THRESHING DELAYED AT GURDANE BY WEATHER

(East Oregonian Special.)
 GURDANE, Nov. 2.—Threshing was started in this vicinity last week but the recent rain delayed them a few days.

Mrs. Roy Montgomery and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Cates returned Tuesday from Clarkston, Wash., where they attended their father's and mother's gold wedding anniversary, all of their children being present except one boy, 15. There are 11 children in the family.

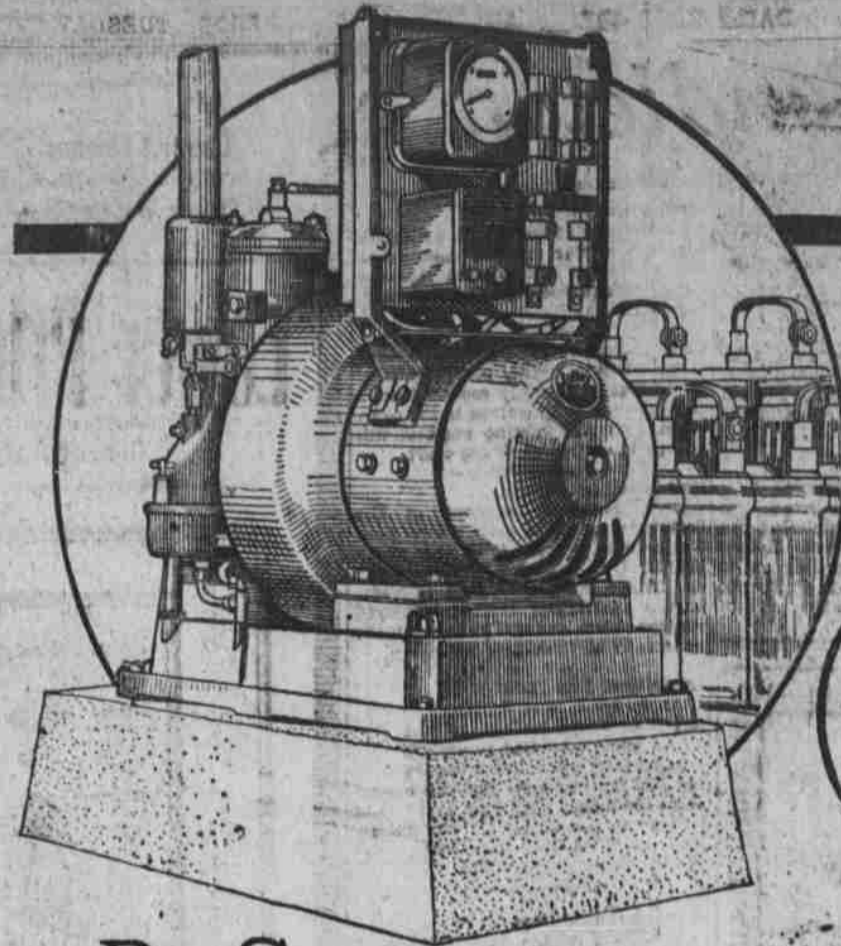

Mrs. Joe Mettler visited Tuesday with Mrs. John Lichtfoot.

Frank Chapman started to the mountains Tuesday to take Chas. Nelson up on top of the mountain, had the misfortune to run a wheel off his car. Jim Nelson went up and took him on through.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Menaghan have been caring for the store and post office during Mrs. Cates' absence.

Mat McGovern, who has been working a short time for Mike Doherty, left for Pilot Rock to help Truman Cable awhile.

Owing to the absence of their teacher, Mrs. Vern Cates, the school children have had a few days' vacation.

BUILT like a watch, yet simple and durable in construction—every part of the Lalley is fitted to the fraction of a thousandth of an inch or smaller—which is about one-fourth the thickness of a fine human hair. Every single screw, nut and bolt is individually inspected for fit, strength and accuracy.

MOONSHINE GASOLINE MAKES DEBUT IN N. Y.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—“Professor” P. John Chasler of Brooklyn was arrested yesterday on a charge of grand larceny in connection with a “discovery” designed to revolutionize the motor fuel industry by mixing corn stalks, cane sugar and yeast as a substitute for gasoline.

A test of the substitute is alleged by him to have been approved at Ramsey, N. J., by chemical experts of West Point military academy. Assistant District Attorney Lazarus said the real secret of the test was two barrels of grain alcohol hidden behind a wall and connected by a pipe to a tank containing the substitute. Chasler's arrest followed an investigation by the district attorney's office of a complaint of a delegation representing 400 persons of the east side who claim to have invested in stock of the Fernogas company said to have been formed by Chasler for the manufacture of the substitute motor fuel.

Chasler was specifically charged by Ehrlich Bares, a dealer in precious stones, with misappropriation of a $5,000 check made payable to the Fernogas company.

CUB DIRECTORATE IS CHANGED AT MEETING

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Charles H. Weegman, for several years president of the Chicago National league baseball club, was dropped from the directorate at the annual meeting of the stockholders Monday. William Le Yeck, president of the club, was chosen in his stead. Other members of the board were re-elected.

Selection of John J. Evers as manager of the Cubs was approved as was the report of the financial condition of the club, which showed a profit in addition to the wiping out of all obligations.

