

People Here and There

F. E. Judd, formerly of Pendleton and now of Portland, arrived in the city this morning to spend two days on business. He is a director in the American National Bank.

W. L. Thompson, president of the American National Bank, is expected from Portland tomorrow to attend the annual meeting of the directors of the institution.

John E. Montgomery and C. H. Marsh, who have had interests in the Judith Basin district of Montana, left last night for Spokane en route to Lewiston on a business trip that will keep them a week.

Texas may look promising to some people, but to Dr. B. G. Vinson, it doesn't compare with Pendleton. Dr. Vinson left here recently to look over Texas with a view to opening a dental office in that state. He returned yesterday, accompanied by his family and will resume his duties as manager of the E. R. Parker offices here, relieving Dr. Charles Maher, who will return to the Eugene offices. Dr. Vinson went from Texas to Los Angeles, and thence to Roseburg, where he met Mrs. Vinson who made the trip from here to the Rogue river valley by auto. They motored to Portland from Roseburg and spent three weeks before continuing the trip to Pendleton.

Sheriff T. D. Taylor went to the east end of the county on business today.

servicing civil papers in Milton and Freewater.

A. G. Voelker, principal of the schools at Hermiston, has gone to Portland to take summer work in the extension department of the University of Oregon.

D. B. Watson is in the city today from Thorn Hollow.

Zoeth Houser, of Echo, who expects to run for sheriff this fall against T. H. Taylor, was in the city from Echo today on business.

Rev. M. S. Cole, pastor of Ingle's Chapel, in Walla Walla, is a Pendleton visitor today.

V. E. Snavelly, of McLean & Snavelly, left yesterday by auto for Portland. He will be gone for a few days on a business visit.

SUFFRAGE ADVOCATES ARE WARNED AGAINST OVER-CONFIDENCE

(By Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Women suffrage advocates, at a luncheon given yesterday to democratic women by the San Francisco branch of the Civic Center were warned against over-confidence by Mrs. Abbey Scott Baker of the National woman's party. Although elated over the action of Tennessee's governor in calling a special session of the legislature on August 9, Mrs. Baker warned her audience that

NEWS OF THE COUNTY OFFICES AND OFFICERS

Several Teachers Signed Up
The signed contracts of teachers in various county districts are being received daily in the office of the county superintendent. Today the contracts of Miss Hattie Touchinger, to teach in District No. 81 was received. Others which have just come in are those of Miss Ida J. Sumner, to teach in District No. 114, at Cayuse, and of J. G. Graves as principal of the Tumalum district in the east end.

County Offices
Thorn Hollow to Build
A teachers' exchange is to be built shortly by the Thorn Hollow school district, No. 45, according to word brought to town today by D. B. Watson, clerk of the board. The building will cost $1250 and will be available for the teacher this fall.

New District Wealthy
The new union high school district formed by the union of 10 districts in the Milton-Freewater country at the annual school election last Monday, is valued at more than $6,500,000, according to assessed valuations. This gives the district a greater valuation by nearly a million dollars than the Pendleton district. The directors of the union district are chosen from the chairmen of the 10 districts and will serve until the next annual election. An official canvass of votes cast on the proposition shows that it won by 458 to 82, nearly 5 to 1.

County Fair Money Received
The county treasurer today received from the state treasurer a check for $2298.04, this county's share of the state county fair fund for 1920. The money will be partitioned out by Miss Grace Gilliam to the various fairs in the county this year. Industrial and county fairs get a portion of this fund.

CONVENTIONALITIES

adopt the rules under which the 1912 convention operated, placing all states under the unit rule except those in which there is a mandatory statute providing for the nomination and election of the delegates in congressional districts. There is such a law in New York and the delegates from several districts. There is such a law in New to act independently of the delegation as a body.

