STORE WINDOWS SHOW OREGON MADE PRODUCE

Displays of Oregon made goods already are beginning to make their appearance in Pendleton store windows. In preparation for Oregon Products week, which begins on Monday, among the first to decorate its show space with home made goods, and entirely made in Pendleton, by the way, is Sayer's.

Products of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, which have been prominent in displays throughout the state, fill both windows of this store. There are Indian robes, pillow covers, women's bath robes, auto robes and other products of the local institution. Made in Oregon signs, furnished by the Associated Industries of Oregon, accompany the displays.

Other stores will begin putting in their displays tomorrow and Sunday and on Monday morning a Pendletonian will be able to walk down either side of Main street in front of a mass of Oregon goods. Foodstuffs, wearing apparel, machinery, toilet goods, household helps and a hundred and one other products will be displayed.

Hood River this week is holding a display of Oregon goods and it is being attended with considerable success, it is reported. There will be an Oregon Products dinner there tonight, such as will be given here one week from tonight. Prizes for the best displays are awarded at the dinner.

A committee of judges, representing each financial institution and each newspaper in Pendleton, was selected by J. R. Raley, president of the Commercial Association, yesterday afternoon. The judges will make their decisions during the coming week and announce the awards Friday night.

Those asked to serve are: R. M. Mayberry, chairman; Edward Wiktor, Brooks, Dickson, H. Sherman Mitchell and Harry La Ruck.

Besides choosing three prize winners the committee will select three others worthy of honorable mention.

TWO HUNTERS.
 (Alice Jean Cleator.)
 A hunter strode up-hill and down,
 Beyond the outskirts of the town;
 With gun in hand he took his fill
 Of what he called fine sport—to kill.
 No ear had he for rumping brooks,
 No eye for God's great picture books.
 He silenced song that upward soared,
 Took life that could not be restored.

Another roamed by hill and stream,
 Saw the pale willow eatkins gleam,
 Saw flash of timorous furry feet,
 Felt the still woodlands' pulses beat,
 Heard the quick footsteps of the river;
 Looked up and thanked the mighty giver.
 I ask, what answer would you say—
 Which bagged the finest game that day?

KEEP THEM ON THE SCHOOL BOARD

UNDER the present school board in Pendleton there has been harmony and cooperation all around and the schools have been steadily increasing in efficiency. The policy of the board has been to secure as superintendent and as high school principal the strongest men to be had. Then to let those men conduct school affairs, the board members remaining in the background, actively interested in the work and consulting earnestly with the school heads but not attempting to take personal direction of duties of a technical nature.

This is the way to secure efficiency in school work and the results in Pendleton prove the point. It is a policy that should be continued and must be continued if we are to get value received for the money expended. If that policy is not maintained we are not going to have strong men in the local school service and the schools will drift towards disruption.

Because the present board is doing well with the duties entrusted to it and is meeting its responsibilities in a spirit of sincere, broad minded service the board should be continued as it stands. Mr. Rice and Mr. Friedly are valuable men upon the board and have had much to do with bringing about the present state of affairs. The first steps toward putting in vogue the efficient policies now followed were taken following their election.

Keep those men where they are.

REPUBLICANS.

THE Saturday Evening Post, speaking editorially, says that neither of the main political parties is more than a name. The Post justly places importance on the man rather than upon the label he wears.

"Why should a man be trusted with an important task because he is a Republican? Why not because he wears blue socks or enjoys Dickens or thinks the Cubs will win?"

There is sound sense in this view. In the selection of a president for instance it will be more important to get a strong man with the right viewpoint on current questions than to get a man merely because he belongs to a certain party. A strong republican president with a proper conception of what is needed could do more good than a weak or mediocre democratic president. By the same token a strong democratic president who knows the needs of the nation and of the world can accomplish more good than an incompetent republican as chief executive.

Some people may find it hard to lay aside party affiliations. Nevertheless it is the thing that must be done if we are to have good government.

The people must look things over and decide affairs upon their merits and not from the standpoint of partisanship.

THE JOHN DAY GRADE

TIME and again complaints have been made regarding the condition of the John Day grade on the road over which comes the business transacted between Grant county and Hatilla county. It is charged that the road is all but impassable and that business that normally flows into this county is being diverted elsewhere. There is no question but that this is true.

Now the situation is not only unjust to this county. An even greater injustice is worked upon the people of northern Grant county—a region we wish to reach and cultivate.

It is time something was done and done quickly. We should have a good road into Grant county and it should be maintained all the time. The committee that is to wait upon the county court has a good case and should press it to the limit.

"Harmony" in the republican national convention has been preserved by letting the irreconcilables, backed by hyphen sentiment, dictate a plank so drastic in support of little Americanism that it does not even ask for adoption of the league covenant with the senate amendments. To prevent a bolt the convention has taken laudanum and time may prove it has entered upon a sleep from which there will be no awakening.

The shooting at Echo could have been worse.

Lodge was indeed a valiant league champion—not.

A little courtesy now may bring a big normal school later.

GOVERNMENT SCORES IN DEMPSEY CASE TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—The government scored against Jack Dempsey in the draft evasion trial of the champion when the court ruled that Maxine, former wife of the pugilist, would be allowed to testify against him on matters not regarded as confidential communications between the two during the period of their marriage. Maxine then took the stand.

PRESIDENT GETS MORE TIME TO READ BILLS

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, June 10.—Attorney General Palmer has made an informal ruling that the chief executive has ten days after the adjournment of congress in which to sign bills and resolutions. This ruling may change the status of a number of bills which the president killed by "pocket veto" explaining he had not had time to consider them. These measures include the water power bill and a resolution repealing most of the wartime legislation.

THIS MAY BE TRUE BUT IT SOUNDS MUCH LIKE A SNAKE STORY

(By United Press.)
 MARYVILLE, Calif., June 11.—Mrs. Marcosa Barron, fell asleep while nursing her baby. When she awoke she found a rattlesnake had taken the infant's place at her breast. Her husband heard the screams and killed the reptile, which, examination showed, had drunk its fill of milk.

MADGE WILL APPEAL
 CINCINNATI, June 11.—The jury in the trial of Lee Madge, Cincinnati ball player, in his suit against the Chicago

National league club for $2500, returned a verdict for the defense in the United States district court here late yesterday. The jury deliberated about an hour before it reached a decision. Robert Alcorn, attorney for Madge, announced after the verdict had been rendered that the case would be appealed.

BREXITERS, June 11.—King Albert had a long conference this morning with General Marguine, chief of the general staff, who will leave immediately for Paris. He will confer there with Marshal Foch on the conclusion of a military arrangement between France and Belgium.
