FROM THE PEOPLE

CLAUD PENLAND ANSWERS

Pendleton, Ore., Oct. 25, 1920.
Editor East Oregonian:
In a partial reply to the letter of J. M. Cornelson of October 23, I want to say:

That I believe as Mr. Cornelson, that it is the duty of the different candidates for Mayor, Councilman and County Officers, to come out with some kind of platform as the good voters of our city and county will know what they stand for and are going to do if elected.

For my part, if I am elected councilman of the Fourth ward and given the proper support from the Mayor and the different Councilmen, the first good deed I will do will be to clean up the present Police Department and especially the Chief, and by so doing, eliminate such things as the "High Jinks," and things that happened at Happy Canyon and many other things that are going on in the City of Pendleton at this time which I believe Mr. Cornelson does not know anything about.

Respectfully Yours, CLAUD PENLAND.

BOY LEADERS COMING TO LOCAL CONFERENCE

The Older Boys' Conference for Northern Oregon will be held here November 5, 6 and 7. Free entertainment for all delegates and adult leaders is being provided in Pendleton homes. They are also giving a banquet to all conference delegates Saturday evening. Cash Wood, secretary for the Y. M. C. A. for Umatilla county, is chairman of the committee on arrangements and has a corps assisting.

A. E. Young, interstate boys' secretary, is arranging the program and directing the conference. Mrs. Jean Morris Ellis, vocational guidance expert and character analyst, will appear on the program and give personal advice and help to all desiring to talk with her. Other prominent leaders are: Walter Jenkins, executive secretary for community service, Portland; and Norman F. Coleman, president of the Loyal Legion Loggers and Lumbermen. Mr. Jenkins is one of the best song leaders in the northwest and will have charge of the music for the conference. Mr. Coleman is a speaker of wide experience, well fitted to speak to boys. It is probable that W. W. Dillon, executive secretary for the interstate executive committee, will be present and take a leading part on the program.

Use it as a beautifier

Explaining the moderate price

Users of Palmolive should know why it can be bought at the price of other soaps.

Simply because Palmolive is so popular that it forces production in enormous quantities. The Palmolive factory works day and night, ingredients are purchased in gigantic volume. The result is a moderate price.

Palmolive is sold by all dealers and supplied in guest-room size by America's most popular hotels.

SOAP and water has a most important mission in preserving the beauty and fineness of the complexion. It removes the coating of dirt, perspiration and excess oil secretions which, with all traces of rouge and powder, must be washed away every day.

Neglect this daily cleansing and you invite trouble.

The tiny pores and minute glands which make up the surface of the skin quickly become clogged and irritated. This clogging, this irritation, causes enlargement. This is the reason so many skins are coarse. Then when the coarsened pores fill with dirt, blackheads result. Soon they inflame and disfiguring blotches follow.

Do your washing with Palmolive

Don't say soap doesn't agree with your skin but get a cake of Palmolive. Its pure, mild lather is so gentle in its action that it soothes while it cleanses.

If your complexion is excessively dry, apply Palmolive Cold Cream both before and after washing. This supplies the lacking natural oil and keeps it soft and smooth.

Why it can't irritate
Because Palmolive contains Palm and Olive oils discovered 3,000 years ago in ancient Egypt.
Cleopatra knew their value—they served her both as cleanser and cosmetic. Today their scientific combination in Palmolive Soap achieves the final toilet luxury.

A LEAGUE FOR PEACE VS. PRE WAR STATUS

HOSE who have studied the League of Nations covenant and have followed the discussions concerning the same know there is not a scintilla of truth in the claim that a "foreign council could order our boys abroad." They know that the actions of the league council must be by unanimous vote and that the single protest of the American representative could block any action to which this country is opposed.

It is likewise clearly known that when the league council does act its action is purely advisory and that each nation is left to judge for itself what it can do or should do as to the use of force. Should we enter the league the constitutional right of congress will not be restricted in the least. Under our constitution that right could not be restricted.

