ASSEMBLY OF LEAGUE VOTES TO TAKE LONG STEPS TOWARD SAVING ARMENIA FROM RUIN

Committee of Six Will be Appointed to Advise With Council Regarding Proposed Sending of 60,000 Men and Expenditure of 10,000,000 Pounds Estimated Need for Task.

GENEVA, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—The assembly of the League of Nations today adopted resolutions inviting the league council to confer with the powers with a view to constituting a force to end hostilities in Armenia.

Expenditure Would Be Big. GENEVA, Nov. 22.—(U.P.)—Voting unanimously for the first time, the League of Nations today summoned the league council to take immediate steps to aid Armenia.

The action came after a long debate in the assembly's forenoon session. Under the plan adopted, a committee of six is to be appointed to advise with the council in determining on the action. Dr. Nansen, Norwegian explorer, declared during the debate that 60,000 men and the expenditure of ten million pounds would be necessary to save Armenia. He asserted that he was convinced America would do her full share.

Rules Directed at Germany. The league commission considering admission of new members adopted rules directed at Germany and Russia. It was decided that no state should be admitted to the league unless it has fulfilled all its international obligations, has a responsible government capable of contracting engagements, is capable of carrying out her obligations and has exact frontiers. The first of these rules is directed at Germany, the others at Russia.

The first essential, said Arthur Hallow, would be finding a mandatory power that is willing and able to act. America could have done this, he said but now it is necessary to look elsewhere. He declared the council was convinced that such a power cannot be found unless it is guaranteed against appeals. He admitted that financial appeals to date had not succeeded.

During the discussion, it was asserted that while America had refused a mandate over Armenia, she had expressed a willingness to send a fleet to aid the country.

NIMRODS KNOCK OFF THANKSGIVING BIRDS. One hundred fifty three turkeys, 38 ducks and 66 geese were carried away from Collins Park Sunday as trophies of the largest turkey shoot ever held by the Pendleton Rod & Gun Club.

Shooting started at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and continued until sundown. Every bird put up as a trophy was awarded before the last bird went home. Despite a cool wind and threatening clouds, a good number stood at the traps throughout the day and night for birds.

Many from west end towns yesterday attended the annual shoot at Pete Sheridan's ranch on lower Butter Creek and it, too, was a success. Pilot Rock was the third community to hold a turkey shoot for the Thanksgiving season and thence west most of the nimrods of the south of the county.

K. OF P. TO OPEN DOORS TO DISTRICT GATHERING. Damon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, is preparing now for its next job as host which will fall on Monday, December 6. On that evening the annual district convention of K. of P. lodges will be held here and close to 200 members from Umatilla county's seven lodges are expected to attend.

Each lodge will present its class of pages and work in that rank will be given by a composite degree team. A business meeting will be held and a banquet given to the delegates. Only an evening meeting is necessary to accomplish the work to be acted on. J. H. Morris, of this city, is district deputy grand chancellor and will be in charge of arrangements and the meeting. W. J. H. Clark, of Portland, grand chancellor, and Walter Gleason, grand keeper of records and seal, are expected to attend. The lodges in this district, which are in No. 10, Albany, Stevens No. 49, Weston, Pendleton No. 74, Helix, Helix No. 51, Milton, and Damon No. 4, Pendleton.

DUBLIN BECOMES ARMED CAMP AFTER SUNDAY MASSACRE

BLOWS IN HOUSE OF COMMONS END SESSION IN HURRY. Joseph Devlin, Irish Nationalist, Mixes in Scuffle With Supporters of Government and Wild Uproar Follows.

FIRE QUESTIONS AT PREMIER DURING TALK. Tries Several Times to Gain Floor and Resists Attempts of Other Members to Pull Him Back and Restore Calm.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—The house of commons sitting was suspended today after Joseph Devlin, Irish nationalist, came to blows with a unionist member during the debate on Ireland.

The altercation arose after Premier Lloyd-George had addressed the house, briefly, being followed by Devlin. When the session resumed, Devlin's opponent Major John Nelson, apologized to Devlin.

Wild Uproar Ensues. LONDON, Nov. 22.—(U.P.)—A wild uproar over the Dublin situation today compelled the suspension of the session of commons. The suspension was preceded by a scuffle between Joseph Devlin, Irish leader, and several supporters of the government.

Devlin was the center of the disturbance. After firing a number of questions at Premier Lloyd-George, he refused attempts to pull him back into his seat. Others joined in the scuffling and the sitting was suspended in confusion.

The premier had been asked by another member if he was willing to "ask the commons for permission to shoot every member of the Sinn Fein murder gang" who could be caught. The premier replied that he believed the authorities would gradually control the situation, but he would not hesitate to ask additional powers if he thought it necessary.

England Also Marked. LONDON, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—Sir Hamar Greenwood declared in the house of commons today that plans of "paid assassins" was discovered recently, including the destruction of life and property in England as well as in Ireland.

MOONEY CASE TO BE REOPENED AT ONCE. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—(U.P.)—District Attorney Brady today announced he would reopen the Thomas Mooney case before the grand jury immediately.

WILD RIDE ON MAIN STREET HURTS MAN AND ENDS WHEN CAR CRASHES ACROSS BRIDGE

Ray McCarroll injured one man, struck another, barely missed colliding with two autos and ended a wild ride north on Main street last evening about 9 o'clock by smashing the left side of a Dodge runabout which he was piloting. He came to grief while crossing the Main street bridge through the east pedestrian way at a clip estimated to have been 40 miles an hour.

