IN THE LAND OF DREAMS

(By Frank L. Stanton.)

The dreams are mine!
 I wake from dreams of years;
 Yet all I have in life to give away,
 Sweetheart, are dreams and tears.

And dreams are tears to dreamers—they that know
 The midnight's bloom and glooms
 And waking, kiss the lips that kissed them so,
 And cry: "The dreams! The dreams!"

What is the light that God makes on the hills—
 The dawning of the streams—
 The twilight calling of the whippoorwill?
 They only bring the dreams!

Still there is something in the green world missed
 For all its pride and state—
 The light that blessed Love's lips that day he kissed
 His sweetheart at the gate.

Sunlight and starlight from the worlds on high—
 Life, and its faith-formed gleams,
 But still across the dreary world that cry—
 "The dreams! The dreams! The dreams!"

TAKE THE ARMENIAN MANDATE

ASKING congress for authority for acceptance of a mandate over Armenia, President Wilson acts in characteristic fashion. The president is a statesman, not a small politician. He is a mountain; not a pile of sand that shifts with the wind. He is a man in whom America may justly take pride.

If the United States wants to assume its rightful place in the world we should accept the Armenian mandate. Our services are sorely needed and no other nation is in such favorable position to take over this duty. The Armenian people stood steadfastly for the allied cause during the war. They suffered inhuman tortures and were all but wiped out as a race. But they never lost faith. They maintained their religious beliefs and refused to become Moslems. They died but they never surrendered. Are the victorious nations going to leave them still under the heel of the Turks? They will unless Uncle Sam steps forth as the Good Samaritan.

There are those who do not want the United States to participate in world affairs. They advise aloofness and say that foreign boundaries are none of our business. They forget that the great war was a struggle over boundaries, the allies resisting an aggressor nation that wished to extend its boundaries by the sword. They forget that, because of a foreign boundary controversy we had to call four million men to arms and spend nearly thirty billions in money. They forget that the Americans who sleep in France are there because this country could not keep out of what was originally a European quarrel.

The United States can and should assume the leadership of the world. It is our destiny. We must accept the role or leave such leadership in less worthy hands. We must guide the world to peace and democracy or see the leadership assumed by European powers that lack the vision and the strength for this great task. European statesmen were at the helm in 1914 and the ship was wrecked. European statesmen are but little wiser than they were five years ago. They still bicker over petty affairs and were the nations not exhausted they would have started a new war before this time. The hope of the world is in the United States and we should get our house in order. It is not a matter of charity. It is a matter of self defense. It will cost us less in men and money if we lead than it will if we resume our old attitude of bystander.

Congress should authorize the Armenian mandate.

EDUCATION

TRUE education is experience. Schooling is a study of the experience of other persons.

The aim of the school teacher who understands the fundamentals of his profession is to develop actual experience in the school room wherever possible. "Thus," he reasons, "I shall truly educate." A child might read six text books explaining that fire burns, and yet not know it. Let him stick his finger in the fire and he learns instantly that fire burns. Reading the text book is schooling. Sticking his finger in the fire is education.

The more education we can inject into the schools, the better it is for the student. There is a private school in New York City where a number of children of the wealthiest families go from the time they are little children until they grow up and are ready to marry. It is a good school and it is patronized by persons of means and intelligence because the educators who conduct it understand what education is.

It is essential that the scion of a wealthy family destined to assume the responsibility of administering his family's money should be taught how to handle money. The school he goes to, therefore, teaches him how to handle money. It does not teach the subject from a text book. It teaches by letting the student actually handle the money.

For ten years the children in this school have been made to budget their expenses. They receive stated incomes and they balance their expenditures against these incomes by means of a budget sheet showing itemized outlay. They bank their money in a school bank; check against it, and go through all the forms of the business world in actual cash. Other private schools in the east are beginning to take up the budget idea, realizing that one of the essentials of education is a knowledge of the value of money and how to use it.

The government Savings Organization of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District is now advocating budget making by the students in all public schools, rich and poor alike, no matter whether the child has twenty-five cents or twenty-five dollars a week. This organization plans to provide these budget sheets. Moreover, the government savings organization is striving to induce housewives to run their households on a budget basis. To do this the organization has had printed 50,000 household budget sheets, which it hopes to distribute through the women's clubs of the twelfth federal reserve district. The government wants the support of the parents in educating the child.

Once a person begins to keep a budget that person is going to save money. The government savings organization knows that the person who keeps a budget is a prospective investor in war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates, not to mention Liberty bonds.

Doctor Cupid

That love sometimes cures disease is a fact that has been called to the attention of the public by a prominent physician. Love is not, however, the cure for all women. Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription gives new life and new strength to weak, worn-out, run-down women. "Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is now sold by all druggists in the United States in tablets as well as liquid form.

ROSEBURG, OREGON—"I suffered something terrible from an organic trouble. Could scarcely stand on my feet. My head and back ached so hard and I was weak and nervous. I had severe pains in my side and my limbs and feet ached. I was also troubled with constipation. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery, and Pleasant Pellets. These medicines cured me of all my ailments and I was well and strong."—Mrs. W. D. MOORE, 1246 N. Jackson Street.

Elderly People Have A Daily Health Problem

Stomach muscles and digestive organs slow to act as age advances

MOST people find the years slipping by without realizing it, until suddenly confronted with the fact that they can no longer digest everything they would like to eat. It then becomes their daily task to avoid what they know to be chronic constipation.

When exercise and light diet fail it will be necessary to resort to artificial means. Strong physics and cathartics, however, are not advisable for elderly people. They act too powerfully and a feeling of weakness results.

What is needed is a laxative containing effective but mild properties. This is best found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts gently and without griping, and used a few days will train the digestive organs to do their work naturally again without other aid.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market since 1892 and was the private formula of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who is himself past 80 years of age and still active in his profession. It can be bought at any drug store and one bottle is enough to last even a large family many months. It is a trustworthy preparation.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

How Strange Things Sometimes Happen

"I want to write you to let you know that I have taken 2 more doses of May's Wonderful Remedy, and have gained 10 pounds in the last 2 weeks, although I am thinner around the waist than before, because the bloating in my stomach has all gone and I am feeling like a boy again. There never was anything in this world half as good as this medicine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.