This is the view of President Wilson. It is the view of republicans like Taft, Root and Wickersham who have always claimed there was not merit in the objections to article 10. This is the view of all the nations, great and small, that have joined the league. None of those 43 countries now in the league would have joined had they been forced to give up control of their own armies. Who can imagine England or France joining the league if by doing so those nations were forced to give up control of their armies and navies? Would peaceful Switzerland or neutral countries like Norway, Sweden and Holland have joined were there any truth in the claim made by our senatorial critics of article 10? Certainly not. The fact that all nations of the earth except Russia, Turkey, Germany, Mexico and the United States have joined the league and have joined without protest or quibble is proof positive that they regard the league covenant in the same light as do the proleague advocates in this country.

The League of Nations is a machine for peace, not a league for war. With the league in vogue there will be no wars and very little policing to do because the very existence of the league will insure peace in the same way that the police force of a city insures the average citizen against the necessity of carrying a gun or wearing a suit of armor.

The league was devised as a protection against war because war had almost driven Civilization over the brink. Even the strong nations of Europe were threatened with bankruptcy and all were threatened with revolution. Relief was imperative and relief from war, the danger of war and from the cost of armaments can be had only through the very sort of work the League of Nations was organized to perform and is now doing.

Governor Cox stands for joining the league. Senator Harding is against it openly and flagrantly. He is not even for the league with reservations. He mutters something about trying a new move for peace but his proposal is impossible because article 20 of the league covenant bars members of the league from joining any counter league.

If the country elects Cox we will take an honorable part in a great constructive move for permanent peace.
Elect Harding and as far as the United States is concerned we will be for the pre war status or something so near it you will be unable to tell the difference.

THEY LEARNED IT FROM HEARST

WE have been trying to look upon the republican campaign with the tolerance, and even the sympathy that becomes an independent journal. Life would like to say that the next best thing to voting for Cox is to vote for Harding, but it is impossible to say so. So far as concerns the League of Nations, the next best thing to voting for Cox is to stay away from the polls. We may get into the league in course of time, whether Cox is elected or not, because the practical necessity for entering it is so compelling; but the League of Nations is reputed to be the issue in this campaign, and the only way to vote for that is to vote for Cox.

Governor Cox represents the right position on that issue. The republican position, except Johnson's, is disingenuous, evasive and insupportable. Because of that, the republican campaign runs more and more to misrepresentation. The covenant of the league is a pretty complicated document for ordinary speakers to discuss on the stump. The republican management has recognized that, and has boiled it all down to one proposition. Its speakers tell their audiences that the question which they are to decide is whether foreign governments shall order soldiers of this country to foreign soil to settle foreign disputes. Wanderers in the mazes of Mr. Harding's mind escape with an impression that he insists that Article X will be stronger than the Constitution if we endorse it, and will make it necessary to send American troops to fight in foreign quarrels without the consent of congress.

Of course that is not true, anybody who knows much about the covenant or about the constitution is perfectly aware that it is not true. No treaty can override the constitution, and the constitution provides that the president may not declare war without the consent of congress. Besides that, the covenant has other provisions against drawing an unwilling member into war. At the republican managers seem to believe that the article X bugaboo, which they are working so hard, and their general misrepresentation of the league covenant, will last till after election and that six weeks of it will do the job.

The Hearst papers have taught them what to say and how to say it, and they are good imitators, but their party includes a large proportion of independent voters whose moral sense is at least equal to the average, and who are liable to understand such tactics, and may revolt at them.—(From an Editorial in the October 7 issue of Life.)

WARNING!

On November 2nd you will be required to vote on the so-called Oleomargarine bill. The instigators of this vicious measure would have you believe that its purpose is to regulate and license.

THE REAL PURPOSE IS TO KILL A GREAT OREGON INDUSTRY

It is directed against the manufacture and sale of Oleomargarine, Nut-margarine and all the many kinds of spreads used for bread by thousands of people in our state who cannot afford to pay the price of butter.

Facts to Remember!

- 1 The OLEOMARGARINE BILL will not in any way benefit the Dairy industry of Oregon by the implied strengthening of the market or increasing the consumption of dairy products.
- 2 The local butter industry is entirely regulated by national demand and the manufacture and sale of Oleomargarine and Nutmargarines can never, in the least, affect the dairy industry in the state.
- 3 Further state legislation in the form of the so-called Oleomargarine Bill is not necessary because the Government already has 79 pages of regulatory and licensing laws governing the operation of this legitimate industry. Deception and fraud are impossible.
- 4 The Oleomargarine Bill is an attempt to dictate to you what you shall or shall not purchase in the way of a spread for your bread.
