FORMAL PARLEY OPENED TOWARD HALTING STRIKE

Coal Laborers May Get Increase of Two Shillings a Day With Selling Price to Depend Upon Production.

EXECUTIVES CONFER WITH LLOYD GEORGE

Danger of Precedent is Seen But Men Seek to Avoid General Walkout for Fear of Election Call and Landslide.

LONDON, Oct. 26 .- (A. P.) -- Formal negotiations between the govern-ment and officers of the miners' fed-eration were reopened today. It is re-ported that the miners are to get two schillings a day increase and the selling price of coal to depend on produc-tion. If production fails below a certain level the retail price will be in-creased to householders. It is believ-ed this will cause the miners to main-

Confer With Premier

LONDON, Oct. 26.—(U. P.)—Agree-ment to end the British coal strike ap-pears at hand today. All miners un-ion executives attended a conference on executives attended a conference with Lloyd George indicating that hegotiations have replaced "conversations." Secretary Hodges, of the miner's federation, supported that interpretation when he said conference delegates would decide whether the proposed terms should be approved and submitted to a union ballot. The terms are said unofficially to provide two shillings per day increase for the two shillings per day increase for the miners with stipulation for increased

Labor men are understood to regard the plan for increased production as a dangerous precedent, but they are anxious to avoid a general strike. Fear had grown that if general strike devel-oped, Lloyd George would seize upon it to call a general election on the is-sue "the nation versus unionism" and in that event they foresaw the return of the Lloys overna government by a heavy majority.
