AMERICAN PEOPLE BY MILLIONS AND VOTE, NEVER EQUALLED, IS 1920 PROSPECT

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—Men and women voters in 43 states went to the polls today to select the new president. Before dawn of another day the country in all likelihood will know whether Warren G. Harding or James M. Cox has been elected. A record vote of between 20 and 25 millions is expected.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—American people went to the polls by millions today to deliver their verdict on the issues of the 1920 campaign. Early indications in the east were that an unprecedented vote would be polled. At 6 a. m. when New York polling places opened, knots of voters were waiting at the doors of many of them.

ROUND-UP PICTURES TO BE SHOWN TO BOYS

Motion pictures of the 1918 and 1919 Round-Up will be exhibited to the 250 boys attending the Northern Oregon Older Boys Conference of the Y. M. C. A. in Pendleton, opening Friday evening. The pictures will be shown on the screen of the Eastern Oregon state hospital auditorium as a part of the Saturday afternoon recreational feature.

Registration Cards Coming

Registration cards from boys in this county who are coming to the conference are already being received and among them are six cards from Weston. Freewater sent in a request yesterday for a large number of cards saying that a big bunch of youths would come from there. Herminion has a big delegation assured as Superintendent A. C. Voecker will bring his boys' band here together with the other delegates from the west end city.

Mr. Wood is asking the younger Y. M. C. A. lads in the city to volunteer to act as guides during the conference and the boys willing to assist are asked to report to his office tomorrow after school for instructions. They will meet the trains, show the delegates to their rooms and make themselves generally useful in any other way.

People Aid in Entertainment. Good responses have been made by the various church people of the city to the request for rooms for the visiting boys, but so far there have not been an equally large number willing to provide meals, Mr. Wood said today. It was the hope of the entertainment committee that persons offering rooms also see that the delegates get meals.

All speakers for the banquet on Saturday night have now been obtained and the address of welcome will be delivered by J. W. Maloney. Dr. David B. Hill is to act as toastmaster.

INCLEMENT WEATHER ROILS VOTING ARENA

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Inclement weather, the most influential woman in politics today, roiled the voting situation as balloting began in the Middle West.

Rains, winds and snows are prevalent in this section and are expected to keep many feminine voters at home; interference with farmers is expected to a considerable extent.

Early reports from centers of population, however, indicated large turn-outs, with women equally prominent in the long queues that formed before sun-up at the polling places and continued to lengthen during the morning. The country vote, claimed by all political parties, was exceptionally light in early voting.

ATLANTA WOMEN ARE TURNED FROM POLLS

White women appeared at the polls in small numbers. Negro women literally flooded the polls. All were turned away except in the sixth ward. COX VOTES AT CROSS ROADS STORE, HARDING SPENDS DAY AT LINKS

DAYTON, Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—Governor Cox is back from Toledo, where he closed his speech last night with the words "Peace on earth, good will to men." "These were words sung by angels at Bethlehem," he said. "And would come true as a result of America's entering the league." He voted at a cross roads store on the way home and planned to remain at his farm home until tonight when he will go to his newspaper office for the returns.

HARDING PLAYS GOIF.

MARION, Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—Senator Harding today put politics aside and devoted most of the day to golf. He arranged to go to the polls early in the afternoon. Tonight he will get returns at his home where republican leaders have planned a red fire celebration. He wore an air of smiling confidence today.

NOMINEES STAND IN LINE TO CAST VOTES

DAYTON, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Governor and Mrs. Cox stood in line 20 minutes in a little polling place here today in order to cast their votes. With women voting for the president in Ohio for the first time, the doorway of the little store where the democratic candidate voted was jammed with two lines of men and women when he arrived. The polling place was a small department store of the Dayton suburb, being a one-man barbership and printing place as well as offering soft drinks, candies and cigars.

HARDING ENTERTAINS VOTERS. MARION, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Mrs. Harding accompanied the republican presidential candidate to their polling place to vote today. There were thirteen voters in line when they arrived. Election officials offered to let the senator vote immediately, but he declined to go ahead of those waiting. While the nominee was waiting to get into the booth, camera men cranked away. Harding kept up a humorous line of talk, imitating the photographers.

"That's the best one yet," Harding would say, or "We've got to keep this scenario going right." A large crowd cheered the candidate as he entered the booth and again as he came out. Mrs. Harding did not take her first experience in casting the presidential ballot so nonchalantly. "Good gracious," she gasped when the judge handed her the various ballots required under the Ohio laws. "Do I have to vote all of these?"
