

People Here and There

Will Peterson, who is not yet certain whether or not he was elected district delegate to the democratic convention, left this morning for Walla Walla on business. Mr. Peterson is awaiting pleasure from Malheur and Harney counties.

Sylvan G. Cohn, of the Sylvan G. Cohn Co., Incorporated, is in La Grande and Hot Lake on a business trip.

If the gasoline shortage is not too great, Carl A. Anderson, of Pilot Rock, will motor to Arizona and California for an extended trip. Mr. Anderson, who is an ex-service man, was in the city yesterday.

The higher atmosphere suits Cecil Jones, formerly of Pendleton but now of Boise, so well that he will return to the Idaho capital city after a week's stay at his former home here. Mr. Jones arrived Wednesday for a vacation here where he was formerly employed as a linotype in a local newspaper plant. He is with the Boise Statesman.

Eight hundred miles are 800 miles in some localities and in others seem a great deal more. Dr. Thomas C. Ohmart and James E. Beard, who returned last evening from an 800 mile trip by motor through southeastern Oregon, found their journey of more than the average length. They went as far as Boise and visited in Malheur, Baker, and Union counties in Oregon.

W. A. Kearns, who is in charge of the H. W. Collins office in Portland, is a Pendleton business visitor today.

H. D. McCurdy is here from Ione today. Mr. McCurdy is in the cigar business in the Morrow county town. He is accompanied here by S. P. Dandson, Ione businessman.

Ed Rand of Portland is here today.

D. H. Kerfoot is in the city from Portland today.

James Morton of Rochester is in the city today.

Hugh Kyo, farmer of Stanfield, is a business visitor here today.

I. E. Riep of St. Louis is in the city.

J. C. Lamton of Portland, is here today.

E. A. Cummins of Freewater is in the city.

Earl Stowe is in Pendleton from Spokane.

Frank Marlyn of Stanfield, is spending the day in the city.

MONTANA INDUSTRY LEADERS TALK OVER EFFECTS OF CANAL

(By Associated Press)
HELENA, Mont., May 27.—The International Deep Waterways commission, representing Montana and the United States, at a hearing in the state capital yesterday heard leaders of industry tell Montana's resources and how they would be affected by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence canal project. Charles P. Craig, secretary of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Tidewater association, which is urging the channel of the St. Lawrence river be made deeper in order to permit ocean-going vessels to handle freight from Great Lakes ports, explained the purpose of the hearing which he said was to secure data from the state likely to supply business to these ports in the event they are established.

SPOKANE RESTRICTS SALE OF GASOLINE

(By Associated Press)
SPOKANE, Wash., May 27.—There is only three or four days' supply of gasoline in the city and as a consequence sales will be restricted to operators of commercial trucks, it was announced last night by W. L. Murray, district sales manager of the Standard Oil company. No oil is expected to reach the city before early in June. Murray stated. Strikes and floods in the east, whence comes the local supply of gasoline, which caused a shortage of tank cars were given as causes of the shortage.

Virginian Who is Head of Congressional Campaign Committee for Democrats

This photograph of Representative Henry D. Flood, of Virginia, was taken in Washington since his election as chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. He has represented the Tenth District in which is located Staunton, President Wilson's birthplace, for twenty years without a break. During the war Representative Flood was chairman of the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. He is regarded as a likely possibility for the nomination for governor of Virginia.

BAN AGAINST SUFFRAGE

Raleigh, N. C., May 27.—Organized opposition to ratification by North Carolina of the federal suffrage amendment was launched here today.

Red Sox Shortstop Who Broke Record by Playing 534 Consecutive Games

Everett Scott says he didn't miss a day the last two years he went to school. Perhaps that's how he formed the habit which enabled him to break the record of Fred Luderus, the Phillies' first baseman of playing 533 consecutive games. When Scott, the Boston Red Sox shortstop, played his 534th game without a miss he was going stronger than ever. If the Philadelphia fans were to miss Scott's name in the lineup they would probably say: "Poor fellow! That a tough! Does the doctor say he will get well?"

NO-WHIP
VENTILATING PORCH SHADES

MAKE YOUR PORCH YOUR SUMMER HOME

From the hot, dusty streets or from an overheated kitchen to turn aside to some dim, cool veranda and sink into a hospitable chair—who wouldn't respond to such an invitation! Much ingenuity has been expended on the problem of the outdoor living room and these AEROLUX Ventilating Shades represent the highest attainments in shading equipment.

The summer's heat and sun cannot penetrate them, yet all the wandering breezes blow thru—for they are made from splints of heat-retarding Lindenwood and scientifically woven so as to give maximum protection and ventilation.

Special adjustable "No-Whip" cords add to their usefulness by insuring against flapping in the wind—so they may be effectively used in all kinds of weather on living, dining or sleeping porch.

Our Line of Porch and Summer Furnishings is Complete.
