Money can't buy a greater luxury or surer way to beauty

Palm and Olive oils were discovered in ancient Egypt 3,000 years ago

The easy way to beauty

in a simple cake of soap

HOW do you keep your face clean? Do you give it a hasty daily washing with any old soap? Or do you perhaps depend on cold cream to remove dirt and dust? Either method is dangerous and in vites bad results. Careless washing makes the skin rough and coarse. Yet complexions get soft and flabby without the tonic of water. The secret is—make washing your face a real beauty treatment. How—by using Palmolive Soap, the beautifying cleanser. The Palmolive lather is so mild that it cleanses without irritation, no matter how sensitive is your skin. Profuse and creamy, it penetrates every tiny pore, removing the dirt, dust and oil secretions, which, when neglected, clog and irritate. Apply Palmolive Cold Cream and apply it liberally. If your skin is dry, use it both before and after washing. Palmolive is the scientific modern combination of the Palm and Olive oils Cleopatra used. It is the favorite facial soap of millions who have learned that while you pay more you can't buy better.

THE PALMOLIVE COMPANY, MILWAUKEE, U. S. A.

PALMOLIVE

Why doesn't it cost more?
Because the Palmolive factories work day and night to supply the demand. Because the rare Palmolive ingredients are bought in enormous quantities. Thus the price of Palmolive is kept moderate—no more than for ordinary soap. It can be enjoyed by every woman and procured everywhere.

AS WE FIND IT
(By Frank L. Stanton.)
Takin' the country as we find it,
Hot or cold, we never mind it;
Thankful for the grace of living;
Earth is kind and heaven forgiving;
Bells of Joy forever ringing,
Till we start the stars a-singing.

Takin' the country, day by day,
As the gift of the ages sent our way;
Best old country we ever knew,
Turning a sunny face to you,
There, on the hills of high endeavor,
Where shadowless sunlight falls forever.

THE PREHISTORIC COLUMBIA
THE finding of Indian skeletons and relics by a construction crew near Big Eddy will revive an interest in the subject of those who peopled this land before the white man came. It is a fascinating topic to consider and we can rest assured we could hear wondrous stories if the hills and rivers of Eastern Oregon could talk.

When Lewis and Clark made their famous journey to the Pacific northwest in 1805 the Indians of this region were almost totally ignorant of the white man and his ways. At a point near Umatilla Captain Lewis shot a crane and immediately after doing so saw a group of frightened Indians rushing towards a tepee not far away. At first they could not believe that Lewis was mortal and reported he had dropped out of the sky accompanied by a loud noise and a dead crane.

Those stories of early day adventure, of exploration and of early contact with the Indians are exceedingly interesting. How much more gripping would the story be if we could lift the veil and know what was going on before any white man came.

BRYAN'S INSULT

IS BRYAN also an irreconcilable? Has he joined the battalion of death?
Incidentally, was his suggestion that the president resign a worthy thing to come from a man whom so many democrats have so long followed and who has been thrice honored by them with nominations for the presidency?
Wasn't it enough for Mr. Bryan because he couldn't run the San Francisco convention, to remain grandiloquently aloof and self-importantly silent during the late campaign, without adding to that act a cruel and deliberate insult to President Wilson?
Bryan has drifted from his moorings. With his arbitration treaties and by all his protestations, he was until recently a professed hater of war. But when in the late campaign he had a chance to support a plan that would prevent war, he flew the track.

Mr. Bryan was for years a vociferous advocate of progressive government. But when, in the late campaign, the very life of progressivism was at stake on the choice for the presidency, Mr. Bryan was as dumb as an oyster and as unconcerned as if he had never heard of progressivism.—Oregon Journal.

A LUXURY LOVING NATION

ABOUT seven dollars a week or $348 a year is spent by the average American family for luxuries, according to statistics compiled for the government by Miss Edith Strauss of the Women's Activities Department in the Department of Justice. These statistics show that the total average expenditure of the people of the United States annually for luxuries is $8,710,000,000.

Some of the more detailed figures follow:
"There is included in the total amount $2,110,000,000 spent by the male population for tobacco. Of this sum $300,000,000 is spent for cigarettes and an equal amount for loose tobacco and snuff, and $510,000,000 for cigars. Automobiles are put in this list as luxuries with an annual expenditure of $2,000,000,000. The total amount spent for candy is $1,000,000,000; for chewing gum, $50,000,000; for soft drinks, $350,000,000; for perfumes and cosmetics, $750,000,000; for furs $300,000,000; for toilet soaps, $400,000,000 and for pianos, organs and phonographs, $250,000,000.

"During 1919 the American people bought Government Savings securities, Thrift Stamps, War Savings Stamps and Treasury Savings Certificates to the amount of $134,230,687 and while all of these millions meant safe investment for money which for the most part would not have been saved, it is significant that the total amount was inconsistent with the sum spent for luxuries which might have been added to the national savings."

Some scientist has invented a machine whereby it can be told whether or not a man is a liar. If it works he can find a wonderful field for his invention but it is too early for anyone to get worried.

If these is nothing else exciting Portland can still fight with Seattle and Pendleton people can always listen to those travelers who tell us this is a much better town than Walla Walla.

The League of Nations may be dead but it seems to be holding meetings right along and some very able bodied countries are still enrolled.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success. They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lozy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits, 15c and 30c a box.
