HIGH CLASS FOOTBALL DISPLAYED IN LOCALS' WIN OVER HOOD RIVER

Kramer, Terjeson, Matlock and Hanley Work Like Vets in 14-0 Victory Friday; Attack is Better Than Defensive.

Pendleton high school earned a hard-fought victory from Hood River high on Round-Up Field, 14 to 0 Friday afternoon, in one of the best high school contests seen hereabouts since Pendleton became a flag stop on the O. W. It was anybody's contest until the last quarter and the 560 fans and fannies present, who have hair, felt the same standing up through most of the game.

The apple valley crew, coached by Earl Fleischmann, last year coach here, fought all the way. They had a line shift that troubled Dick Hanley's youthfulness and with good generalship would have been far more dangerous than they actually were. Not until the second half did Pendleton's line work well on defensive and then it was Bill Kramer and Lee Temple who did the smearing.

Boys Deserve Honorable Mention
The bloodstained details are spread upon the minutes of the afternoon's meeting. It is not amiss for the fans to doff their hats and meditate while the names of Bill Kramer, Orin Matlock, Jens Terjeson and Myron Hanley are uttered. These four youngsters wearing the blue jersey of Pendleton high, performed like college veterans and time and again brought forth cheers from the crowd. Kramer, quiet but husky lad from the wheatlands of eastern Washington, was as ever present in the Hood River disappointments as a thumb with the nail missing. He and Terjeson were at the business end of nearly every Hood River play that was smothered and when they were not starring on defense, Lee Temple, on his side of center, was piling them up.

Terjeson came through on virtually every play, on offensive with four to 10 yards when called to carry the oval. Once he ran 50 yards through an open field, only to lose the advantage because one of the linemen was penalized for holding. Hanley's generalship, his end runs, punting and forward passing were of a high order.

Matlock Has Star Marks
Young Matlock, playing his first game for Pendleton, scored heavily with the crowd. Fast as a wireless spark, he ran where the holes were and hit hard and low. He was good for two yards after every tackle. The Hood River boys simply could not stop him in less than four to 10 yards. Several times he broke through the center of the line and captured beautiful passes from Hanley or by an eyelash failed to grab the globe. His work made the backfield look sweet despite the loss of Stendal and Davis, out with injuries.

Had Stendal, or Davis been in shape Friday, Pendleton would have presented the sweetest backfield in many a day. Hanley would have been in his regular place at quarter and the team is figured to be a touchdown stronger with him, Terjeson, Matlock and Davis working.

Scoring Started Early
Five minutes had not elapsed when Terjeson was called for an off tackle buck and went seven yards for a touchdown. There was a steady march down the field from the kickoff, Hanley, Matlock and Terjeson alternating with the ball. Hanley kicked goal and the score stood 7 to 0.

Hood River could not advance after the kickoff and punted. Pendleton advanced the ball to the 12 yard line and first down when the quarter ended. The boys were held by Hood River on the eight-yard line and the ball went over. The visitors threw a scare into the crowd by marching down the field, their shift puzzling the local linemen. They got to the 40 yard line before Goedecke downed a runner just short of yardage on the last down. Pendleton had the ball on Hood River's 42 yard line at the end of the half.

Pendleton kicked to Hood River to open the third period but the boys were unable to gain and punted. Hanley passed low and straight over tackle into Matlock's waiting arms, the gain being 25 yards. Jens made five and Hanley tore off 20 on an off tackle run. Terjeson took the oval the rest of the way to the goal. Hanley kicked goal.

Hood River Spurts too Late
For the rest of the game the ball seesawed, Pendleton gaining on each exchange. Each side had a pass intercepted, Hood River getting the ball in the fourth quarter on their five yard line and advancing to Pendleton's 40 yard line as time was called.

Inability of the Pendleton line to make good their tackles is accountable for most of Hood River's gains. Time and again three or four tacklers would lose a man because of their inability to hold. The linemen failed to crash into interference and thus spill runners. It was not until the Hood River quarter began directing plays at the guards that he met a Waterloo, Kramer, at one guard, and Temple, at the other, craving Verduns.

The game was a vindication for the visiting coach, who showed a far better team than he moulded here last year. Fleischmann's men had fight and there were a number of high class interschool players in his line-up. That they did not score was attributable chiefly to lack of generalship on the part of their field director.

Pendleton played the same team throughout but Hood River was obliged to make two substitutions. Green, at left end, one of the fastest high school ends seen hereabouts in many a day hurt his arm and had to be replaced by Swick. Dixon, guard, gave way to P. Reed. Fred Johnston referred in very satisfactory shape and the game was fast, due to the absence of wrangling.

ATELL, CHASE AND BURNS INDICTED BY CHICAGO GRAND JURY

Fighter and Two Former Stars of Big Leagues May Face Criminal Prosecution for Gambling on Contests in Majors.

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—Indictments against 13 persons believed to have been implicated in the "throwing" of games in the 1919 world's series by Chicago American league players were returned Friday by the special Cook county grand jury, which has been investigating the baseball scandal for more than a month. Further indictments are expected when the jury convenes again next week, state officials declared.

Indictments against 10 men named previously had been voted, but were revoked to overcome legal technicalities while the other three—Abe Atell, Hal Chase and William Burns—had only been unofficially mentioned in connection with the investigation.

All of the indictments charge conspiracy to commit an illegal act, a crime for which a penitentiary sentence can be given under the laws of Illinois.

Chase and Burns, former major league players, and Atell, once the featherweight boxing champion of the world, have been named by witnesses as being three of the citizens which "framed" the world series and arranged to bribe Chicago White Sox players for sums said to range from $2000 to $10,000 to try to lose games in the contests for the world baseball championship.

According to testimony "at least several hundred thousand dollars" was bet and won on the world series. Chase was the first man to suggest "throwing" the series, it was said, and called in the others to help him. Harry Long, a Chicagoan, told the jury he alone placed $27,000 in bets on Cincinnati for "Sport" Sullivan of Boston and testimony has been received concerning many other large bets, it was said.
