

People Here and There

Norborne Berkeley Jr., a 1920 graduate of Pendleton high school went to Spokane and Cleveland, by way of the Walla Walla today on the first leg of his journey through the mazes of higher education. Young Berkeley will register as a freshman in Whitman college. He was prominent as a debater and in dramatics at Pendleton high last year and will follow the liberal arts courses in Whitman.

Thomas Jacques, of Pilot Rock, has struck pay dirt in his mining property near Grants which the mines expert of the Baker Herald says will run $125 a ton, according to Norborne Berkeley, who returned on No. 5 this morning from a visit to mines in which he is interested nearby. Several other good strikes have been made recently and the mining prospects of Baker and Grant counties are looking up. Mr. Berkeley spent several days in the mining country hard at work on his property and enjoyed the vacation as well as the brightening prospects.

the Northern Pacific this afternoon for Twin Cities. He is one of the Eastern Oregon delegates to the national convention of the legion opening next Monday at Cleveland and later will visit his former home at Marion, Ohio. Mr. Ideman plans to be absent for about two weeks on the trip.

Joe Elliott, well known horseman from the Athens region, came down today for the Round-Up with one of his fine saddle horses. Mr. Elliott is considered a first class horseman and will take part in the Round-Up parades, he said today.

Clarence Bishop, one of the owners of the Pendleton Woolen Mills, left on No. 18 Monday evening on a business trip east that will take him as far as New York City. He expects to be absent several weeks.

Edward J. Eivers, state adjutant for the American Legion, passed through here last evening on No. 18, en route to Cleveland where he will be a delegate from this state to the second annual convention of the national organization.

Arthur S. Rudd, who graduated from Pendleton high school in May, left this noon for Portland, en route to Eugene, where he will register as a freshman in journalism next week. He has been home for the past 10 days visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rudd.

George Hasett leaves no doubt as to his politics. On returning from a trip through the northwest this morning, George was heard to remark "This is a democratic year. I've met a lot of Republicans and the majority will vote for Cox."

The Round-Up will offer a special field for recruiting duty and for this reason Captain Jay Ward MacKelvie will be here for all three days. Captain MacKelvie, who arrived this morning from the Portland recruiting office, will be joined later by Lieutenant Parr and four or five other army men. Captain MacKelvie's work takes him to five different states.

Ed Hines, night chief of the O. W. R. & N. yards at Rich, returned on No. 17 today from a trip east.

L. A. Menton, manager of the Simpson Tire Service Co., returned this morning from a short business trip to Spokane.

Pendleton is carrying its hospitality to extremes, think citizens who have passed the city hall. Over the main entrance to the building is a shield upon which is painted "Welcome" and under this must pass even those who are taken in on the strong arms of the police force. A few have already found a welcome there for five days.

George Root, president of the Hermitator Dairy and Hog show, is telling the world about the new hog pens which will delight visitors at the show in October. Mr. Root lies in the city today said that the show will be bigger and better than ever.

Back in Washington, D. C., way up in a high building which houses the headquarters of the forest service, Robert W. Thomas heard the call of the wild and came to Pendleton to see the west and to clerk in the local forest office. Mr. Thomas whose home is in Virginia, left yesterday for a few days' detail work in the Wenah forest office in Walla Walla but remarked before leaving that he would be back for Round-Up.

WINE-O

An occasional bottle during these strenuous days, will do much toward relieving the fatigue and nervous strain of the industrious housewife.

A bottle of WINE-O at dinner, also, will soothe the irritability of father, when he comes home and finds the house topsy-turvy.

Besides, it is good for the kiddies.

Keep a case of Wine-O in the house all the time.

CHILD RESCUED AFTER FATHER IS DROWNED

SALEM, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—Glen Sawyer was drowned while fishing in the Willamette river Sunday evening. His daughter, aged 7, was rescued from a floating rowboat from which her father fell into the water. Hearing the cries of the child, men on the river bank swam through the darkness to midstream and found the girl in the boat. Mary merely knew that "daddy fell into the river." It is supposed he lost his balance.

