SHAMROCK WINS DAY'S RACE

35 seconds. If she keeps gaining in proportion to the other two legs she will overcome her handicap and win the race.

Resolute Takes Lead
RANDY HOOK, July 20.—(A. P.)—Lipton's challenger, the Shamrock IV, sailed over the starting line ahead of the defender Resolute in today's race for the American cup. A few minutes after the start the Resolute took the lead.

The Shamrock led across the line at the start. The official starting time of the Shamrock was 12:15:48; the Resolute 12:16:26. The Resolute passed the Shamrock to the leeward at 12:22, shortly after 1 o'clock the defender was more than a quarter of a mile ahead. The Resolute ran into a sort of spot soon after and the Shamrock drew up, finally passing the defender and going into the lead.

MRS. HARDING KNOWS NEWSBOYS ON 'STAR'

MARION, O., July 20.—(A. P.)—Many women of Marion, girlhood acquaintances, friends or chums of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the republican nominee for the presidency, are enthusiastic over the possibility that she may reside at the White House. They say she is well fitted for the duties of a president's wife because "she has a mind of her own, generally manages to get what she wants, is thoroughly democratic, likes to give and go to parties, is interested in a hundred and one things, knows how to talk to every one including men and once she knows you 'always knows you'."

Some Marion residents say that Mrs. Harding has contributed in important ways to Mr. Harding's success in life.

Abie Horsewoman.

Mrs. Harding was born here, August 15, 1860 and was reared in this city where she attended grammar and high schools. Afterwards she studied music at the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music. As Florence Kling, daughter of Amos Kling, banker and one of the most wealthy men in Marion, she is described by a girlhood friend, Mrs. Margaret Younkens, as "one of the best horsewomen I have ever seen. She rode and drove more like a man than a girl," said Mrs. Younkens, who said she was more accustomed in those days to seeing Florence Kling, riding and driving up the street on Billy her saddle horse, than walking with the other girls of her social circle. Other girlhood friends of Mrs. Harding told of the times when they used to "pile into Florence's phaeton and ride with perfect confidence behind her speedy Billy."

Helped With Paper.

Florence Kling was married to Warren G. Harding, then a now newspaper publisher, on July 8, 1891 in their present home in Mount Vernon Avenue, Marion. For more than 12 years, until illness prevailed, Mrs. Harding was circulation manager of the Star, her husband's newspaper. In addition she was the registration bureau for complaints, advertising manager and angel to the newspaper.

SHANGHAI WILL HAVE AMERICAN COMMUNITY CENTER IN FIVE YEARS

SHANGHAI, July 20.—(A. P.)—Results that had been attained by the first of June in the campaign for funds to build an American school in Shanghai made it possible to announce that the project to build not only a school but in connection with it an American community center would be carried out. The initial outlay covering a five-year program is to be something over $500,000 and the school is to open the new school in September, 1921.

For the past 25 years American missions have maintained an American school, but as at present, it is housed poorly in several dwelling houses and has been held to be inadequate. It is the purpose of those behind the project to establish in Shanghai a small civic area which architecturally, in appearance and in all of its details will be essentially American. The new school will be governed by a board on which American missions and American business interests in Shanghai will be equally represented.

DRY DELEGATES ISSUE CHALLENGE TO HARDING

LINCOLN, July 20.—(U. P.)—With the arrival of National Chairman Hinshaw and scattering delegates, the national prohibition convention took on aspects of a real political gathering. The prospects of the prohibition ticket presidential ticket went higher when Hinshaw announced in order to pull a solid prohibition vote, Harding, the republican nominee, must in his speech of acceptance promise to use his power if elected to both enforce and maintain the eighteenth amendment.

TWO CONSTABLES ARE SHOT DEAD IN RIOT

LONDON, July 20.—Two constables were shot dead 19 miles from Galway, after which police sacked the town, setting fire to houses and burning the town hall, according to a news dispatch from Dublin today.

ROBBERS GET $20,000.

MINNEAPOLIS, North Dakota, July 20.—(A. P.)—Five men early today held up and robbed the bank of Oregon and escaped with twenty thousand cash and liberty bonds. The vault and safe were wrecked.

TRIBES HOSTILE TO FRANCE

BEIRUT, Syria, July 20.—(A. P.)—The Bedouin tribes of Northern Mesopotamia have formed a coalition against the French, while Belsal, head of the Syrian state, is endeavoring to organize the bandits west of Aleppo into a movement against the French. Clashes between the Arabs and French are expected soon and the situation is tense. The Lebanon legislative assembly is reported to have agreed secretly with Faisal that autonomous Lebanon shall be part of the Syrian kingdom.

CHAMBER VOTES CONFIDENCE.

PARIS, July 20.—(A. P.)—The chamber of deputies voted confidence in government today on results of the conference at Spa between the allied chiefs and the representatives of Germany.

A HEALTHY, HAPPY WIFE is the greatest inspiration a man can have, and the life of the family, yet how many homes in this fair land are blighted by the ill health of wife and mother?

It may be headache, headaches, the gripes or a displacement, or some ailment peculiar to her sex which makes life a burden. Every woman in this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, to restore her to health and happiness.

