COX AGAIN CHARGES BUYING UP OF PAPERS

LINCOLN, Neb., Sept. 28.—(A. P.)—Charges of newspaper suppression of campaign facts were made here yesterday by Governor Cox of Ohio. He said that western newspapers had been "bought up" and declared that he would have to admit that there was a "deliberate and corrupt purpose to keep the facts from the people."

leged contributions by "big business" to the republican fund and also repeated his charges that republican agents were seeking to have republican newspapers suppress democratic views and hamper his campaign. Here in the home city of William J. Bryan, the governor re-stated his position on prohibition, declaring it was a "matter of law enforcement" and not a campaign issue. He pledged himself to enforcement of the constitution and the laws. He also repeated his stand on the Irish question.

Once Was Enough. "This sword is very old," said the curio dealer. "In fact, is more than 100 years old." "Indeed," said the customer.

"Aye. It came from the battle of Waterloo—that was in the year 1815, sir—and there's an anecdote goes with it." The customer listened patiently while the old man recounted the story. Then, at the conclusion, he returned the sword to its owner. "Thank you! That was very interesting and I quite enjoyed it," he replied kindly. "But unfortunately, I bought the same anecdote once before with an old musket."—Houston Post.

Good Baking

With the "Knack" Knocked Out

Good baking no longer depends upon "knack". The use of OLYMPIC Flour and a good recipe assures tasty and pleasing results—even to beginners. Housewives of experience proved it long ago.

That's another reason your grocer recommends OLYMPIC. It comes in 10, 24 and 49 1/2 pound sacks.

Cup Cakes for Luncheon

- 2 1/4 cups OLYMPIC Flour, (sifted before measuring).
- 2 1/4 teaspoons baking powder (level).
- 1 cup sugar.
- 1/2 cup shortening.
- Two thirds cup milk.
- 2 eggs.
- 1/4 teaspoon salt.
