GOV. COOLIDGE IS TOLD OF NOMINATION

government, foment discord, aggravate industrial strife, strife production and ultimately stir up revolution. The first duty of the government is to rescue them from all the reaction of the war.

"To a free people the most reactionary experience, short of revolutionary war, is war. The greatest need of the nation at the present time is to be rescued from all the reaction of the war.

"The property of the nation is in the hands of the people when it is under their ownership and control. It is true that the control of a part of the property taken for war purposes has been returned, but there hangs over private enterprise still the menace of seizure, blighting in its effect, paralyzing in its result, to the public detriment. But it matters not whether property be taken by seizure or through the process of taxation for extravagant and unnecessary expenditures, there should be an end to both operations. Either the people must own the government or the government will own the people."

Class Distinctions

"Another source of the greatest public concern has been the reactionary tendency to substitute private will for the public will. The observance of the law is the greatest solvent of public ill."

"There is yet another manifest disposition which has prevailed on the weakness of the race from its infancy, the attempt to create class distinctions. There are no classes here. The government must look at the part in the light of the whole, that legislation must be directed not for private interest but for public welfare."

"The mounting prices of all sorts of commodities has put a wellnigh unbearable burden on every home. Much of this is beyond relief from law, but the forces of the government can and must afford a considerable remedy."

"The most obvious place to begin retrenchment is by eliminating the extravagance of the government itself. The extravagant standards bred of recent years must be eliminated. This should show immediately in reduced taxation. That great breeder of public and private extravagance, the excess profits tax, should be revised and recourse had to customs taxes on imports, one of the most wholesome of all means of raising revenue."

"There has been profiteering. It should be punished because it is wrong. But it is idle to look to such action for relief."

"As everyone knows now, the difficulty is caused by a scarcity of material, an absence of money and insufficient production. The government must reduce the amount of money as fast as possible, without curtailing necessary credits. Production must be increased."

"One of the chief hindrances to production is lack of adequate railroad facilities. Transportation must be reestablished. A few glaring instances in the past of improper management, joined with an improper public attitude thereby created, wrought great harm to our railroads. Government operation left them disintegrated, disorganized and demoralized. They must be provided with credit and capital and given the power to serve. Their employees must be compensated in accordance with the great importance of the service they render."

"There must be a different public attitude toward industry, a larger comprehension of the interdependence of capital, management and labor and better facilities for the prompt and reasonable adjustment of industrial disputes. The farmers need an enlarged power of organization whereby the original producer may profit to a larger degree by the high prices paid for his produce by the ultimate consumer, and at the same time decrease the cost of food. The economic strength of the country rests on the farm."

1914 Is Gone

"Of all things a return to a peace basis, does not mean the basis of 1914. That day is gone. It is a peace basis of the present, higher, nobler, because of the sacrifice made and the duties assumed. It is not a retreat, it is a new summons to advance. Dismantling resources warn us of the necessity of conservation. The public domain is the property of the public. It is held in trust for present and future generations. The material resources of our country are very great, but they are not inexhaustible. Whenever in the future this nation undertakes to assess its strength and resources, the largest item will be the roll of those who served her in every patriotic capacity in the world war. The presence of the living example of the dead will ever stand guaranty of the stability of our republic. Duty compels that the progress so freely made, be speedily redeemed. Care of

DEPENDENTS, RELIEF FROM DISTRESS, RESTORATION FROM INFIRMITY, PROVISION FOR EDUCATION, HONORABLE RETIREMENT IN THE PUBLIC SERVICE, A HELPING HAND EVERYWHERE ARE THEIRS, NOT AS A FAVOR, BUT BY RIGHT.

Education

"Able opportunity for education at public expense, reasonable hours of employment, always under sanitary conditions, a fair and always a living wage for faithful work, healthful living conditions, childhood and motherhood cherished, honored, rescued from the grasp of all selfishness and rededicated to the noblest aspiration of the race, these are not socialist vagaries, but the mark of an advancing American civilization, revealed in larger social justice, tempered with an abounding mercy."

For Colored Right

"There is especially due to the colored race a more general recognition of their constitutional rights. Surely they hold the double title of citizenship, by birth and by conquest, to be defended from all imposition, to be freely granted equal opportunities. Equal suffrage, for which it has always voted, is coming. The party stands pledged to use its endeavors to hasten ratification."

"The foreign relations of our country ought not to be partisan, but American."

