MISS RAYMOND IS BRIDE
Although no announcement has yet been made here, Pendleton friends are learning of the marriage of Miss Helen Raymond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Raymond, to Mr. H. S. McKenzie. Miss Raymond, accompanied by her mother, departed a week ago for Portland and the coast. Dr. McKenzie left Monday and the wedding was an event of Wednesday.

No announcement of the betrothal was made and the news reaching Pendleton comes as a surprise—and an interesting one because of the popularity of the bride and her husband.

Miss Raymond's parents are well known Umatilla county pioneers and she attended Pendleton schools before going to New York to attend The Castle on the Hudson. After her graduation from the finishing school Miss Raymond attended Whitman college in Walla Walla. She is the possessor of a delightful soprano voice.

Dr. McKenzie formerly practiced medicine and surgery in Pocatello, Oregon, and after war service he remained in the East to become an eye, ear nose and throat specialist. He came to Pendleton during the past year and is practicing here with offices in the Schmidt building.

Friends are anticipating the return of Dr. and Mrs. McKenzie to Pendleton. They are to make their home in the Security apartments.

There is Only One Kind of Furniture Worthwhile

Furniture should be more than a mere combination of wood and upholstery. It should also embody the element of good looks, comfort and service-giving, as well as have distinct personality of its own. The craftsman who designs and builds the furniture should be working toward an ideal of quality. Then the store that is to handle it should be as careful of its ideals of selling as was the maker in manufacturing. These thoughts come to us as we view the showing of good furniture on the floors here—well chosen, well made, certain to give the comfort that you have right to expect, and to prove more than a mere combination of wood, cloth, nails, screws and glue.

We represent such houses as Sligh Co. Bed Room Furniture, Scandia Dining Room Furniture, Levin Bros. Overstuffed Living Room Furniture, Mandel Photograph, Withals "Angelo-Persian Rugs," Marshall Fields Colonial Draperies, Globe Warnick Book Cases, Hoover's Electric Carpet Cleaner, Copper Clad Range and Seller's Kitchen Cabinet.
