HOME KEPT CARS ARE OFTEN MISTREATED

Very often you can tell the fellow who keeps his car in his own garage by the condition of the fenders of his automobile. They are bent down somewhat or otherwise disfigured, because, in driving in or backing out of his garage, he has a habit of misjudging the distance between the fender and the door jamb. And before he can stop moving, the fender has been made to suffer.

Where the doorway is none too wide—a natural condition with the city man's garage, since he usually cannot make it any larger than necessary to barely squeeze the car in—it is a good idea to install guard rails in the corners of the door opening, or little concrete or wooden guiding blocks.

If a piece of husky piping is attached into each corner, it will serve as a guard against which the tire will strike if the car is run too close to the doorway. This will either have the effect of pushing the car over away from the side of the door or it will offer enough obstruction to the forward movement of the car to warn the driver in time to change the car's position. Obviously, these diagonal pipes would only be of advantage when entering the garage, being of no service when backing out.

The concrete or wooden blocks, however, are intended as backing-out protection, serving to guide the wheels in the path they should follow in order to clear the doorway sufficiently. They are of no special advantage when entering the garage, being opposite in their function to the diagonal pipe fenders mentioned above.

ORPHAN TRUCK MAN ROUNDS UP DOLLARS

A Michigan passenger car dealer, seeking to sell more service, despite fewer cars, and incidentally "feel out" the motor truck situation, observed a number of "orphan" trucks in his district which were of good design and constructed mainly from well-known standardized units. The dealer who had sold them had, for the most part, abandoned trucks or had taken on other lines and were giving only half-hearted service to the old owners. By making a study of their service needs and soliciting work in ads and circular letters, this dealer secured a number of "orphan" trucks for overhauling jobs and obtained from parts makers and dealers new units for several of the big jobs. While the early profits were not large, the experience demonstrated many opportunities and requirements of a good truck sales and service department, and the dealer found himself in a favorable position for his development with a good, strong make.

PROPERLY PARKED CAR WILL NOT LEAVE HILL

How many of you know how to park your car on a steep hill so that it will not slide down and hit something?

You will answer, "Sure, I know." Maybe you do know but do you do it?

The papers have chronicled several mishaps recently due to cars sliding down hills, driverless, and smashing into something or some one, and there is rarely an excuse for it, if the car is parked properly and necessary precautions taken.

The easiest way is always the best way, and it is so simple to park properly that none of us should be guilty of this neglect, that might cost a life or at least serious injury.

When you park on a hill, clinch the wheels into the curb, so that if the brakes do release the car will stand anyway. Also if the car is headed down hill place the gear shift lever in reverse and set the emergency brake. If the car is facing up hill, twist the front wheels so that the right front wheel clinches to the curb and place the gears in low speed and set the brakes.

SAILORS HAVE EXCITING TIME IN SOUTH SEAS

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Oct. 2.—(A. P.)—Two American sailors named W. V. Dawson and E. Clifton have reached here after exciting experiences in the South Seas. Their term of naval service expiring on the American island, Guam, they wedded native daughters of Uncle Sam's island and decided to take a honeymoon trip to Australia. They embarked in a 40 foot launch. Underestimating the distance they soon discovered that their food and fuel

NEW PREMIER RICH

PARIS.—The new premier of France, Georges Leygues, is a multi-millionaire in francs—and a millionnaire in dollars, too. He has held many cabinet offices, including minister of public instruction, of the interior, of the colonies, and as minister of the navy in the Clemenceau cabinet. He is now nearly 67.

EMBROIDERED FROCK

Such embroidery is done directly on the frock by hand as, for instance, this beautiful crepe de chine frock. But, of course, not all the embroideries are hand done. Machine embroideries will be more than ever used, especially in pattern sets.

was exhausted. Then came a typhoon. The fragile craft was wrecked and the four newly married young people were thrown upon a desert isle which they found entirely uninhabited.

There doubtless they would have continued a Robinson Crusoe type of existence had not a small Japanese trading vessel put in for water. They were rescued and taken on the former German island of Yap, where later they embarked on a Japanese naval steamer for Yokohama.

YOUNGER HANLEY WILL RETURN WITH LINEMAN

Myron Hanley, brother of Richard Hanley, high school athletic coach, who left here several days ago to enter North Central high in Spokane sent word yesterday evening that he had not found things as he had planned in that city and will return to Pendleton very soon. He also stated that he intended to bring with him Ed Meline, a big lineman, with two years' experience.

With this added material Pendleton should this year claim quite an important position in athletics in the state. Hanley was injured in a scrimmage at the high school before he left but expects to be in trim to enter one of the first games of the season. His position on the team will probably be that of quarterback.

Nervous Breakdown

"I am so nervous it seems as though I should fly"—"My nerves are all on edge"—"I wish I were dead." How often have we heard these expressions or others quite as extravagant from some loved one who has been brought to this state by some female trouble which has slowly developed until the nerves can no longer stand up under it. No woman should allow herself to drift into this condition without giving that good old-fashioned root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

North East, Md.—"I was in ill health four or five years and doctored with one doctor after another but none helped me. I was irritable and had such terrible pain in my back, lower part of my body and down each side that I had to go to bed three or four days every month. I was very nervous, tired, could not sleep and could not eat without getting sick. A friend asked me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am sorry I did not take it sooner for it has helped me wonderfully. I don't have to go to bed with the pain, can eat without being sick and have more strength. I recommend your medicine and you are at liberty to publish my testimonial."

Minneapolis, Minn.—"I was run down and nervous, could not rest at night and was more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. I have two children, the youngest three months old and it was drudgery to care for them as I felt so irritable and generally worn out. From lack of rest and appetite my baby did not get enough nourishment from my milk so I started to give him two bottle feedings a day. After taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman, full of life and energy. It is a pleasure to care for my children, and I am very happy with them and feel fine. I nurse my baby exclusively again, and can't say too much for your medicine."
