in the Union county boys were defeated by Baker prior to Baker's loss to Pengame will be played at Round-Up park at 3:15.

Waitsburg is a heavy team with lots of power, according to reports from persons who have seen them play. Their principal mode of attack is a fullback who weighs gore than 200 pounds and knows how to run. This big boy has made good yardage in all the games thus far and the effect on opposing lines of this big battsring ram has been all but the best.

While the backfield tomorrow will be up to its full strength, Hanley will be without the services of two of his sterling linemen. Blaine Kennedy, the big rangy center, has been under the weather this week, since the Baker game, and probably will not bein the game. His place will be taken by Dick Lawrence, who has been getting a lot of good experience all season with the second team. Lee Temple, guard, will also be kept out of the line so that his shoulder may get a chance to heal. He played through the Baker game with

BASEBALL SCANDAL ON

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 18 .- (A. P.) -More witnesses, possibly as many as seven, according to a statement made oday by Frank W. Stafford, deputy district attorney will be called before the Los Angeles county grand jury next Monday, when the investigation of alleged "crookedness" in Pacific Coast league baseball games in 1919 vill be resumed.

The extension of the inquiry, after it had been reported that the grand jury had completed its question of wir-nesses, was understood to be partly the result of the second appearance before that body of W. Baker ('Rabe') Borton, former Vernon player, whose charges precipitated the investigation and partly the result of work done by the grand jury outside of its cham

It was reported today that among witnesses likely to be called Monday and whose names were not made sued, was at least one official of the league, although Mr. Stafford would not discuss the matter. *

BE OPTIMISTIC

The thinking wheat producer will not let the general decline in prices cause him to overlook the fact that if conditions of supply and demand warrant it the price of wheat may rise in spite of the general effort toward lower prices. If the present export demand continues the price is almost certain to rise, Wheat is largely being dragged down by the general decline. -The Market Reporter.