REDS LAUNCH FALL ATTACK ON WRANGEL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 2.—(U. P.)—Bolshevik forces have begun their final pre-winter attack on General Wrangel's troops. They are flinging themselves into the fighting with fresh divisions from the north and with arms from the Polish front. Soviet troops attacked along the entire southern front. Bolsheviks claim complete success. Wrangel admitted the evacuation of Berdiansk, on the banks of Azov, and Alexandrovsk. Withdrawal is said to be strategic, Wrangel desiring to meet the enemy on prepared lines.

HAY IS GOING TO COAST POINTS FROM WESTLAND

(East Oregonian Special.)
 MINNEHARA-WESTLAND, Nov. 2.—C. A. Rhea is spending a few days at the home of his son, Walden Rhea. C. M. Jackson made a business trip to Sand Hollow on Wednesday.

Mrs. H. M. Cox and daughter Miriam of Arlington, Oregon, were week end guests at the home of Mrs. Cox's sister, Mrs. W. G. Rodda. On Sunday a party motored up Little Butter Creek to Lena where they left Miss Miriam Cox who teaches school near that place. Miss Cox had been in attendance at the teachers institute at Pendleton last week.

Elvin Corley of Gurdane was a recent visitor at Westland.

Hay is again moving from the Westland siding as the Tillamook Ranch Co. is shipping its crop to coast points.

Fred Thorn who is attending the Pendleton high school spent Institute week at the home of his mother, Mrs. R. E. Thorn. He returned to Pendleton Sunday afternoon.

Lower Butter Creek people have resumed their neighborhood dances held at the dance hall, and those attending Saturday evening had an enjoyable time. The next dance will be held Nov. 4.

W. H. Ogden has moved his machine shop to the site of his former house which was recently destroyed by fire and has remodelled the machine shop and converted it into a neat and comfortable residence.

OBREGON ARRIVES AT EL PASO

EL PASO—President Obregon, of Mexico, is seen in this picture arriving at the station here, en route to Dallas to attend the Texas state fair. His visit is expected to do much to better relations between Mexico and the United States.

CAMPAGNING ON ELECTION DAY

UNDER the laws of Oregon the voter is supposed to have an untrammelled right to cast his ballot as he pleases on election day without interference. Campaigning is forbidden and many old-time practices are under the ban. The law is very specific and the East Oregonian has always construed it as meaning in spirit and letter to apply to newspapers as well as to individuals. Therefore this paper has refrained from making any appeals on election day. However, the Portland newspapers as usual fail to heed what appears to be the plain meaning of the law.

There should be a decisive ruling as to the meaning of the corrupt practices act, so that it may apply to all alike. If electioneering is forbidden on election day the fact should be made clear and the law should be observed. If the law does not mean what it says then the bars should be completely down.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE

A FEATURE of the week which has caused surprise in some quarters has been the reaction of money rates to high levels, with the accompanying effects which necessarily result from such a change. There has been no alteration of conditions at federal reserve banks, but on the contrary, a reduction has occurred in the commitments of these institutions through rediscounts. In some parts of the country the effort to hold back agricultural products in order to secure higher prices has resulted in slowing down payment at banks and has tended to prevent liquidation. In others, the process of moving crops to market has proceeded more steadily and with a corresponding improvement in the banking situation. There has continued to be a reasonably good demand for acceptances and other investments on the part of country banks. Higher money rates are accordingly looked upon as temporary, a view supported by the continued strength of the investment market and the upward movement of quotations both of public and corporate bonds. While the exchange market has responded to the better news from Great Britain, every decided gain in quotation, particularly of sterling, has been met by the selling of larger quantities of commercial bills called forth by the better outlook, and the consequence has been to keep prices down.—From the Clews Financial Review.

As each big election approaches the average voter strives to inform himself as to the questions at stake. It is the right thing to do, but it is even better to maintain a continuous interest in public affairs. It is hard to coach up on so many things at one time.

After a day or two it will be possible to take some time for the football season, the Red Cross drive and other pressing non political events of interest.

Another drop in the price of sugar is reported and no one will complain against such news.

AMERICAN OLYMPIC TEAM NOT ONLY ONE TO KICK

ANTWERP, Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—Publication of the inside story of the recent Holland-Belgium association football game in the Olympic tournament shows that the American Olympic team was not the only one to rebel because of the transport accommodations furnished them.

Just as the Americans found the Maroka an overcrowded ship the Dutch football players protested strenuously against the quarters allotted them aboard a small steamer which brought them to Antwerp and on which they were supposed to live. Four of them, ringleaders in the “rebellion,” were barred from the big game but when the Dutch committee sought to discipline them and send them home in disgrace the entire team formed a sort of a soviet and forced the committee to back down, just as the American team won out over its olympic committee in the case of Aberdeen.

WHO'S AFRAID?

Who's afraid? This little Gosh lassie isn't, anyway! The picture shows her crossing a river in Olmstead on a wire “bridge,” constructed by her daddy. In this manner the family gets across the river. And so when this little girl wants to go to town, she gets in this game-bag contrivance and is ferried over the river.

THREE NEGROES KILLED AND 11 ARRESTED IN ALABAMA GIN RIOTS

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 2.—(A. P.)—Armed county and city officers and citizen volunteers were on guard last night in the southern portion of this county where the burning of cotton gin, dwellings and churches yesterday has led to the arrest of 11 negroes and the death of three others. The property loss reported due to the fires was estimated at $100,000.
