

BELIEVE WOMEN WILL CAST VOTE FOR COX BECAUSE OF LEAGUE

Oregon Women Are Also Taking Note of Progressive Reforms of Benefit to Women Enacted in Ohio.

(By WARD A. IRVINE)

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28.—Those who have studied the political situation in Oregon are inclined to the belief that Governor Cox will receive a big majority of women's votes in Oregon. They believe it because of Cox's determination to end war and because of his record as governor of Ohio.

It is not disputed that women are anxious, more anxious than men, to end war. In the recent conflict they learned what it is to bid a son or brother goodby at the train, perhaps never to return. It was the women who were almost afraid to scan the long casualty lists, afraid that those dear to them would be among the missing or killed. It was the mothers who went through all the agonies of war that want to see wars ended. And it is "the mother hearts of America" to which Governor Cox appeals to end war. It is their votes that he counts upon to aid him in his plan to enter the League of Nations. Observers in Oregon believe he will get the mother's votes in this state, and they believe that the women are a figure not counted upon in the final result by Harding managers. The optimistic reports sent broadcast by correspondents for Harding failed to fully appreciate, many say, the tremendous vote the women of the United States will undoubtedly roll up to end war.

Des Moines Speech Fatal

Senator Harding, because of the Taft, Hughes and Root attitude might have cut into the women's league vote had it not been for the fatal Des Moines speech in which Harding flatly rejected the covenant, and had it not been for the Johnson-Borah alliance which the candidate entered. Since his flat rejection of the covenant, there is none to deny that the drift from Harding has been tremendous among the women voters.

Another influence that is working to bring the women to the Cox standard is his Ohio record. It is of less weight, to be sure, than the League of Nations. But it is becoming a factor as women learn of the record. The mothers pension act, passed under Cox direction is a big appeal. The law enables indigent widows to raise their children at home, rather than to send them to institutions while the mother slaves to eke out a living for herself. The law applies to women whose husbands are permanently disabled, are in prison, are killed, or have deserted their families. Within 12 months after the act was passed, more than 1,000 mothers have applied for relief in Hamilton county alone. Only one state in America fixes mothers pension higher than Ohio.

Hours For Women

Then, there was the decrease in the hours of work for women. The day was limited to nine hours and the week to six days. Before, the day could be ten hours and the week seven days. Finally, the employment of women and girls in hazardous occupations was forbidden. That record of Cox, of course, is not an appeal to those few employers who are slave-drivers. But to the women of Oregon, of New York, of Illinois, and of Ohio, there is an appeal that brings votes.

Governor Cox took a hand to defeat the white slavers. Under his administration, complicity in the white slave traffic through or across the state of Ohio was made punishable by ten years imprisonment.

The League of Nations and the Cox record both have strong appeals to the women of Oregon. There are many women in this state.

GERMAN IMMIGRATION PROMISES TO BE HUGE

PARIS, Oct. 28.—(A. P.)—Emigration from Germany to the United States will be tremendous if no barrier is raised by the latter country when peace is finally signed, according to reports reaching Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, upon whose staff of American doctors is responsibility of medically examining every emigrant bound for America.

The Germans wish to emigrate, according to Dr. Blue's reports, because of the high cost of living and the heavy taxes that will be levied for many years to come.

Wholesale emigration from Germany to the United States is impossible now because the two countries are still technically at war, but Commissioner Dreesel at Berlin is allowed to visa a maximum of 25 German passports weekly.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME, —WHEN YOU'RE DRUNK, PRISONER FINDS OUT

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28.—(U. P.)—There's no place like home! Arso Yavanovich has found it out. And, the chances are, other men will follow suit.

For Municipal Judge Rossman has ruled a man has the right to get drunk in his own home, holding with the old English common law that a man's home is his castle.

Yavanovich was haled before Rossman on the charge of drunkenness. The evidence showed Arso was tanked to full capacity, but was disturbing no one. He was plainly sleepily and happily drunk. But a neighbor told the police and the cops arrested the possessor of the jug.

"Was this man in his own home and behaving himself?" the judge asked.

"Yes, sir," replied one of the arresting bluecoats.

"Then you have no right to arrest him. There is no law on the statute books that makes it an offense for a man to become drunk in his own house."

"That is the privilege from the days of King John and the Magna Charta," said the judge.

"The prisoner is discharged."

An Appeal to the Voters of Oregon

The Port of Portland Dock Commission Consolidation Bill on the state ballot should be defeated. While it no doubt affects the whole state in some degree, the enormous expense which it will create must be borne by the taxpayers of the Port of Portland, which contains 209 square miles, or less than one quarter of one per cent of the area of the state. The Chamber of Commerce, the Taxpayers' League, and other Portland organizations and many representative business men have joined hands to acquaint the voters of Oregon with the facts and to enlist their opposition to the measure.

The scheme of improvement proposed by the bill will cost $40,000,000. As a starter, $16,500,000 of bonds are authorized. In violation of the home rule provision of the Constitution of Oregon, the voters of the Port of Portland are denied the right to say how large a debt they are willing to assume. Nor are they given a voice in the selection of the commissioners who are to vote bonded debt upon them, levy taxes for them to pay and manage their business.

The electors of the territory within the Port of Portland are better qualified than any one else to judge of the amount of bonded debt they should authorize or the taxes they should pay. Their liberality in assuming burdens of public improvement, not only for themselves, but for the state at large will not be questioned by any one who will scan the record of the huge total of bonds they are now carrying, amounting, in round figures to $34,000,000. It cannot be thought that the state will be the gainer by imposing upon its chief city the insupportable load of additional debt contemplated by the pending bill.

The sponsors of the Port of Portland bill have openly appealed to the electors of the state at large to vote for it on the ground that it will cost them nothing. This is log rolling of the most dangerous type. If such methods are to prevail in behalf of direct legislation, no county, city, port or other municipal corporation in the state will be safe from having intolerable debts and taxes foisted upon it by indifferent voters from other parts of the state. Bills like this must be rejected by the voters if home rule is to retain its vital force. Home rule and such bills cannot survive together. One or the other must fall.

The voters of the Port of Portland are not asking to be relieved of their responsibility to create and maintain the necessary facilities for ocean commerce. They desire only that they be given a voice in the management of their affairs, and that, through the established processes of law, they be permitted to adopt a plan of port development which will not load millions of dollars of debts upon them.
