RIGHT ALONG.

(By Frank L. Stanton.)
This, to the tune of music
Of the sweetest song!
Say a word for Happiness—
Hush it right along!

We'll weather every tempest—
The river runn' strong;
World was made for happiness—
Rush it right along!

AN ANTIDOTE FOR THE OIL SHORTAGE

THE Pacific coast faces a serious fuel oil shortage. Oil consumption is outrunning oil production at the rate of 10,000,000 barrels per year.

Storage stocks of oil have been reduced already to an amount equivalent to only two months' average consumption, and the situation is steadily growing worse.

Curtailment of fuel oil consumption is even now being enforced, and unless there ensues at this time a substantial and steady increase in oil production and a general application of economies in consumption, sharper curtailment will be necessary in the near future.

These are the facts disclosed by the report of the special fuel oil committee appointed by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce two months ago to survey the fuel oil conditions in this state and to recommend measures of relief.

This committee, whose report has just been filed with the board of directors of the chamber of commerce, is composed of Charles H. Bentley, chairman; J. R. Hanify, Wallace M. Alexander, Alfred I. Esberg, C. Parker Holt, Joseph J. Tynan and Leon G. Levy; secretary, R. H. Vorfeld.

In its effort to help the present acute situation and to discount the discouraging forecast of the future, the Chamber of Commerce has received and considered many suggestions and recommendations.

Some of these recommendations border upon the heroic or revolutionary. Included among them are the curtailment of regional fuel oil delivery; electrification of railroads; use of Mexican fuel oil by merchant and naval vessels; importation of Mexican oil; decrease of export of California oil use of fuel oil substitutes; general voluntary curtailment of consumption by fuel oil users; encouragement of oil prospecting by amendment of federal legislation; installation of fuel-saving equipment by oil consumers; definite encouragement and support of hydro-electric power development.

As of chief importance in the problem of permanent betterment the Chamber names the early and rapid development of hydro-electric power. Involved in this is the possible electrification of railroads, which now consume from 37 to 40 per cent of the California fuel oil supply, and the general substitution of hydro-electric power for fuel oil in industry.

The soundness of the suggestion that hydro electric energy should be developed cannot be questioned. The unused power in the Columbia, the Snake, Deschutes and other northwest streams should be harnessed and that as quickly as possible.

Pendleton is now using California oil for fuel purposes in the face of an oil shortage while right near us "white coal" in abundance is going to waste.

The projects being too large for private capital, the federal government should take the initiative in developing our big hydro-electric projects.

THAT FRENCH TREATY

A SINGULAR development since November 2 is the fact that France believes the Harding administration will sanction the proposed Anglo-American treaty whereby France shall be guaranteed against any attack by Germany. The French quote Senator Lodge as having said this treaty will be ratified if given to the senate. This is highly interesting because from the standpoint of "intangling alliances" the proposed French treaty is 1000 per cent stronger than any obligation the United States would have assumed under article 10. This newspaper will not say that the protective treaty should not be ratified, but the Harding administration cannot ratify such a treaty without admitting that its whole pre-election campaign was based on deception and fraud.

Senator Harding has informed Senator Poindexter that he wont appoint a secretary of the interior until he has heard from people in the northwest and elsewhere who are backing irrigation projects. That sounds hopeful but with four billions of war debt to pay off annually and with a bigger army and navy to maintain there may not be much money for reclamation work.

FIFTEEN ARE HURT IN GASOLINE EXPLOSION

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 10.—(U. P.)—Fifteen were injured, eight seriously, when 80 gallons of gasoline which had drained from a petcock into the bilge of a Southern Pacific steamship company launch exploded here yesterday.

MONGOLIANS ARE RESTLESS

MUKDEN, Nov. 10.—(A. P.)—Major General Chu Chuhshang, commanding Chinese troops in Uru, in an urgent telegram to General Chang Tso-lin, commissioner for the three northern Chinese provinces, reports unrest in Uru, Kobdo and among a few tribes in Outer Mongolia. He alleges that the Mongolians with foreign aid and encouragement, are plotting to recover their autonomy, and that unless arrears of pay to the troops and reinforcements are forthwith sent serious disturbances are likely to occur.

General Chang is, accordingly, dispatching a brigade of troops.

THE FUNNYBONE

A Great Difference
A noted physician, particularly expeditious in examining and prescribing for his patients, was sought out by an army man whom he "polished off" in almost less than no time. As the patient was leaving, he shook hands heartily with the doctor and said:
"I am especially glad to have met you, as I have often heard my father, Col. Blank, speak of you."
"What?" exclaimed the physician, "are you old Tom's son?"
"Certainly."
"My dear fellow," cried the doctor, "fling that infernal prescription in the fire and sit down and tell me what is the matter with you."—Harper's Magazine.

Help the Blind

A small storekeeper put up in his window not long ago an elaborate new blind. Quoth his neighbor "Nice blind of yours, Isaac." "Yes," was the reply. "Who paid for it, Isaac?" "The customers paid." "What? You say the customers paid for it, Isaac?" "Yes, I put a leaded box on my counter and labeled, 'For the Blind,' and they paid for it."—Stars and Stripes.

Back Talk

Lotion Horton, the milk king, was talking at a New York dinner about the modern woman's "ultra" gowns. "A profiteer," he said, "was dressing the other evening for the opera, when his wife stalked into his dressing room.

"Here you are," she hissed, "a war profiteer getting 200 per cent dividends, and I've got only one decent dress."

"He turned and looked her up and down, then he said:
"Well, I wish to goodness you'd wear it!"—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegram.

Lady Wanted

The other day, when the beach was crowded, a small boy, looking rather bewildered, approached a police officer and said, "Please, sir, have you seen anything of a lady around here?"

"Why, yes," answered the officer, "I've seen several."

"Well, have you seen any without a little boy?"
"Yes."
"Well," said the little chap as a relieved look crossed his face, "I'm the little boy. Where's the lady?"—Boston Transcript.

N. Y. SWELLS POLICE FORCE

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—(A. P.)—Twenty five additional patrolmen were distributed through the financial district here because of threats alleged to have been made at a recent street meeting of radicals. The Wall street detective force has also been increased.

CAR STRIKES FARMER, THEN SPEEDS AWAY

EUGENE, Or., Nov. 10.—(A. P.)—B. F. Smith, a farmer residing on the Pacific Highway a short distance north of Eugene, is at a local hospital suffering from serious injuries as a result of being run over by an automobile near his home last night. Smith was walking along the highway when he was struck by an automobile driven at a high rate of speed. The car sped on and the driver is unknown. Smith says the car was without lights. He sustained a broken arm and his chest was crushed.

ARMENIA IS PASSING UNDER RED CONTROL

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 10.—(A. P.)—Armenia is passing under bolshevik control, say reports from tiffs today. Turks and bolshevik Tartars have effected a junction at Alexandropol and it is possible the city of Erivan has been occupied by the Turks. Armenian troops are reported surrendering or seeking refuge in Georgia.
