

People Here and There

Mr. and Mrs. Max Gorkie left on No. 17 today for Portland where they will observe the Jewish New Year holidays, beginning at sundown on Sunday evening. The New Year festival is known as Rosh Hashanah and its date this year is Sept. 13, the observance starting with sundown of the previous day. It is the first of a series of holidays lasting for nearly a month. Yom Kippur, day of atonement, is to be observed from sunset Sept. 21 to sunset Sept. 22. With Mrs. Gorkie's sister as their guest, Mr. and Mrs. Gorkie will return here on Sept. 23 to spend the three days of the Round-Up.

Past exalted ruler of La Grande lodge of Elks and state representative from Union county are two of the officers held by Colon Eberhard, of La Grande, who with Mrs. Eberhard and their family, spent the night here last night. The Eberhards were on their way home from a vacation taken by motor and left this morning on the last lap of their journey.

The fine arts of camera craft and fishing were given a full month's attention by Bob Saunders, local barber and sportsman, who returned last night from Seaside where he passed his vacation in company with a friend from Walls Walla. "All we did was take pictures, fish and camp," Mr. Saunders said today. He whipped the Neacum for trout, caught sea perch by casting lines in the surf and cod from the pier at Seaside. Besides bringing back a fine coat of tan, Mr. Saunders expects to have some of the best outfit pictures and nature photography seen in Pendleton in quite a while to show to his friends.

Clark E. Nelson, state manager for the Equitable Life Insurance Co., with headquarters in Portland, arrived this morning for a few days' stay here to look after business interests centering in Pendleton.

Sleep was a much needed commodity after the Labor Day celebration in Baker, as local merry-makers who returned Tuesday in a day coach will testify. Bob Fletcher, however, was able to catch a few winks, and managed it by climbing into the suitcase racks above the seats in the train. Bob says he didn't mind snoozing in an upper berth and believes he has found the answer to the high Pullman rates.

The first pilot to make flight from Pendleton was Archie Roth, who is a Pendleton visitor today. Mr. Roth took hundreds of local people aloft when he made the flights. He usually travels via the clouds but this time he came here by train to make arrangements for air delivery of the Oregon Journal during Round-Up.

E. C. Snapp and family, residents of Helix, were business visitors to Pendleton today.

Bert Jerard returned this noon on No. 17 from a two days' trip to La Grande on business.

S. D. Peterson, of Milton, is in Pendleton today on legal business.

Carl Engdahl, who farms at Helix, is in Pendleton today, having completed harvest operations for the season.

bearish color, and demand for cash corn was sluggish and although receipts were small, prices were quoted 1-2 cent to 1 cent lower. Numerous messages from the country told of a keen desire to sell the old corn in the country and also reported contracting for new corn at much lower prices than prevailing now. Western markets were liberal purchasers in the country on overnight bids. Fair weather with continued mild temperatures predicted for the next few days. The latest upturn having been brought about mainly at the expense of the short interest and developments having turned somewhat in favor of lower prices, we expect to see a further down-turn.

Oats—Had a strong undertone early in the day but the advance was checked by the appearance of profit taking sales in good volume. The cash market started strong on an active shipping demand but lost the advance and closed easy. The government report was construed as bearish and private reports are to the effect that the final result will be even larger than this report indicated. Buyers—Buying of houses with sea-board connections took the surplus off the market early and was responsible for the advance. Cash was firmer with sales No. 2 on track at two cents over Sept. The recent response to export buying was quite complete and it is likely that a further reaction will be experienced.

(From Overbeck & Cooke Co.)

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Action of the market today was gratifying to those maintaining an air of confidence with respect to future trend of values. In certain groups, like the chemicals, oils and other specialties pronounced price betterment was recorded. Talk that the United Fruit Co. would declare a stock dividend in the near future caused a sharp upturn in that stock and it had its effect on Amm. International corporation shares, this company, it being thought as having quite an interest in the United Fruit company, the improved outlook in Mexico is best reflected in the more confident buying that has been going on in the Mexican oil shares and the American Smelting and Refining stock of late.

Talk of an early segregation of coal properties by the D. L. & W. is responsible for the advance in this particular stock. It is believed that the Jersey Central, after the D. L. & W. plan is made known, will pursue a similar course and this in turn is followed by the Reading company in matters of segregation. The outstanding feature today was the slight recession in call money rates in the late afternoon. Reports from France indicate that shipments of gold from that country to this side during the current month may total one hundred million dollars. There are some who believe that should such volumes of shipments materialize it will serve to offset in great part the interior withdrawals for crop moving purposes and the shifting around by large interests to meet the tax payments next week. The action of the general stock market is strong indicative of a well liquidated condition in most departments.

INSIST ON GENUINE FORD PARTS

Imitation "Ford" parts are being sold by many mail-order houses, down-town stores and garages to unsuspecting Ford owners as "Ford" parts. But they are not Genuine Ford parts made by the Ford Motor Company. They are made by concerns who have no connection whatsoever with the Ford Motor Company. These imitation parts are not even made from the same grade of steel, or under the same formulas used by the Ford Company. They are counterfeit parts. Tests have shown them to break when the genuine Ford parts didn't even bend, and they generally are from thirty-five to one hundred per cent lower in quality.

The Authorized Ford Dealer is your protection. As such, we handle nothing but the Genuine Ford parts. They are made from the famous Ford Vanadium steel and each part—according to its use—is heat-treated in the way that will give it the longest wearing qualities. Every part is the same as its duplicate in your Ford car or Ford truck.

Our stock of parts is complete. And our Ford garage and Ford mechanics are at your service at all times. Drive in when replacements or repairs for your Ford car may be necessary. Save your car and also your money.
