(By Associated Press.)
SPA, July 12.—If the Poles consent to retire within the natural frontiers of Poland the allies will give them all possible assistance in the event of their being attacked by the bolsheviks. This announcement was made here Sunday.

WHEAT NEAR WESTON DEFIES HOT WINDS

(East Oregonian Special.)
WESTON, July 12.—The hot winds and sunshine of the past week have made considerable headway in hastening the coming of the grain harvest. It now looks like the wheat harvest might be under way about the first of August. The general reports are to the effect that wheat has not been damaged around Weston to any considerable extent yet.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Perry of San Francisco, were visiting her friend, Miss Velma Gerking, Saturday night. Mrs. Perry will be remembered by her former friends as Miss Ruth Smith, who formerly lived in Weston.

The estate of the late Mrs. Z. C. Price was appraised last Saturday by Jim J. Culey, L. I. O'Hara and E. M. Smith.
Arden Lucas and Harvey Lundell departed Sunday morning by pack train transportation for an outing at Bingham Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Adams of the Liberty Garage returned Thursday from Salem where they had been visiting for a few days. They made the trip in their Henryford. Going down they made it in one day.

Rulon Smith and Carl Brandt are listening to the waves at Seaside these summer days.

Mrs. Margaret Rabb has returned from a trip which included as far east as Philadelphia. She was formerly employed in the Weston Mercantile company's store, but has now accepted a position in the J. C. Penny store at Athens.

The Pacific Coast Elevator Company are making some substantial improvements at each of their warehouses in Weston and at Blue mountain. At both warehouses they are building elevated driveways so that the wagons will stand on the same floor elevation as the trucking floor.

Joe Hodgson returned Sunday evening from a week's trip to Cullisac, Idaho, near where he has a large lot of farm land leased on the Lapwai Indian reservation. Mr. Hodgson reports that weather has not been nearly as hot up there as it has here.

Equal to the Occasion.

Mrs. Newrich—Strange that you find it so hard to keep help. I never have any difficulty in keeping mine.
Mrs. Heston—Ah, but you have a great advantage over us. You naturally find it easy to humor them by treating them as equals.—Boston Transcript.

WARSHIP WILL CARRY BODY OF PRINCE ROYAL

LISBON, July 12.—(By A. P.)—The Duchess of Oporto, the American widow of the late Prince royal of Portugal, has arrived here and, in an interview with the president of the cabinet, thanked the government for permitting her husband's body, now in Italy, to be brought to Portugal and placed among those of his ancestors.

The transfer of the body will take place probably next winter and for this purpose an Italian warship will be employed.

To the Associated Press correspondent the Duchess said she intends offering a large marble bust of the prince, which she has had made especially in Italy to the government requesting that it should be placed in the Ajuda Palace with the other busts of the sovereigns of Portugal.

Since her arrival here hundreds of friends and servants of the late royal family have called continually at the hotel despite the fact that the Duchess has declared that her visit is made solely to the republican government.

The Duke of Oporto, only brother of the murdered King Carlos of Portugal, died in Naples, February last where he fled after the revolution in Portugal which made King Manuel an exile of England.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, cousin of the duke gave him asylum and assigned to him a suite in the royal palace in Naples and an allowance of $10,000 a year.

The Duchess of Oporto was formerly Mrs. Philip Van Valkenburg, wife of the son of a New York banker whom she divorced in 1914. She was married to the duke in 1917. Her first husband was Joe Agnew, of Chicago, from whom she was divorced in 1906. In that year she married William Hays Chapman, 75 years old. He died about a year later leaving her his estate valued at $200,000.