THEY'RE MOPPING BROWS-- AND BUYING FUR COATS

BY "MARJORIE"
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, July 20.—Winter furs are selling in July like hot cakes in January. There's a reason. Furriers have made Milady believe that the July price tag is a few bits shy of the same arithmetical adornment in the winter time. It may be true and again it may not, but the fact is that the sales force which handles these organs and volles is having a three weeks' vacation while the poor microcents whose lot is cast in the Hudson seal and ermine alcove mop bedewed brows as they shove North Pole garb at Gotham maid and matron. There was a not long ago day when Milady New York would have emerged from the shop into the torrid zone of Fifth avenue or Broadway all swaddled in her new fur purchase, but this year fur salesmen say that "women are showing a little horse sense," and storing their prematurely purchased garments in vaults where neither dust nor moth doth corrupt, nor thieves break in and steal.

It may be true that womankind is using sense in her fur purchases of this year, but cents have nothing to do with this case. Yesterday's Hudson seal doleman that went for a song and seven hundred bucks and ninety cents is now an even thousand. Is there a cut in H. C. L.? If so, furriers were misled when the information was passed about. For, whether it be a seal from Greenland's icy mountain or a mongoose from India's coral strand, four figures and maybe more are required to express its value.

Hues Brilliant.
But, to give even a furrier his due (and we wager much will be due him for some time), never have furs been lovelier and more varied. Even accessories as linings or fasteners surpass in fabric and hue those of any former year. The past year's craze for the oriental is persisting into the next and linings are Dardanella or Carmen-like in gorgeousness. Metal brocades, gold and silver embroideries, heavy satin ribbons, and metallic laces in Algerian blue, Chinese red, or Cloopatra green, line all winter furs from seal to leopard.

Donside coats with fitted sleeves are still unknown in the fur realm. The prominent cut is that of the full cape flaring from the shoulder, unbelted, and with Mandarin sleeves. The dolman coat cut straight from shoulder to hem and unbelted is another prime favorite. The modish long-waisted effect was shown at a fur revue by a coat of mole with waist extending well below the hips, from which hung a skirt of two pleated flounces. Another novel effect was shown in an ermine model with three scalloped shoulder capes. Narrow, scalloped bands of ermine overlapped all the capes onto the main cape foundation.

Dolmans of Fur.
Many big, wrappy dolmans of gray squirrel or mole are shown. These have long, straight back panels blouse, a la Russian at the waist. Back and sleeve are cut into a flaring cape effect falling unbelted from cuff to hem. The most expensive wrap upon display—so expensive that the exhibitor would not name his price—was of tiny ermine, skins arranged so as to form a huge spider web in front and back. The cape was barrel-shaped, the increased width of the body being effected by a flaring circle of spider webs. Another novelty was made of sable. The skins were run from the neck into a deep border at the hem, then reversed and run about the bottom so as to form a contrasting shade.

Hudson seal coats of thirty-six length remain the good old standby. Contracting bands of squirrel, Canadian marten, or Australian opossum are used lavishly with seal. For sport wear are shown short box coats of leopard trimmed with seal, or chic, short coats of mole or squirrel with fitted lines. White furs are taboo with the exception of ermine which is really its fall must only be worn at the right place at the right time.

SHAMROCK WILL GIVE 7 MINUTES ALLOWANCE

SANDY HOOK, July 20.—Shamrock IV, British challenger for the America cup, was required to give Resolute, American defender, a time allowance of seven minutes and one second in today's race, the regatta committee of the New York Yacht club announced last night. This increase of 21 seconds over the previous allowance followed the granting of the application of the Lipton craft for permission to use a larger club sail.

doubt then the ability of fresh developments to make any marked impression on values at this time or at least until a further recovery reverses the technical foundation.

Oats—Selling pressure was feature in this pit throughout the session and there was surprise that prices did not recede further. This seemed to emphasize a healthy technical condition. Spot premiums were well maintained at 6c to 7c over July for No. 2 white and 3 to 4 cents over for No. 3 white. Crop reports continue very favorable as far as oats are concerned and many private authorities are now estimating larger yields than suggested in the July 1 government report.

(From Overbeck & Cooke Co.)
NEW YORK, July 20.—There was a marked improvement in the tone of the stock market today. The wage award on the railroad labor board was made public early and while it was hinted that the railroad brotherhoods may make strike threats still it is believed that no actual labor trouble will develop. Quite naturally it is believed that I. C. C. will announce a sharp increase in freight rates in the near future. Call money was in more liberal supply in this district today and it is believed that the peak of the money strain has been reached for the present at least. The rather well liquidated condition of the general stock market would seem to make advisable to pursue the buying side at favorable opportunities, particularly as we are impressed with the idea that the railroad shares will in all probability lead the market in the next swing in prices.

Credit System

The credit to a working man today is nothing but a draw back to the amount of his saving. It would be a favor for you to ask any one of your neighbors who pay cash at a cash store about their savings, and if they would return to the old credit system.

When you turn to the cash paying plan, do your trading at a cash store, and not at a credit store. The same old credit prices that has held you from making a saving for so many years will soon be forgotten and success will await you, for to save is half the way.
