LEAGUE OF NATIONS ISSUE PUTS OREGON IN DOUBTFUL COLUMN FOR NOV. 2; JOHNSON'S VIEW A FACTOR

California Senator Says League is Dead if Harding is Elected; Many Believe He Knows Situation.

(By Ward A. Irvine) PORTLAND, Sept. 29.—The remaining weeks of the campaign will decide to which presidential candidate Oregon's electoral votes are to go. Today neither candidate could, with any degree of certainty, lay claim to the Oregon vote. The reason is the presence in the campaign of the League of Nations issue.

There are hundreds of Republicans who will vote for Cox on the progressive issue; they will vote for him because of his declarations in behalf of the farm loan system and the federal reserve as against the record of Harding in opposition to the farm loan act and of his backers in opposition to the federal bank. Hundreds of Republicans laborers will support the Ohio progressive. But the big issue, the issue that politicians say, means success or failure for Senator Harding is the League of Nations.

Republicans in Doubt There is more than a 100,000 Republicans majoring in Oregon. Thousands of these Republicans want to vote for Harding, not because they think he is a strong candidate—they don't—because he is Republican. On the other hand, they are strong for a League of Nations—they want to see war ended. It is a question with these Republicans of party or principle. And they are in sufficient majority to control the disposition of Oregon's electoral vote.

The next five weeks will disclose whether they will vote with their party or vote to end war. They are waiting for a word from Marion, a statement that will afford them an opportunity to vote for Harding with even a prospect that he will use his office to make America a member of the League of Nations. They abhor a separate peace, and criticize both the Senate and President Wilson for holding up the treaty.

As the days roll by, these wavering Republicans are given little hope of a League under Harding. At first, the support of Taft, Root, Wickersham and other friends of the League, along with Harding's vote for the treaty with reservations, gave them a glimpse of possible peace under Harding. Since however, the Ohio Senator has in his speech of acceptance, talked of a separate peace, then came the Hague Tribunal, pushed forward on a background of war that has bled the world since the court was established.

Johnson is Positive But the most discouraging and ominous feature of the entire campaign, and the one that is very seriously threatening to break the camel's back—perhaps has broken it—is the recent pronouncement of Senator Hiram Johnson. Last Saturday he boldly declared that "if Senator Harding is elected the League is dead." The League Republicans think Senator Johnson has reason to believe that Senator Harding intends to scrap the League. They think there is a distinct understanding between the presidential nominee and his foe of 1912 and of 1920. The statement of Senator Johnson reacts like dynamite among the League Republicans of Oregon.

They realize that this is the first chance the people of America have ever had to end war. They realize that the vote of the American people will be taken as a referendum on the League of Nations. They realize that Senator Harding will receive all the votes of those opposing the League, including the pro-Germans in America.

On the other hand, they recently heard Governor Cox pledge the entrance of America in the League with the reservations that will preserve American rights and sovereignty if he is elected. The Cox backers insist that the partisanship of the wavering Republicans will be swept aside in November and their votes cast to end the war for all time. Harding supporters smile when the League of Nations is suggested.

JAVA SUGAR COMES TO U. S. TOKIO, Sept. 22.—(A. P.)—Owing to scarcity of sugar in America large quantities of Formosan and Java crop are being exported to the United States by the Japanese refining concerns. During March and April about 40,000 tons of Java sugar were sold to foreign merchants and a further supply of nearly 40,000 tons of Formosan and Java sugar have been contracted for by the American merchants. The goods are to be delivered at New York, Seattle, San Francisco and other ports.

OGDEN HOME CONSUMED BY FIRE ON TUESDAY

(East Oregonian Special.) WESTLAND, Sept. 29.—The farm home of W. H. Ogden was completely destroyed by fire at noon Tuesday. Mr. Ogden was away from home when Mrs. Ogden discovered the fire, which caught from a stove pipe. Owing to the prompt arrival and heroic work of Mr. Shipley and his section crew who were at work near the place, most of the contents of the house were saved. The bunkhouse and engine were also destroyed.

The fire was rendered more serious by five tons of coal that were stored in an adjoining shed but this was saved by the neighbors forming a bucket brigade. Mr. Ogden came here in the spring, having bought a part of the Teel desert claim lying west of the river.

Haying in this neighborhood and on Butter creek is well underway and if the weather continues fair will soon be in the stack.

Mrs. W. J. Jackson has left for Caldwell, Idaho, where she will visit with her son, Peter Jackson, of that place. Ed Nunn and family, who have been residing in the canal house on Butter creek, left on Saturday for Eugene where they will make their future home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jackson and son Billie visited with Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. McPherson of Pendleton and also attended the Round-Up last Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Ellen McMartin who has spent the last ten days as the house guest of Mrs. F. B. Penneck, returned home Monday.

J. E. Hamer left Saturday for Portland and other valley points. He will be accompanied home by Mrs. Hamer, who has been in the valley for the past month.

Miss Gladys Ware visited relatives in Pendleton and attended the Round-Up last week-end. U. W. Shipley and family also attended the Round-Up.
