobile was held up several times by the lines of bluecoats while he was on his way to give himself up. When he passed the reviewing stand in Fifth avenue he rose and waved his hat to police officials whom he had fooled for more than three months.

A LETTER FOR WOMEN

From a Woman Whose Serious Illness Was Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Garnett, Kan.—"I first took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a complete nervous breakdown following the birth of my oldest child. I got up too soon which caused serious female trouble. I was so weak that I was not able to be on my feet but very little and could not do my housework at all. I had a bad pain in my left side and it would pain terribly if I stepped off a curb-stone. One day one of your booklets was thrown in the yard and I read every word in it. There were so many who had been helped by your medicine that I wanted to try it and my husband went to town and got me a bottle. It seemed as though I felt relief after the second dose, so I kept on until I had taken five bottles and by that time I was as well as I could wish. About a year later I gave birth to a ten pound boy, and have had two more children since and my health has been fine. If I ever have trouble of any kind I am going to take your medicine for I give it all the praise for my good health. I always recommend your medicine whenever I can."—Mrs. F. A. E. SHAY, Garnett, Kansas.

Terrible Tortures From Itching Skin Diseases

No Sure Relief Until the Cause is Removed.

When the blood becomes infested with millions of tiny disease germs that attack the skin, then the fiery irritation and intense itching will remain with you until these germs are removed from the blood.

Genuine relief therefore, can only be expected from a treatment that goes right to the seat of the trouble, and strikes at its cause. Such a remedy is S. S. S., the reliable old blood purifier that kills the germs of disease, and sends a new supply of rich red blood coursing through the veins.

S. S. S. has been used successfully in some of the worst cases of eczema and other skin disorders.
