COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 8 .-COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 8.—
The republican national convention was actually called to order at 11:34
this morning. Soon after Chairman Hays appeared on the platform and was greeted with rounds of appearse and shouts. Chairman Will Hays brought down his gavel with a whack

"Star Spangied Banner" at the request of the song leader.

The convention was not very much interested in reading on the convention call. It embraced the opportunity for conferences. Conversation and a steady hum pervaded the hall during the reading. Chairman Hays whacked for order so hard he joiled the glass of water on the secretary's table, being compelled to step to the front of the platform to speak.

No Bolt, Says Hays.

"The republican party has met in this free, open convention," he said, "to accent from the people the mandate for government of the United States. As chairman of your national committee, I report progress. There will be no bolt at this convention." Roars of cheers greeted that statement.

Hays then introduced Senator Henry Cabot Lodge as temporary chairman, a rolling chorus of ayes affirming the selection. Another wave of cheers greeted the senator as he stepped onto the speaking plaiform. It was a minute before noon when he began speaking. His address was punctuated by cheering and applause: most loud applause coming when he referred to the republican party of 1850, and declared it must again come forward for like service to the country.

Roars of cheers and continued ap-Roars of cheers and continued applause marked Lodge's declaration that every one connected with "the dynasty of Woodrow Wilson must be driven from power." He continued that they must be driven out, "not because they are democrats, but because Mr. Wilson's theory of government is not American." The defeat of the present administration, Lodge said, transcends every other question. William Jennings Bran from his

Sunday night produced a light shower of .05 inches and shortly after moon the warm, hard rain began falling. At Adams, Helix, Athena and Weston the rain came down almost in torrents for a time insuring its going deep into the ground. The lighter lands west of Pendleton also got a kood share of the moisture.

June last year produced less rain than yeaterday's showers alone. With but .65 inches in June, 1919, the county produced a crop of about 4,500,000 bushels. Yesterday's rain strengthened Yesterday's rain strengthened the belief of some wheat men that 1929 will exceed the 1919 yield.

Summer pastures on the ranges, which have been drying rapidly with no rainfall for more than a month, will be greatly benefited by the rain. Grass has been dry-ing and stock was already being ing and stock was already being sentto the high mountains. In the wheat regions the rainfall will insure against damage to the plants from excessive heat should it new turn hot.

CHICAG, June 8.—The pre-convention campaign ended in the wee hours this morning in Jazzy style. Senator Hiram W. Johnson's adherents held the noise record when the excitement subsided and the throngs sought a few hours' repose before the start of the rain event. For hours the corridors of the Congress and Auditorium hotels echoed with the din, in the streets massed thousands yelled for Johnson, drowning out the bands.

Thousands heard Johnson wind up the campaign with two speeches, one of which packed the suditorium theater, where the Bull Moose party was born in 1912, and the other from the

NEW FREEWATER BANK NEWSPAPER BANKRUPT, TO BE SOLD THURSDAY

The return of all assets held by the receiver for the Tribune Company to Harry L. Kuck, mortgagee, with the exception of a car of print paper, was ordered yesterday by Federal Judge Charles Wolverton, at Portland, and sale of the paper and plant, under mortgage, will be held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. The decision settles the difference between Mr. Kuck and creditors of the company as to the validity of the mortgage which he recently purchased.

Judge Wolverton also signed papers yesterday adjudging the Tribune Company bankrupt. The case will be referred here to Judge Thomas Fitz-Gerald, probably tomorrow or ga soon as papers are malled out.