NEWS OF THE COUNTY OFFICES AND OFFICERS

Four Licenses Issued.
The approach of Round-Up speeded up marriage license business in the past 24 hours and four were issued by County Clerk Brown up to this afternoon. Fred A. Coffey, of Spokane, late Monday took a license to wed Miss Regina Stover, of Pendleton. Ed Hill, of Echo, was licensed to marry Miss Lucille Llewellyn, of Pendleton. Dillard D. York and Miss Helen Marie Dakin, of Milton, today took a license to be married there tomorrow. The other license this morning was issued to Julius Mash, of Huntington, and Miss Susie Henshaw, of Pendleton.

Hunter Case Being Tried

Testimony was heard in the case of the State vs. Robert Hunter before the circuit court jury this morning and arguments of attorneys taken up at 1:30 this afternoon. The case was expected to go to the jury this afternoon. Hunter is charged with larceny of a calf.

Three Youths Plead Guilty

Vernon Dakin, Raymond Kaser and Edgar Taylor, Freewater youths, plead guilty to the charge of larceny of an automobile when arraigned before Circuit Judge G. W. Phelps Monday afternoon in circuit court. The judge withheld passage of sentence on the boys and sent them home to their parents. It is reported that the boys took a car at Freewater for a short joy ride and returned it in good condition but that the owner insisted on taking their case before the grand jury.

Court Will Adjourn

No session of circuit court will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday on account of Round-Up. Judge Phelps intimated today that he would ask the legislature next year to change the date of the September term of court in this county on account of the annual interference of Round-Up with the opening week of the term.

Bill of Goods Alleged Due

Alexanders today filed suit against James Kanine to recover $583.45, which is alleged due and unpaid for goods and merchandise sold the defendant. Bailey, Riles & Sefvior and H. J. Warner represent the plaintiff.

Anderson Decree Signed

A decree of divorce has been handed down in the case of Velma Pearl Anderson vs. Clifford E. Anderson, giving to her the custody of their six-year-old daughter.

Walker Trial to Come Next

The trial of Alonzo Walker, charged with receiving stolen property, will be taken up late this afternoon or tomorrow morning in circuit court, following completion of the Robert Hunter case. Walker recently plead not guilty to the charge.

Marriage Principals Youthful

Four parties to four marriages issued Monday afternoon and this morning at the clerk's office were less than 20 years old. Two of the brides-elect gave their ages as 19, and another as 15 years and 11 months. One bride-room gave her age as 18 years and four months. Only one of the eight principals gave an age above 20.

Man Sues on Deserter Grounds.

Guy N. Wilson today filed suit for divorce from Gertrude Wilson, charging her with desertion. He asks the custody of their two minor children and a contract for purchase of a home in Pendleton. He is represented by James A. Fee. An order dismissing an action in which the wife was plaintiff and Wilson defendant was signed in circuit court today, that action having been settled by stipulation.

POLICE INSPECTOR DIES IN GUERRILLA WARFARE

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—Increasing frequency in clashes between Sinn Feiners and government forces indicated resumption of guerrilla warfare. Sporadic fighting between soldiers and Sinn Feiners took its death toll yesterday when Inspector Burke of the police was shot to death from ambush. His brother, Sergeant Burke, was seriously wounded. Fairly in the heart of the city, a mass of "republicans" descended upon a small party of soldiers. There was a sharp fight. Two soldiers and two citizens were wounded. There were minor clashes throughout the district.

Town Is Wrecked.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—(A. P.)—Police last night wrecked Halbrigan, a town near here, in retaliation for the killing of two police officers earlier in the evening.

Civilians Are Killed.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—(A. P.)—It is reported that two civilians were killed in the melee, a dairyman and a barber, dragged from their houses, bayoneted and shot. Twenty eight residences are reported to have been burned to the ground, including a number of houses belonging to prominent Sinn Feiners.

They Drive Out Terrorists.

DUBLIN, Sept. 21.—(U. P.)—General Macready, commanding British forces, intimated today that the government is considering driving out of Ireland "known terrorists" who are making all the trouble. Macready's statement followed two days of small skirmishing and ambushing, which resulted in the death of several royalists. "In the case of revolt," said Macready, "We are ready—perfectly ready. A small band of known terrorists is causing all the trouble and the day may come when we will have to make a definite clearance of them."

CALIFORNIA POLITICIAN DIES IN AUTO CRASH

LODI, Cal., Sept. 21.—(Lorin Handley, federal prohibition enforcement officer for California, one of the leading democratic politicians of the state was instantly killed at midnight when an automobile in which he was riding rolled into a ditch near Lodi.
