Agitation Against America is Noticed Largely From Two Opposition Parties Hostile to Mikado's Regime.

CAMPAIGN AT HOME NO AID TO SOLUTION

Japanese Still Look to High Commission as Means to Win Argument Against Discriminatory Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(U. P.)—Differences between the United States and Japan over the proposed discriminatory land law in California against Japanese is being aggravated by Japanese politics, it is authoritatively stated today.

TOKIO, Sept. 29.—(U. P.)—Japanese officials are considering a plan to name a high commission as one of the possible means of composing Japanese-American relations, the foreign office declared today.

That the immigration question settled by the "gentlemen's agreement" is not involved in the present situation. The foreign office charged that Japanese and American newspapers are confusing the issue by injecting into it the immigration question.

While anti-American feeling is not now noticeable here, except in second-rate newspapers, officials speaking unofficially, admit there is a strong undercurrent among Japanese labor and it is gravely feared that demonstrations may occur on the passage of the law, which is to be voted upon by California in November.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.—(By Robert J. Bender, U. P. Staff Correspondent.)—Fifteen progressives, who joined with the Bull Moose party of 1912, have come out with an appeal for the support of Governor Cox for president.

"Today the independent voter is the hope of our nation and the protector of civilization. Let those who revere the memory of Roosevelt remember particularly that in the time when a Democratic administration under Wilson was adopting and writing into law the domestic policies of Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Harding was combating those policies as revolutionary and socialist, denouncing the author as a modern Aaron Burr."
