THE PART THAT LIVES ON

ROBERT WEEMS, a member of the Masonic lodge in the village of Hempstead, New York, died two years ago with a request that his body be cremated and his ashes scattered to the four winds or else over the surface of the sea. They were given to the waves with the usual Masonic service for committal to the sea.

The point is that the departed member considered it immaterial where his mortal remains might find their final rest. To many people the point is well taken. The body dies and may be disposed of as seems fitting. But the life that was lived cannot be buried. It lives on and its influence, great or small, for good or bad, remains. The record stands and cannot be changed.

The Moving Finger writes; and having writ
 Moves on; nor all your piety nor wit
 Shall lure it back to cancel half a line,
 Nor all your tears wipe out a word of it.

If we could realize this more than we do all would lead better lives. Some hold the view that God is merciful and will forgive anything. That may be so but the divine will as revealed in the rules of nature does not bear out the theory. Nature is kind but inexorable as all will find who trifle with her laws. The best that anyone can do is to keep the record clear and leave behind a memory that will be cherished in proportion as you were of service to others.

ALIVE AND WORKING

JUST 13 days after Warren Harding was elected president and had declared in his first speech that the League of Nations is dead, the league assembly met for its first session. Instead of being a corpse the league is alive and well. Forty-two nations are represented at Geneva and there are applications on file from 15 additional countries. Even Germany and Mexico wish to join.

No other country has held aloof for fear the league would jeopardize its sovereignty, but the United States is absent, thanks to a campaign of falsehood and defamation waged for partisan purposes. In part our people were deceived on the league subject, but more than that they wanted a change. They are getting it. This country has changed from a world leader into a slacker nation. Not satisfied with unusual prosperity people wanted something different on that score and they are getting it, too. They may get more than they wish. Truthfulness requires the statement, however, that the wave of depression is not chargeable to the Harding election, save in part, but if Governor Cox had been elected and these conditions had followed in the wake of the voting, every reactionary and every reactionary newspaper would be calling on heaven to witness the calamity they had predicted. You know it.

However, all that is water over the wheel. The people gave their verdict and it is accepted without cavil. What concerns us now is not the past but the future. What is the new administration going to do about the vacant seat they are holding for Uncle Sam? Shall we accept it or still sulk? The problem is up to the president-elect. It is an open question what he will do. His campaign attitude offers little hope. But he is now a bigger man than he was a few weeks ago and his responsibilities may give him a broader viewpoint.

NO CINCH FOR U. S. TENNIS TEAM

Everything is not so bright and rosy for the United States Davis cup players, William T. Johnston, Watson Washburn, Samuel Hardy and William M. Tilden. It looked easy at first in their journey to Australia for the tennis honors. But R. Norris Williams, handiest server of all, announced he couldn't go because of business affairs, and Tilden joined the group after suffering a nervous breakdown. The American team's battle for the prize, however, is expected to be fast and furious.

PAVING ON GARFIELD TO BEGIN WEDNESDAY

Paving will begin Wednesday on Garfield street, Manager Pat Loneragan of the Warren Construction Co., said today. The three blocks on Garfield from Jackson to Martin are all graded and gravelled, ready for the contractors and their hot stuff.

The block on Jefferson from Wilson to and including the intersection of Martin is also about ready to start on, according to report from the city engineer's office. A third block about ready for paving is that on Matlock from Bailey to Jackson. Other streets on the north side, which are to be paved, are being graded as rapidly as possible in hopes that when the paving plant starts up it will be possible to work without interruption.

A gravel base and a topping of one and a half inches of bitulithic is the quality of paving to be laid. The contracts were signed on the basis of $2.30 a yard for the gravel and surface.

Patching of the numerous broken pavements about the city will be completed Tuesday evening, Mr. Loneragan estimated today. The work has been at work on this task several days.

SENATOR NEW GROOMED AS POSTMASTER GENERAL

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Nov. 16.—(U. P.)—The selections of Senator Harry S. New of Indiana, as postmaster general and of Will Hays as New's successor in the senate are understood to be strongly favored by republican party leaders here Monday for a rest from the strenuous presidential campaign. While the deal would be dependent on Governor-elect McCray of Indiana, who has full power to fill any senate vacancy, it is believed he would acquiesce. This arrangement it was stated, would allow Hays to continue as chairman of the republican national committee.