In the Oregon case, one of the four delegates at large died after the primary. John Schuylerman, who ran fifth, claimed the seat. The state committee ignored his claim and elected R. R. Turner to fill the vacancy. There was no state law or party precedent to govern the case and the committee voted to unanimously seat both delegates. Previously the national committee voted unanimously to seat Turner.

The committee on rules' adoption of a motion of rejection of the unit rule in states where there are laws requiring election of delegates by districts will split the New York delegation if the report is adopted by the convention.

The McAdoo people came on the convention floor today for the first time with a working organization, including a floor leader and a representative on practically every state delegation. Their problem was to find enough supporters to round up a two-thirds vote.

Tammany emerged a victor in a sharp contest over the liquor question in the New York delegation. By adopting steam roller tactics, Tammany succeeded in instructing the New York member of the resolution committee to vote for a wet plank.

The republican party's platform is entirely "lacking in principle" through which intelligent and forward-looking people can express themselves. President Compton of the American Federation of Labor declared in presenting to the resolutions committee the demands of organized labor.

The credentials committee upheld the rulings of the national committee, but decided to seat both the contesting Oregon delegates with half a vote each.

The committee on rules at the democratic national convention tackled again today the knotty question of whether a state delegation could be bound by a unit rule.

The rules committee put a twenty minute limit on the nominating speeches. The succeeding speeches are limited to three or five minutes each.

By a vote of 24 to 11 the rules committee knocked out a unit rule as it applies to the New York delegation.

Franklin Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, opened the argument before the committee, favoring a resolution permitting New York delegates to vote as individuals, thus breaking the unit rule. The charge was favored by New York delegates who want to vote for McAdoo. Under the unit rule they claimed Tammany would control the delegation and cast a solid vote for whichever candidate Murphy favored.

The publicity rooms here from which an attempt was started to find a house in Washington for Hiram Johnson, are now being used by the Housing Committee trying to find houses for the delegates in San Fran-diaco. So far they've had more success than the previous occupants.

There is a prevailing opinion here that the republicans would not be quite so sure if they had it to do over again at Chicago.

"Save the nomination for July 4," is the plea of the hotel keepers, who promise a big celebration if the 20,000 crowd will remain over until Independence day.

Who said that oil and water don't mix? Here's Ed Dohoney, oil king and delegate at large from California, and Bill Bryan with reservations at the same hotel.

A group of San Francisco housewives are "laying for A. Mitchell Palmer. They have a bunch of questions to fire at him about what his department has done to bring down the price of shoes and things.

"We've held off the bread-wagon and milk-wagon drivers from striking during the convention," said Mrs. Edward Scanlon of the Housewives' League. "We want to know what Mr.

Palmer thinks he's done for us, and why he thinks the women should support his ambitions to be president."

Over 250 college boys and girls from the University of California and Stanford University are ushering for the big show. They were picked from the political science classes by their profs who wanted them to see how the country is being run.

The first piece of confederate money to be passed during the convention has been discovered. A bellhop in the St. Francis is still hunting for the southern delegate who gave it to him for a tip.

News hounds figured Bryan tried to slip into San Francisco inconspicuously. He ordered his reservations at the St. Francis as "W. J. Bryan, Miami, Fla.

WINE-O

An occasional bottle during these strenuous days, will do much toward relieving the fatigue and nervous strain of the industrious housewife.

A bottle of WINE-O at dinner, also, will soothe the irritability of father, when he comes home and finds the house topsy-turvy.

Besides, it is good for the kiddies.

Keep a case of Wine-O in the house all the time.

Paint to-day Walk on to-morrow

Isn't it true that you would paint your floors oftener if you didn't have to keep the house upset so long waiting for the paint to dry?

Wouldn't you do it oftener if you could paint one half of the floor one day, then move the furniture over from the other half and paint that the next day?

Well, that's just what you can do with Lowe's Hard Drying Floor Paint. This fact, together with the way it stands wear and tear is the reason it is used so much on restaurant floors and ship decks.

Come in and ask for descriptive literature.
