GREAT CLOTHES BUNDLE IS SENT FROM HERE

One thousand seven hundred twenty pounds of clothing for the relief of Armenian sufferers this winter were shipped from Pendleton to headquarters at Portland on Saturday, according to report from Joseph N. Scott, county chairman. Yesterday sufficient more to total 1900 pounds was forwarded.

Good reports from all the towns in the county have been received and the success of the appeal has been gratifying to the officers in charge. Attention sent 284 pounds of clothing and in this was a box of new garments valued at $40 given by the J. C. Penney store. Cash collections of $11.50 were also received in that city.

The Peoples Warehouse donated buttons for all garments that had buttons missing. Penland Brothers gave their services also in shipping the bundles. Bundles were received at the Peoples Warehouse, Alexanders, Bonds and the Christian Church here.

THREE ARE NAMED TO LEAD R. C. ROLL CALL

C. K. Cranston, secretary of the Pendleton Commercial Association, was yesterday chosen by L. C. Scharpf, county board of health chairman, as county head of the Red Cross membership roll call, which opens November 11, Armistice Day and closes November 25, Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Cranston was chairman last year and his work was noteworthy.

Mrs. Sylvia G. Colin was chosen as Pendleton chairman and Mrs. Fred Dohmert as head of publicity throughout the county. Both are prominent in civic work in the city. Mr. Cranston will choose other leaders for the campaign in various parts of Umatilla county.

The Umatilla county membership quota is 4,000. The present membership is 7,321 when number enrolled last year. Because of adverse weather conditions, the campaign last year failed to bring in 10,000 memberships, the former total for Umatilla.

Besides seeking the $1 membership fee, workers will ask for donations to the Red Cross. This is for the purpose of building up funds which were greatly depleted during the influenza epidemic last year.

MAN WHO ACCIDENTALLY SHOT HUNTER JOINS CONVERTS AT CHURCH

TAKIMA, Wash., Oct. 12.—(A. P.) Ralph Lyons, Sunday school teacher, accidentally shot and killed Arthur Bulgin, son of Rev. E. J. Bulgin, while hunting Saturday morning, was among 100 converts who responded to the evangelist's invitation at Sunday night's tabernacle meeting in Sunnyside, Rev. Mr. Bulgin called for silence and publicly exonerated Mr. Lyons from blame for the tragedy, which he declared purely accidental. Many members of the congregation burst into sobs as the evangelist welcomed Mr. Lyons into the church. The body of Arthur Bulgin will be sent to Portland for burial, it was stated today.

Lives to See the Prescription He Wrote in 1892 the Worlds Most Popular Laxative Remedy

DR. W. B. CALDWELL TODAY
Born Shelbyville, Mo., March 27, 1839
Began the manufacture of his famous prescription in 1892.

Founder of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, long past Biblical old age, but hale and hearty—Still sees patients daily—Wonderful achievement of a "country doctor."

WHEN I started to practice medicine, back in 1875, there were no pills or tablets or salt waters for the relief of constipation, and no artificial remedies made from coal tar.

The prescription for constipation that I used early in my practice, and which I put in drug stores in 1892 under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a liquid remedy, and I have never had reason to change it. I intended it for women, children and elderly people, and these need just such a mild, safe, gentle bowel stimulant as Syrup Pepsin.

I am gratified to say that under successful management my prescription has proven its worth and is now the largest selling liquid laxative in the world. The fact that over eight million bottles were sold by druggists last year proves that it has won the confidence of mothers whose chief interest is the health of their children.

It is particularly pleasing to me to know that the biggest half of those eight million bottles were bought by mothers for themselves and the children, though Syrup Pepsin is just as valuable for grownups. The price of a bottle holding 50 average treatments is sixty cents; such a bottle will last a family several months.

I have never made a secret of what is in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. These ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia. I consider Syrup Pepsin today in the serious 82nd year of my age, as I did in 1892, the best remedy a family can have in the house for the safe relief of constipation and its accompanying ills, such as headaches, biliousness, flatulence, indigestion, loss of appetite and sleep, bad breath, dyspepsia, colds and fevers.

Millions of families are now never without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and I believe if you will once start using it you will also always have a bottle handy for emergencies.

JOE CANNON SUFFERS FRACTURE OF WRIST

DANVILLE, Ill., Oct. 12.—(A. P.)—Congressman Joseph G. Cannon, 84, suffered considerable pain last night from the fracture of one of the bones of his left wrist at his home here Sunday evening.

