We have assembled a stock of Fall Blouses that anticipate every demand you could make upon it—models in uncommon expressions of the mode. As for the prices, the following are fair specimens chosen from our assortments and tell their own story.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES

Most of these charming dresses are miniature reproductions of women's styles—very beautiful and practical in every way. CONTROL OF SENATE BOUGHT SAYS DANIELS

REIDSVILLE, N. C., Oct. 2.—(A. P.)—Asserting that the republican party did not "win" control of the senate in 1918 but "bought it," Secretary Daniels declared in address today that "never before have the hopes and desires of the American people been frustrated by purchase of control in the senate."

The republican majority is "today out on bail," Mr. Daniels said, adding that "as soon as the supreme court acts, it will be in the penitentiary."

"But for the purchase of a seat in the senate from Michigan," the secretary declared, "the republicans could not have organized the senate, could not have packed the foreign relations committee against the league of nations; could not have packed the finance committee against any reduction in taxes, and could not have packed other committees against any legislation looking to the reduction of the cost of living. By means of this slender and corrupt majority, every measure looking to world peace and world stability and national development has been frustrated."

OREGON GAME TO MARK HOMECOMING AT O. A. C.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Oct. 2.—The annual alumni homecoming will be held the week-end of the Oregon game, November 20, the greater O. A. C. committee has announced. The biggest and jolliest celebration ever held in the history of O. A. C. is also the plan of those in charge.

The alumni will be entertained at the various fraternities and will be given an alumni luncheon. The varsity "O" dance in the evening after the game is being planned. It is to be an elaborate affair this year, according to the committee, although the plans are not complete.

All fraternities and clubs will be asked to cooperate with the greater O. A. C. committee and announce the event to their own alumni. Fifteen hundred of the old grads are expected to wend their way back to the campus for a few days, to renew acquaintances, take part in the celebrations, and look over the new crop of students. University of Oregon will send at least 1000 as an escort to their football team, according to the estimates this year.
