Kuppenheimer Good Clothes

A lot has been said about the discovery of American styles for young Americans.

Why? Because the American man is different in every way from his brothers abroad. He never looks right, or feels right, in a foreign garment—because it does not harmonize with his alert, free figure.

Kuppenheimer good clothes are the result of infinite pains and earnest artistry to design sane, smart styles—in variations for men of all builds, ages and tastes.

They are more than just clothes—they are an investment in "good appearance" and economy. You not only look right in them, but they keep on looking right. See the display of American styles.