The injury was received when he stepped on a piece of coal in the basement and fell on his arm.

LOVE AND THE LIGHT OF MORNING
(By Frank L. Stanton)
A shelter rude and a crust of bread
But your hand in mine on the way I tread,
And the red blooms over the roses dead,
And Love, and the light of Morning!

A sorrow, thrilling the lonely years,
But your smile like light in a rain of tears,
And your sweet firm faith, and your whispered prayers,
And Love, and the light of Morning!

And so we mingle, and so we meet,
And shall—till the journey, at last complete,
We rest with the beautiful dreams and sweet
In Love, and the light of Morning!

ALL REPUBLICAN SUGGESTIONS HEADED

BEFORE the final draft of the League of Nations covenant was completed four amendments suggested by William Howard Taft were written into the covenant at the request of President Wilson.

Five out of seven amendments suggested by Charles Evans Hughes were likewise adopted.

Five out of six amendments suggested by Elihu Root were put into the covenant.

These facts were brought out by Governor Cox in a statement published Monday morning and last evening. The statement shows that not one single suggestion received from a responsible source went unheeded. On the contrary, most of the suggestions made were adopted almost verbatim. To prove his statement Governor Cox submitted copies of nine cablegrams that passed between Taft and Wilson during the conference. They cannot be disputed.

These facts shatter the false claim that the league covenant was drafted by President Wilson single handed and that he shunned the aid of other Americans. He had the assistance of the best minds in the republican party. In the delegation with the president at Versailles was the former republican ambassador to France.

No suggestions for changes in the covenant were by any republican senators. This despite the fact that the final draft was made after the president met with the members of the senate foreign relations committee at the white house and frankly asked for counsel. The senators refused to help because a group of majority members led by Lodge and Warren Harding were in a conspiracy to fight the treaty for political motives. The facts are plain and must be evident to any one who has followed the news without prejudice.

On November 2 it will be up to the American people to take their choice between those who support a president who devoted brilliant talent and all but gave up his life for the great cause of peace and progress and a senatorial cabal that was false to a sacred trust in a tragic hour and whose candidate for president now seeks by misrepresentation and appeal to prejudice, to undermine the most magnificent move ever devised for mankind.

GOOD IDEALS ARE MOST PRACTICAL

DISCUSSING the presidential campaign the Portland Oregonian offers this glass diamond of wisdom: THE NATION, LIKE THE MAN, WHICH ATTEMPTS TO FOLLOW HIGH IDEALS WHILE OTHER NATIONS ARE STRICTLY PRACTICAL SURELY WILL GO UNDER. The East Oregonian rises to make denial. The most practical man is the man who knows that high ideals are practical and that low ideals are not. No man wins by being a crook nor can a nation win by taking the view that high ideals are unworthy.

The Portland Oregonian knows that the League of Nations is a good thing and that it should be upheld. It has often stated so. But seemingly the Oregonian prefers to follow its own expressed contempt for idealism by supporting for president a man who is making vicious hatred of the league the cornerstone of his campaign. The Oregonian is throwing its own principles to the winds at a time when the nation needs men and newspapers with courage to uphold the truth. There is a higher course the Portland paper could take with more self respect and self respect is never bad business. Any newspaper that will sacrifice its honest beliefs for the fools gold of partisan regularity has much to learn.

From the Oregonian's low estimate of idealism let us turn to these words by a poet who senses the true spirit of the day.

Now in this morning of a nobler age,
Though night born eyes long taught to fear the sun,
Would still delay the world's great heritage,
Make firm, Oh God, the peace our dead have won,
For folly shakes the tinsel on her head
And points us back to darkness and to hell
Cackling, "beware of visions," while our dead
Still cry, "It was for visions that we fell."

Thankfully we may likewise note that idealism is not dead in the churches of the land, for a poll of the clergymen of the nation shows a margin of 18 to 1 in favor of the league covenant without reservations that would destroy its usefulness.

LINCOLN IN PRAGUE

ABRAHAM LINCOLN has been produced in the Czech language in Prague, Czechoslovakia, where it was enthusiastically received by press and public, says a Red Cross bulletin. It appeared many times during the recent celebration of Czechoslovakia's independence and was witnessed on one occasion by John Drinkwater, the English author, who made a special trip from London to Prague to see the Czech production of his work.

The Czechs are warm admirers of everything American, particularly America's self-made men, and it was chiefly through the discussion of the life of Abraham Lincoln that the term "self-made" came to be adopted by the Czech press and later incorporated in the dictionaries.
