Cruises to Be Made.
F. B. Weaver, local navy recruiting officer, today received a dispatch from Secretary of the Navy Daniels stating that the navy department has issued instructions to the C. in C. of the Atlantic fleet and the C. in C. of the Pacific fleet to submit tentative itineraries for the foreign cruises to be made by the fleets in the summer of 1921. The Atlantic fleet will probably visit parts of the east coast of South America, Cape Town and possibly South African ports, including passing the Island of St. Helena where Napoleon spent years of captivity. The Pacific fleet expects to visit the South Sea Islands and parts of Australia and New Zealand. It is probable that the fleet will also visit ports in southern New Zealand and Tasmania. After completing the winter's joint maneuvers in the Pacific fleets will proceed to their target grounds by March 19 and after target practice and repairs, it is believed the vessels will get away on their foreign cruises June 15, 1921. Mr. Weaver points out that this is a good chance for recruits to see the world. He states that last week showed 2300 enlistments and that the enlisted personnel of the navy is now over 112,000.
