RUTH KING PLANS TO BE WAR FARMER IN HER 'PEGGY JEANS'

In addition to being a photoplay star, Miss Ruth King, leading woman for Jack Gardner in Esanay's "The Range Boss," is also a first-class, A No. 1 "farmeress."

This dainty little star has a regular garden patch back of Esanay's Culver City (Cal.) studio, and spends her idle moments there, between scenes, hoeing, raking and even plowing among her cabbages, radishes, potatoes, etc. For the work she created a costume which would turn any Fifth Avenue modiste green with envy for its ingenuity. She calls 'em the "Peggy Jeans," and they are a combination between overalls and "whinnies." At any rate they are far more serviceable than conventional shirts and look a whole lot more cute.

"If all the men go off to war," declares Miss King, "and there is nobody else to farm the land, I am going to organize the women in this section to do the work. The women in England and France are doing the farming. Why not here as well?"

HIGH AND LOW SOCIETY COMPARED IN PHOTOPLAY

A striking contrast between the high and low walks of life is drawn today. Norma Talmadge, who is starred as Jennie Malone, plays the part of the beautiful daughter of Black Jerry Malone, keeper of a questionable dance hall in the slums.

The ambition of her father, who is not as black as his name would indicate, carry her out of jail, through a fashionable boarding school for girls, and into society, where she meets the man who wins her love.

The stigma of the past follows her into her new environment, and a dramatic situation arises when Jennie learns that she alone can save from the electric chair a man who has been wrongly convicted of murder.

To do so, Jennie is forced to risk the loss of her fiance and her place in society.

Can a girl of the underworld, who has lived straight, make good in the social world?

The photoplay answers that question.

ALTA TODAY

The underground whisper factory, where rumors are spread and reputations damaged, is the subject of Elaine Hammerstein's new starring vehicle for Selznick Pictures, "Whispers," which comes to the Alta theatre today only.

Miss Hammerstein in this production portrays a girl who is the victim of scandal, every innocent move she makes being interpreted in a sinister manner. Her mercenary aunt makes life unpleasant for her by trying to marry her off to a wealthy but undesirable suitor. Scandal-mongers involve her in a divorce proceeding with which she has had nothing to do, and newspaper reporters are camped on her trail to "run down" the scandal.

Sickened and disgusted, she runs away from the scene of her indignities, and in a different city, under a pseudonym during a rainstorm, she meets—true romance, at last. But all is not plain sailing yet—there's many a moment of misapprehension and suffering before the last few feet of the last reel shows the happiness and sunshine that has come into the life of a suffering soul.

Written by Marcus V. Connolly and directed by William P. S. Earle, "Whispers" has interesting settings depicting New York society life and the night life of the metropolis, both from its gay and seamy sides. A capable cast of players, including Matt Moore as leading man, interprets the various roles effectively.

Facts for Sick Women

Reliable Information

All American women know of the great success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in restoring to health women who suffered from ailments peculiar to their sex, yet there are some who are skeptical and do not realize that all that is claimed for it is absolutely true—if they did, our laboratory would not be half large enough to supply the demand, though today it is the largest in the country used for the manufacture of one particular medicine.

The Facts contained in the following two letters should prove of benefit to many women:

Buffalo, N. Y.—"I suffered with organic inflammation and displacement. When lifting I had such pain and bearing down that I was not able to stand up, and it hurt me to walk or go up or down stairs. I was going to a doctor without any results and he said the safest thing would be to have an operation. I met a lady who told me she had three operations and was not well until she took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

I felt relief after taking two bottles of Vegetable Compound and I kept on with it until I was cured. I always use Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills and they are fine. Everything used to turn sour on my stomach and the Liver Pills relieved that."—Mrs. A. Bouzard, 23 Fargo Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

Sacramento, Calif.—"I had organic trouble and had such terrible pain and swelling in the lower part of my side that I could not stand on my feet or even let the bed clothes touch my side. I gave up my work thinking I would not be able to go back for months. My mother advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had saved her life at one time, and it put me in a wonderful condition in a couple of weeks, so I can keep on working. I work in a department store and have to stand on my feet all day and I do not have any more pains. I surely recommend your Vegetable Compound to all my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—BERTHA J. P. SMITH, 523 M St., Sacramento, Calif.