For Immediate Peace

"The country cannot be securely restored to a peace basis in anything until a peace is first made with those with whom we have been at war. Our party stands pledged to make an immediate peace as soon as it is given power by the people. The proposed league of nations, without reservations, as submitted by the president to the senate, met with deserved opposition from the Republican senators."

"We shall search in vain in legislative halls, executive mansions and chambers of judiciary for the greatness of the government of our country. We shall behold there but a reflection, not a reality; successful in proportion to accuracy. In a free republic a great government is the product of a great people. The destiny, the greatness of America lies around the hearthstone, if thrift and industry are taught there and the example of self sacrifice oft appears, if honor abide there, and high ideals, if there the building of fortune be subordinate to the building of character. America will live in security, rejoicing in an abundant prosperity and good government at home, and in peace, respect and confidence abroad. If these virtues be absent, there is no power that can supply these blessings. Look well then to the hearthstone, therein all hope of America lies."

ROADS DRAFT WAYS TO RAISE THE CASH

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Alfred P. Thom, representative from the railroad circuit, will go before the Interstate Commerce Commission tomorrow or next day with a proposition as to how the $200,000,000 additional revenue is to be raised to meet the wage increases granted by the Labor Board. The public will have to make up the extra tax on the carriers by paying higher freight, passenger and sleeping car bills.

It looks now as if the levy would be divided on a fifty-fifty basis between freight and passenger patrons. It is estimated that by adding one-

TRAFFIC, ACCOUNTING AND LEGAL EXPERTS REPRESENTING THE EASTERN, WESTERN AND SOUTHERN ROADS HAVE BEEN IN SESSION HERE ALL DAY, WORKING ON THE PROPOSITION TO BE SUBMITTED BY MR. THOM.

The Transportation Act permits the carriers to have a certain amount over and above their operating expenses. The roads have asked for an increase of about 8 per cent, this being in addition to the 23 per cent already requested under the provisions of the Transportation Act.

Traffic, accounting and legal experts representing the Eastern, Western and Southern roads have been in session here all day, working on the proposition to be submitted by Mr. Thom.

The Transportation Act permits the carriers to have a certain amount over and above their operating expenses. The roads have asked for an increase of about 8 per cent, this being in addition to the 23 per cent already requested under the provisions of the Transportation Act.

To take in that amount the roads would have to add 28 per cent to their freight charges. This proposition is now under consideration by the Interstate Commerce Commission, and the general impression is that the request will be granted.

To this must be added about 16 per cent more to cover the increases provided for by the Labor Board. The roads do not want to collect the additional 44 per cent from freight rates but would make passengers pay at least 8 per cent of it, leaving 36 per cent to come from freight.

There was a proposition to take the passenger increase from the Eastern and Southern roads and not touch those of the West, but a later plan is to make an even increase of one-half cent per mile.

PHONE OPERATORS REFUSE TO PARADE EAST COAST

BOSTON, July 27.—While Gov. Coolidge has said nothing in regard to the invitation of the Boston Central Labor Union to review the Labor Day, it is considered extremely doubtful that he will do so. In the first place, 900 of the old Boston policemen who went on strike will have the right of the line and again the members of the Telephone Operator's Union have said that if Gov. Coolidge is to review the parade they will not participate. Gov. Coolidge is still in Vermont, but it is said that a way will be found out of the difficulty, probably by saying that he has an important engagement elsewhere.

MAJOR MOORHOUSE IS INVITED TO PAGEANT

Major Leo Moorhouse today received an invitation from Mrs. Ada Losh Rice to assist in the costume and training of characters in the Lewis & Clark historical pageant which will be staged at Seaside on August 13 and 14. Seaside is at the end of the Lewis & Clark trail and the city preserves the original salt flats where the explorers made salt from Pacific ocean water in 1805.

The pageant is to be somewhat similar to that which was put on at Laurelhurst in Portland last year, at which Major Moorhouse assisted. Thousands of people are expected to be at the

FAMOUS DANISH ARTIST PORTRAYS ANGUISH OF RUSSIA

LONDON—Anxious to see what Bolshevism Russia is really like, London has been flocking to the exhibition of paintings by the famous Danish artist, Edward Saltoft, who was chief of the Danish Red Cross in Petrograd from 1916 to 1919. Photos of two Saltoft paintings, printed by courtesy of Ernest Brown and Phillips of the Leicester Art Galleries, London, portray: Left—A Prison Scene; Right—The Cry of the Revolution. Inset is Saltoft.
