Freight Wreck Delays Trains
Wrecking of west bound time freight No. 255 last night near Dodson held up east bound O. W. R. & N. trains and they were returned to Portland and rerouted via the Spokane Portland & Seattle track to Fallbridge. The engine of the freight turned over but there were no casualties. Passenger train No. 21 arrived here at 9:55 this morning and express train No. 6 was behind it, both having been rerouted. The train which was wrecked is a stock special carrying livestock for the Monday market at North Portland.

Small Car Badly Damaged
A small touring car belonging to D. B. Snyder, local insurance man, was badly damaged last night by drivers of an unidentified auto. His machine suffered a broken right rear wheel, a bent front fender and other injury. The Snyder car was parked in front of his residence, 414 Jackson street, and the unidentified car, in which are said to have been two young men, rounded the corner and collided with it. The small machine was bumped over the curb. The drivers stopped their car, backed away from the wreck and drove on. Mr. Snyder did not see the machine nor was its number obtained by witnesses. Those who saw the fleeing culprits say they were driving a Buick car and orders were sent to all garages this morning to report to Mr. Snyder if any such machine was brought in for repairs to its front end.

Mill Is Painted.
The wooden additions to the Pendleton Woolen Mills have been painted. The colors used are gray and white.

Dr. McNabb Ill.
Dr. D. C. McNabb is ill. He is suffering with typhoid fever at his home on east court street.

Rainfall is 16 Inch
The rainfall last night reached a total of .19 of an inch says Major Lee Moorhouse. The maximum today is .56 and the minimum last night was .22. The barometer registers 29.52.

Funds for Poor.
Some of the patrons of the DuPuis cigar store collected $34 recently at the store and turned the money over to the Salvation Army for use among the poor. The S. A. has also received a check for $20 from a Pendleton woman for use among the needy.

Recruiting Speeds Up.
Many men are interested in joining the U. S. navy, according to F. R. Weaver, head of the local recruiting office. Because of the employment situation, men are seeking information as to navy service and the local officer has several recruits in prospect.

Funeral to Be Held.
The funeral of little Dorothy Marshall, aged 3, who died in Seattle last Thursday, will be held tomorrow at 11 a. m. from the Folsom chapel with Rev. John Secor, pastor of the Methodist church officiating. The child is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marshall, formerly of this city.

Forests Officially Merged.
Official announcement of the merging of the Wenaha national forest with the Umatilla was received today by R. A. Botcher, assistant supervisor of the forests, from President Woodrow Wilson. The order, dated November 5, announces that henceforth the two forests will be one and known as the Umatilla.

Wool Men Meet.
At a special meeting of wool men in Portland during the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, a resolution was adopted urging Oregon's congressional delegation to use every means to re-enact the Payne Aldrich tariff bill. Umatilla county men who attended the meeting were William Slusher and K. G. Warner, prominent sheep men, and Fred Bennion, county agriculture agent.

Toadstool Book on Hand
A booklet recently issued by Prof. Albert S. Sweetser, professor of botany at the University of Oregon, entitled "Toadstool Talks," was received today by the Pendleton Commercial Association. It will be added to the club library and any persons who desire to learn the difference between edible mushrooms and poisonous toadstool varieties are welcome to refer to the book, Secretary C. K. Cranston said today.

Colonel Cousins to Speak.
Colonel J. Cousins, for 28 years a member of the Salvation Army, will speak tomorrow at 8 p. m. at the Salvation Army hall. Colonel Cousins was recently transferred from New York to Seattle to head the western division and this will be his first visit to Oregon. He is a veteran in the service and his motto is "A Salvation Army home in every city." Colonel Cousins is said to be an able speaker and he deals with inspirational topics.

Cooperation for Beauty Promised
A letter asking the cooperation of the Pendleton Commercial Association in keeping intact the beauty of Oregon's scenic spots and its highways was received today from Governor Ben Olcott. In reply, Secretary C. K. Cranston assured the executive of this association's complete accord with the program. One of the steps in keeping the highways slightly is the recent order of the state highway commission to remove from the right of way of all state highways and all advertising signs.

Jacksons With President.
Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jackson, of Portland, formerly of Pendleton, will be on the boat with President-elect Warren G. Harding on the trip to Panama. A letter received in Pendleton from Mrs. Jackson, dated New Orleans, November 15, says: "We are on the boat to Panama with President-elect Harding and his party; the only ones outside the party allowed on the ship. All other reservations of passengers were rescinded. We will be back in New Orleans, December 3, as we had to give up the trip from Balboa."

Police Court Is Busy
Police court looked like old times this morning, according to the statement of Judge Thomas Fitz Gerald after he had disposed of the seven cases on the docket. All seven were up for violations of the liquor ordinances in one form or another, five being classed as plain drunks. Jim Simmons drew the stiffest fine of the six up for drunkenness, his job being $40. He was charged with being drunk and disorderly. He said his fine, Lucio Williams, an Indian who takes part in the Round-Up, was drunk and a bit bothersome and drew a fine of $15 or seven days. William Jones, another redskin, was fined $10 or five days. Francis Johnson, an Indian youth of 17 years, was ordered turned over to the juvenile authorities for being drunk. Thomas Johnson, a full grown redskin, and Fred Gehbart, were the others found guilty of being drunk and each drew a fine of $10 or five days. With the exception of Simmons, none of those fined had the money to pay their fines and all were obliged to appeal to friends for assistance. The seventh case on the morning's docket was that of Ray McCarroll, charged with reckless driving.

PROFITEERS GET BLAME FOR CRIMINAL WAVES

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(U. P.)—Profiteers are partly responsible for the so-called crime wave now affecting many sections of the country, Miss Julia K. Jaffray, secretary of the committee on prisons and prison labor, declared in an interview with the United Press. She said she found that stories of successful operations of profiteers led to a reckless belief among easily led men that they could "get away with" smaller crimes and illegalities. Prison surveys recently made show a great decrease in petty offenses with a great increase in crimes of violence. Post-war relaxation, noticeable in all classes of society, the freedom from military discipline and the reaction from the spiritual exaltation of wartime, contribute to the present wave crime, Miss Jaffray stated. "The period of readjustment after prohibition with police not readily arresting men for drunkenness who play a part," she said. To Cure a Cold in One Day Take Grove's LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE tablets.
