VARIED AS WAR TIME GASOLINE

Why are gasoline filling stations decorated with "no gas" placards?
Somebody has tipped off this gas shortage idea and exposed it. The Tri State Auto club is starting a big two-days' picnic at Bingham Springs Saturday and Sunday, and every car in Pendleton just must be there, they figure. Hence the sacrifice now.
Pendleton will be joint hosts with the management of Bingham Springs to the Tri State club members from as far as the confluence of the Snake and Clear water rivers, or, as it is known on the map, Lewiston. There will be a baseball game on the program. It is rumored that one of the events will be a race between several salesmen and a prospect, just to show how fast some of the auto men

Mill Race Being Repaired.

Repairs are being made by the Byers mill race where a week ago this morning a large washout occurred, flooding a portion of the east end of town. Progress is necessarily slow, owing to the nature of the earth there and the moisture still in the ground. Repairs probably will be completed in another week, however. The mill is nearby through its spring and summer contracts and is operating on electric power. Even though the break were repaired, it is not probable that the water power would be used. Manager W. Schwartzenberg said today. Persons whose property was damaged by the flood have had all their claims adjusted. Mr. Schwartzenberg said. The only claim which cannot be adjusted is that of the east end youngsters, who will be deprived of their usual swimming hole this summer because no water will be carried in the race. The mill race has for years been a popular place for the youth of that part of the city in the summer.
