tion of Miss Carol Wurtenberger, art instructor in local schools, show originality and beauty. Miss Wurtenberger says that the pupils show a keen appreciation of art and that the boys are just as interested in the work as are the girls. Halloween motifs, autumn leaves stained glass effects and conventional designs are noteworthy of the display. Miss Wurtenberger expects to show some of the original designs to the Pendleton Woolen Mills with the suggestion that the ideas be used in designing blankets. Worthy of special mention are posters painted by Helen Cook, eighth grade pupil. One shows a basket of autumn products and another an old fashioned miss in hoop skirt and poke bonnet.

No shows are scheduled for this month at the Oregon Theater, says Sam Wright, manager. Little Girl Mashes Fingers.

Gloria, small daughter of Mrs. Theo Rollins, yesterday mashed two fingers of one hand quite badly when she caught them in a ring being operated at the Rollins home. Sid Chung, a Chinese, arrested recently for smoking opium, was taken to Portland this morning on No. 19 by Deputy U. S. They were arrested by the sheriff Sunday night with a complete still in their possession on the reservation nine miles east of town. They will await trial in the U. S. district court at Portland.

Old Relic Remembered.

The finding of historic relics near The Dalles recalls to the minds of old Pendleton residents a granite bowl which was unearthed at Umatilla by the children of a section hand, and brought to Pendleton for exhibition at Pat Kine's saloon. The bowl as described by pioneers, was of granite which is not found in this region, and was elaborately carved to represent fish scales. One handle was in the form of a fish tail and the other a head partly resembling that of a fish and partly of a man. Kine offered the section man $25 for the relic but the man refused and presented it to the superintendent of the railroad. He resigned and went East and since that time, all trace of the relic has been lost.

County Farmers Meet.

About 30 members of the Umatilla County Farm Bureau met at the library last night to hear talks in favor of the affiliation of the farm bureau of Oregon with the national federation. Paul Maris, state leader of county agents, spoke on the benefits to be derived from organization. Chester Gray, president of the Missouri federation and member of the national executive board, expressed a wish that Oregon would join the federation which, he said, would help the farmers in the wool and wheat situation. George Mansfield, president of the temporary state organization, said that the farmers needed a permanent state federation to carry on projects. Farmers at the meeting seemed favorably impressed. It will be decided at the next executive committee meeting of the county bureau whether or not Umatilla's bureau will favor affiliation with the national body.
