

People Here and There

H. W. Collins left for Portland on No. 5 last night on a business trip.

Charles Haynes, salesman for Ellis-Schiller Co., arrived home this morning on the Northern Pacific train.

James H. Sturgis, of Sturgis & Storle, left last night on a business trip to Portland and expects to be absent for several days.

Jim Estes' parrot is munching sunflower seed from a giant blossom grown by Loren Hoover. The sunflower is on display today in Mr. Estes' office and is 15 inches in diameter.

The subscription list for the Oregon Farmer, agricultural magazine, is larger in Umatilla county than in any county in the state, says Horace Adia, who is in Pendleton today, representing the magazine. His company publishes three farm journals, the Oregon Farmer, Washington Farmer and Idaho Farmer.

Presidential candidates make from 12 to 15 speeches some days in their campaigns but few of them have anything on Manuel Friedly, democratic nominee for representative in the state legislature. On Saturday Mr. Friedly started out in his car and covered seven towns east and north of Pendleton on a handshaking and card distributing mission. Mr. Friedly visited in Adams, Athena, Weston, Milton, Freewater, Umatilla and Helix.

Harvesting in the Judith Basin region is finished, while some of next year's crop is four inches high, says Roland Oliver who arrived this morning from the Oliver, Charles Marsh and John Montgomery ranch in Montana. Mr. Oliver, who with M. O. Bennett is farming the land, says that prospects are excellent. Mr. Oliver will remain here for two weeks and will be accompanied to Montana by Mrs. Oliver and two daughters. They will make their home in Lewistown.

H. W. Dobyns, known as "Davy Crockett" was a Pendleton visitor Saturday, exhibiting seven bears, two Canadian lynx and two coyotes which he killed during the past two weeks on the Umatilla forest reserve. The pelts were placed on display in the window of the George C. Harer hardware store. Dobyns, who is a United States Biological Survey trapper, is known as one of the most efficient in the service. Two sheep-killing bears were killed on the Antonio Vay range, one on the John Ross range and one on the pat Doherty range. The lynx were trapped in Trout Valley on the K. G. Warner sheep range.

MARINE ACTIVITY IN HAITI TO BE PROBED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—(U. P.)—The charge of General Barnett of the "indiscriminate killing" of Haitians by American marines will be subject to thorough investigation by congress. He is confidentially believed here today, and further disclosures are expected to develop rapidly in an investigation which Secretary Daniels has ordered. Barnett's charge is expected to be thrown immediately into the presidential campaign. Senator Harding recently launched vigorous criticism of the marine occupation of Haiti.

SOVIET DELEGATES ARE ORDERED AWAY

BERLIN, Oct. 18.—(A. P.)—M. Zinovief and M. Lenowsky, Russian soviet delegates to the Independent Socialist conference at Halle, have been ordered by the German government to leave the country. Pending their departure the Russians will be under close police surveillance and will not be allowed to receive or communicate with friends.

28 YEARS AGO

(From the Daily East Oregonian, October 12, 1892.) Joseph Ell was pleased and surprised last night when friends congratulated him upon his reported matrimonial adventure. He says, however, that it is a trifle premature as he is yet a bachelor.

Miss Yashti O. Morse of this city and Frank Saling of Weston were united in marriage this morning at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Morse of Pendleton. A few friends witnessed the ceremony, presided by Rev. C. T. Whitteley. The bride was attired in a costume of made blue sublims trimmed with Persian passementerie and ornamented with Marechal Niel roses. She looked the picture of loveliness. Mr. Saling is a prominent business man of Weston. He has captured for a bride one of Pendleton's fairest daughters whose success have won for her the admiration of the many who have been fortunate in making her acquaintance.

DEATH KEPT SECRET

LONDON, Oct. 18.—(U. P.)—Relatives refrained telling Lord MacSwiney of the death of Michael Fitzgerald one of the 11 Cork hunger strikers who died yesterday after fasting for 85 days. MacSwiney developed a slight cold over Sunday and relatives feared the depressing effect of announcement of Fitzgerald's death.
