BIRTHDAY MADE MERRY

A delightful surprise was extended Miss Sophia L. Enbysk Wednesday evening when her mother asked in a group of friends to share in the celebration of her sixteenth birthday anniversary. The home was charmingly decorated with Halloween appointments of black and gold and an abundance of autumn leaves. The evening was spent with music and games and a delicious supper was enjoyed. In the party were, besides the honor guest, Evelyn Dudley, Edna Enbysk, Martha Hogue, Jennie Johnson, Lillian Markstrom, Hazel Walman, Faye Mann, Myrtle Enbysk, Ethel Enbysk, Sylvia Enbysk, Bernice Planting, John Cryder, Carl Nelson, Falfred Holmgren, Harry DeVore, Ray Matheny and James Rice.

CONCERT IS REAL DELIGHT

Unusual for Pendleton in nature, and universally unusual in its quality of excellence was the concert last evening of George C. Kirchner, violinist. The artist appeared in the high school auditorium where hundreds of local folk thronged to hear the musical delight.

Mr. Kirchner's compelling bow brought out melodic ideas with masterly intonation, raving from pure, resounding depths of the cello voice to the trill and poetic charm of delicate finesse.

Boellmann's Sonata, the opening number, was illustrative of the hidden power of the instrument, seldom coaxed to whimsical, vibrant response as in the hands of George Kirchner. Interpretation of the minor music of MacDowell was artistic and the joyous lift of Poppa's Harlequin was a revelation.

In Kempf's Andalusian Serenade, another element came masterfully into play. The piano accompaniment of Arville Beistad, wonderfully in tune throughout the program, sprang into compelling companionship, and shone in interpretative power and delicate achievement, while the final number Variations Symphonique, by Boellmann, was a masterly melior of achievement.

The coming of Mr. Kirchner and Mr. Beistad to Pendleton resulted from the cooperative efforts of Mrs. S. H. Forshaw and W. W. Green, county school superintendent. The event was a feature of the teachers institute.

Mr. Kirchner is a member of the faculties of both the University of Washington and the Cornish School of Music in Seattle, and is recognized as the foremost violinist in the northwest. He is a personal friend of Mrs. Forshaw.

CLARENCE BEAN TAKES BRIDE

Pendleton friends, will be interested to hear of the marriage of Clarence Bean, former Pendleton young man and Miss Alda McDonald, which took place at the home of the bride in Albany, October 11. The wedding was the culmination of a life-long friendship, begun when the two were school mates in Ureya, Oregon.

The bride is a trained nurse, she having received her training at the good Samaritan Hospital in Portland, later serving overseas with a base hospital unit.

Her husband is a graduate of the Pendleton high school and is a former student body president. He attended the University of Oregon and later finished a course at the Kester School of Decoration, enlisting in the medical corps of the army with Illinois troops four days after war was declared. He served overseas with a field hospital unit for 18 months, participating in heavy battles and winning a rank of sergeant.

He is now associated in the mercantile business with his father in Elgin and he and his bride are making their home there.

Mr. Bean who has a host of Pendleton friends is a nephew of Mrs. H. E. Bickers and of Mrs. Jessie Hiest and of this city.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS

Roses in fragrant and vivid abundance lent charm to the library club room yesterday when Mrs. Horace Stillman, Mrs. J. J. Clarke, Mrs. John Vaughan, Mrs. H. L. Simpson, Mrs. J. B. Perry and Mrs. E. J. Murphy were hostesses for a meeting of the Woman's Club.

The event was an especially delightful one, a talk by E. J. Klemme of Bellingham, on the opportunities for service offered the woman, being delightfully interesting. Mr. Klemme is head of the department of education of the Bellingham Normal School.

Mrs. E. L. Burroughs and Miss Mildred Berkeley contributed charming vocal numbers, their piano accompaniments being played by Miss Edna Gates and Mrs. David B. Hill.

Red Roses in a lovely cluster, centered a pretty tea table where Mrs. Henry Dixon Jones and Mrs. Wesley N. Matlock presided.

EVENING AT CARDS ENJOYED

Mrs. Charles L. Cross extended delightful hospitality yesterday when she was hostess for a meeting of the Happy Circle Club, her guests being entertained at her home, 509 West Railroad street. Progressive "500" was the diversion of the evening, honors falling to Mrs. Charles Hooper and William Barclay.

A dainty supper was served after the game, Mrs. Cross being assisted by Mrs. Lillian Wilson.

The party included, besides the hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Barclay, Mr. and Mrs. Hooper, Mr. and Mrs. Newton, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Snyder, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. Harry Buckstep, Mrs. John Mullikan, Miss Faye Snyder and Henry Snider.
