HARD GAME IN STORE FOR PENDLETON HIGH TOMORROW AFTERNOON

Hood River Will be Opposition for Hanley's Team Which Shows Several Shifts in Backfield Due to Injuries.

Pendleton high school will run up against the stiffest game so far this season Friday afternoon when the eleven from the south hill lines up against Hood river.

Earl Fleischmann, who handled the buckaroo boys in 1919, is at the helm for Hood River and he has had some close games this season, although both Vancouver and The Dalles emerged victorious.

New Men to Play

Pendleton will present more new faces in the lineup on Friday, owing to the loss of backfield men from injuries.

Oris Matlock, a Heppner boy who registered here about 10 days ago, is going to start the game at fullback.

Myron Hanley is in shape to play tomorrow and will call signals from Stendal's old place at right half.

Snyder Back at Quarter Charley Snyder will get his chance to become a regular at quarterback tomorrow on account of the shift in the lineup.

AMERICA MUST TRAIN DISTANCE MEN OR BE DETHRONED IN GAMES

1924 Olympics May Produce New Wearer of Crown as Athletic Champion of World if 1920 Showing is Guide.

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent) NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—"America is through. The athletic crown worn so long by the United States is destined for another head in the Olympic of 1924."

This boast was made in Antwerp by the Finns and the Swedes following the late Olympic contests in which the Americans were overwhelmingly victorious.

The failure of the Americans to "clean up" in the track events above the sprints led the foreign experts to draw the conclusion that the new generation of Yankee athletes lacks endurance and stamina.

It is a matter of record that the Americans did fail to take any of the distance events with the exception of the 2000-meter team race, won on the last day of the games.

But the conclusion of the European critics that the poor showing was a result of a decline in the physical powers of the new school of American athletes is wrong.

The American distance runners did not sweep the track as did the sprinters, because they had no opportunity to train. The time was so short before the opening of the games, the conditions so disagreeable on their trip to Antwerp and the weather so unamiable that they were the victims of unavoidable circumstances.

May Have Stiffer Fight It is a fact that America had a harder time to win the 1920 games than she ever had before and it is a foregone conclusion that she will have much stiffer opposition in 1924.

Seeing upon the showing made by the American distance men, the foreigners, especially Sweden, Finland and England are going to set out to develop new talent in the field and track events in which the Americans were able to make the cleanup that gave them victory.

America's task before the next games will be to develop a new school of distance runners and to find youngsters to take the place of Pat McDonald, Paddy Ryan, Matt McGrath, Dan Ahern, Mike Devanney, Ted Meredith and some others of the "old school" who showed in the last games that they are through.

England, strong in the running events will turn her attention to the development of hurdlers and field stars. The Swedes feel the necessity of developing a bunch of good sprinters. The Finns—superstars in the javelin, will set out to develop other field stars and sprinters to help balance a team strong in long distance power.

Encourage Youth in Sports American athletic officials have already started a campaign to encourage athletics in high schools. Their hope is to have eventually a skilled man in charge of athletics who can discourage young athletes from "burning themselves out" in trying to win Sweden, under the direction of Ernie Hertsberg, have gone into "specialization" with the greatest success. They hold up the idea to the youngsters that it is better to excel in one event than to be half-good in a dozen.

The next Olympics probably will be held in Los Angeles. The International Olympic Committee meets in Lucerne next spring and will decide between the California city and Rome, which has been making a strong bid for the games.

Los Angeles seems to be the favorite. The Swedes, Finns, English, and French, disgusted with manner in which the games were conducted in Antwerp, have demanded that the games be given to America, not only because they believe an American city they are anxious to get the "joy ride trip" to the Pacific Coast.

Held in America, the next games would not present as many problems for Americans that would be faced by the necessity of another long trip in a foreign country. The weather conditions in California would be ideal for the Americans, the short trip would insure the good condition of the men and more talent could be made available for final selection.

Distant Runners Needed If the powers directing amateur athletics in the United States can interest young athletes more in the mile, two mile and the longer events and shatter the idea that a sprinter is the greatest hero on the track much will be done to make a 1924 team better balanced than the one which carried the shield this year.

With such high class coaches in charge of the track squads at all the big universities the outlook is much brighter as American teams of the future will become more and more distinctive collegiate outfits.

America has the talent has the best system of athletics in the world, the most adept pupils and with a little more attention on the part of the officials in charge of the governing bodies of athletics, there is no need of prying into 1924 in search of dark clouds.

RUPPERT CANNOT SEE WHY CLUBS HOLD OUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(A. P.)—Colonel J. A. Ruppert, part owner of the New York American League club, who arrived home yesterday, said he was perfectly satisfied that his conferees in the American League and the eight National League club owners whom they met at Chicago, were on the right road to put the national game on a thoroughly substantial footing.

"I cannot understand," said he, "why President Johnson and five of the American League club owners failed to attend. There is no plan or intent to force Mr. Johnson out of the league."

The plan is simply to place the great game under the absolute jurisdiction of a board of control made up of three men or irrefragable reputation, none of whom has any financial interest in baseball. Everywhere I went within the last 10 days, I found