Ralph Cochran, aged 35, a blacksmith employed by Peggiani Bros., was struck on his leg run over by McCarroll's machine as he stood on the curb near the St. George hotel. An unidentified man was grazed by the car as it passed the Bowman hotel. As the speeding machine passed Court and Main streets it barely missed striking the George Fell auto, laden with several people. A small car about to back out of the parking space opposite the Western Union office stopped just in time to avoid being struck.

Mr. Fell followed the speeding machine north on Main street and helped remove McCarroll from the wreck when his mad dash was halted by striking the steel girders of the bridge. The man had steered the car through the lane virtually all the way across the bridge before coming to grief. It is considered remarkable, for he was driving at 40 miles an hour, bystanders estimated.

When brought to trial this morning in police court, the defendant pleaded guilty to the charge of reckless driving but declared that he was not in the car when the accident occurred. He said someone had taken the machine while he was in a store on Main street but that "because the car was his he would take the blame." Mr. Fell testified to having helped McCarroll out of the car.

Following his fine in police court, McCarroll was released. Mr. Fell went to the district attorney, however, and urged that official to invoke the state vehicle law and recommend to the secretary of state that McCarroll's license be revoked.

Victim May Take Action. Mr. Cochran suffered no broken bones, a report from his home said today, but he will be unable to work for some time owing to the severe bruises caused by his being struck. Clarence Penland, one of his employees, said that Mr. Cochran has grounds for a criminal action against McCarroll and probably will start an action as soon as he is able.

The man grazed by McCarroll's car before Mr. Cochran was hit, was not identified. The car which escaped damage near the Western Union office likewise was unidentified. The car driven by McCarroll was being purchased from the Ellis-Schiller Co. on a conditional sale of contract and the company took charge of the wreck this morning. The left front wheel was shattered and the fender and running board on the left side bent. The left front axle was bent but none of the frame was sprung. The force of the impact was such that two of the girders on the bridge were bent slightly.

FOURTEEN BRITISH OFFICIALS DIE IN SIMULTANEOUS ATTACKS IN IRISH WHOLESALE SLAUGHTER

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—(U.P.)—The bodies of several additional victims of the fighting between Sinn Feiners and British forces were found in the streets of Dublin today. Confusion throughout the city is so great it is impossible to tell how or when they were killed. The biggest round-up of Sinn Feiners in the history of the rebellion is now on in full swing. Scores of leaders here and in Queenstown are being arrested.

Panic reigned today in Dublin and many other Irish cities. The lord mayor of Dublin appealed for police protection. A squad of Black and Tans was sent to guard him. Resumption of the fighting is believed imminent. City Is Armed Camp.

DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—(U.P.)—Strong police forces today systematically raided Sinn Fein gathering places, searching for leaders of the murder outbreak here Sunday. Black and Tan police were supported in raids by patrols of troops and machinegun squads. The number killed in yesterday's murder counter raid of police at a Croke Park hockey match. Ten persons were shot dead there and two killed in a stampede.

The disturbance continued far into the night and shots echoed through apparently empty streets. A number of persons are reported killed. All roads are blocked today by heavy patrols of soldiers and police, backed by armored lorries. Railroads operated no trains.

Important Papers Taken. Hospitals are reported filled with wounded, but official reports said that only 80 were injured in the fighting. Irish office authorities declared numerous important Sinn Fein documents regarding plans for further attacks on crown forces were taken in the raid at Croke Park.

The Sinn Fein attack was launched at 9 a. m. when 200 gunmen conducted simultaneous raids at the quarters of British officers. A major, six captains and five lieutenants were among the victims. The Irish office acted immediately. Orders closing roads were issued and strong forces sent to Croke Park where it was hoped some of the raiders would be apprehended.

Government vetoes of what followed was that Sinn Fein, planned on the outskirts of the crowd, fired on the approaching police and that the fire was returned, 16 pickets being killed. The Irish office said documents of great value were taken from prisoners seized in the encounter. The officials attacked in the morning raid were all actively connected in the search for Sinn Fein leaders and documents, or had participated in court-martials. The raid is believed to have been conducted in the hope of regaining some of the documents which had been seized, to discourage further activity against the Sinn Fein.

Murders Brutal. DUBLIN, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—Not since the first outbreak of the vicious civil war in Ireland have the assassinations been so concerted or the retaliations so swift and pronounced as in yesterday's murder. Not less than 14 men are dead in attacks which ranged simultaneously all over the city during the morning.

The method was the same in each case. The assassinated were officers or former officers or in the service of the government. Small bodies of men called their victims out or entered and shot them in bed, while dressing or at breakfast. The districts where the murders were committed were in some instances close together; others were separated by miles, but all of them took place about the same hour—9 o'clock in the morning.

The murder raids were carried out in broad daylight by parties numbering twenty. One of the most brutal cases was that of Captain Newbury, who was murdered in the presence of his wife. More Troops May Go.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—(A.P.)—Sending of additional troops to Ireland is being seriously considered, the war office today stated. London is waiting anxiously for further news from the Dublin foreign office. Reports of killing of 23 and the wounding of 100 yesterday declare the disorders began with the deliberate shooting of 14 men, mostly military officers, The Black Weather. Reported by Major Lee Moorhouse, official observer. Maximum, 56. Minimum, 32. Barometer, 29.92. Rainfall, 10 inch.
