News of Pendleton

Nat Proves Popular

Meeting Is Postponed.

Boys throughout the county are keenly interested in the event.

Milton Will Not Celebrate.

Milton will not have a formal observance of Independance Day this year word from their Commercial club to the Pendleton Commercial Association today informed. The east end citizens wrote to thank Pendleton for its pledge of cooperation in whatever sort of celebration might be held as this city is not holding a celebration of its own. Freewater and Milton will combine to have a strawberry and cherry fete on Tuesday, June 29.

Overseas Parties Planned

Several parties of local persons are planning to leave here during July for visits to their old homes in Europe. European travel has become much more simple as reconstruction measures have been brought about following the war and only the necessity of making reservations for passage far in advance hinder the pleasure of a journey. At the present time transatlantic passage cannot be obtained short of two or three months, a local steamship agent said today.

Two More Towns Heard From.

Boise and Yakima today answered the gasoline inquiries recently sent to several northwestern cities by the Pendleton Commercial Association, following the June meeting. In the Idaho capital there is no shortage of gas, their chamber of commerce reports. Their supply is obtained from the Wyoming and Kansas fields and there is no high gravity law such as Oregon has. In Yakima, however, there is a shortage felt and the citizens there are hard at work to get relief. The opportunity to buy gasoline in Lewiston and ship to Yakima was passed up owing to the desire of the Yakima people to prevent high priced gasoline and possible profiteering, their letter said. Yakima, Ellensburg and Pendleton are all dependent upon the California fields for their gasoline and all are short.

Today Longest of Year.

Today, June 21, is listed in the almanacs as the longest day of the year 1920. It marks the end of spring and the advent of summer. Unlike in former years, summer hardly arrived before schedule but today was what most persons would characterize as an ideal summer day. Although the sun today is supposed to reach its farthest north, the real heat of the summer will be a few weeks hence. Likewise there will be little apparent shortening of days for a few weeks as tomorrow's period of sunshine will lack only a minute of being as long as todays.

Bicycles Come Under Parking.

By a decision of Police Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald this morning, bicycles come under the parking regulations the same as other vehicles. The case was brought on account of the large number of wheels which boys have left lying on the curb and sometimes upon the sidewalk on Main St. Arden Wilson, who had left his bicycle lying against the curb inside the limits of the white lines, was fined $2 for the offense. Another youth with him, who showed the judge considerably more respect, was let off with a warning.

Service! The Paramount Consideration in Our Boys' Department

Not only what the boy needs but also what he wants. Not only the necessities but the luxuries of apparel. Our Boys' Department has but one purpose, and that purpose is service. It is an institution, not a side issue. It is run for boys, but not by boys'. It is as intelligently conducted as is our Men's Department, as discriminating in its selections and as alert in its point of view. And it is proof of these things that in this season when fine merchandise is at a premium, our collections eclipse anything we have ever done for boys.

The "hottest day this year" is with us and it is predicted that there will be many such during June, July and August.
